Music School To Celebrate 35th Year

Before the opening of the Fall Term on Monday, September 17, the All Newton Music School will hold registration for new applicants during the week of September 10, between 1 and 5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, at the Claffin School, Newtonville, and on Tuesday at the Peirce School, West Newton. Parents should accompany their children in order to make complete arrangements for enrollment.

To ensure satisfactory placement, former students who have not registered already, should do so before the week of September 10, at which time registration for new comers will begin.

Since 1912, through the cooperation of the Newton School committee, the Music School has been privileged to use public school buildings to carry on its work, although it is not part of the school system, but is a private agency, a charter member of the Newton Community Chest, the Newton Community Council, and the National Guild of Community Music Schools.

The aim of the All Newton Music School has always been not primarily to produce professionals, but more especially to start the musical training of children in the right way, to teach all to enjoy good music, to prepare capable teachers, and to give a valuable musical background to all who come under its influence. This aim, together with consistently high standards and high ideals, has been faithfully followed since the founding of the Music School in 1912.

When the new season opens of September 17, the All Newton Music School will begin its thirty-fifth year. Mrs. George H. Fernald, president of the Board of Trustees, and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, chairman of Public Relations, are in charge of plans to commemorate this milestone in the history of the school. Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, Founder and Director Emerita, will have an important part in the events of the anniversary year.

An alarm was sounded at 7:20 p.m., which brought Engines 2, 3 and 8 and Ladders 1 and 3. Under direction of Deputy Chief Francis Linnehan the firemen fought the blaze until the "all-out" was sounded at 9:47 p.m.

Campaign Opens Officially With Dinner at High School Sept. 27

Newton's goal in the 1946 "Victory Campaign" of the Greater Boston United War Fund will be $320,000, according to a statement released early this week by Lawrence B. Damon, Newton Chairman for the campaign which officially opens Thursday, September 27th, with a "kick-off" dinner of the Residential Division at the Newton High School. In a letter which Mr. Damon has sent out to the 2500 workers who will handle the soliciting in Newton, he states, "Despite the ending of the war, it is already apparent that the dislocations resulting from reconversion and demobilization will throw even greater demands on our peacetime Red Feather agencies. In addition, all are agreed that we are still pledged to provide for millions of men and women who will continue in uniform in 1946, through the USO and other war-related services, as well as for the peoples of the United Nations so desperately in need."

Regional Director For Girl Scouting

MISS CATHERINE E. KONYK

Miss Catherine E. Konyk is the new director of Girl Scouting in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont, known as the New England Region. It is announced by Mrs. Paul Rittenhouse, Girl Scout national director.

Miss Konyk succeeds Miss Marguerite Twohy, who has been transferred to National Headquarters in New York as an assistant to the executive secretary of the Field Division.

A graduate of Cornell University, Miss Konyk received her Master's Degree from Columbia University. She also attended Rutgers University. In her new position as regional director, Miss Konyk will work with adult volunteer members of the organization, who direct the activities of the more than 115,000 Girl Scouts in the six states under her jurisdiction. The Girl Scout national branch office for the New England Region is in Boston.

The Greater Boston Goal has been set at $7,750,000, and this has been determined on the needs for 1946 for the 288 Red Feather Services associated with the Fund and for the continuing needs of the agencies which make up the National War Fund. This goal is $100,000 greater than the 1945 Goal and Newton has accepted its share of the increase adding $3500 to its final goal in the last campaign.

During the coming week the Mercantile Division Women's Section have been invited to a meeting at the home of Mrs. John E. Peakes, Chairman of this division, to discuss the plans for the campaign. For luncheon on that same day, September 18th, Lincoln Alford, Co-Chairman of the Mercantile Division, has invited the leaders in the Men's Section to meet with him at the Dell Restaurant. On Friday the Manufacturing Division Soliciting Committee have been invited for a luncheon with Lester W. Tarr, chairman, at the Brae Burn Country Club. Throughout next week the Advance Gifts Village Chairmen are having meetings at their homes in preparation for the start of the early solicitation of that group, and on the evening of September 19th the Residential Division Chairman will meet at the Chest office to complete final plans for the house-to-house calls on the 20,000 prospects assigned to that group.

The campaign organization now nearly complete, which is assisting the campaign, is assisting the campaign.

Sgt. Burns, German Prisoner for 16 Mos., Back in U. S. A.

Getting on one another's nerves became one of the main afflictions of prisoners of war in German stags according to Technical Sergeant William S. Burns, of 73 Lombard street, Newton, Mass.

"We had nothing to do and plenty of time to do it in," the sergeant explained at AAF Redistribution Station No. 1, and after a time we simply became bored with each other. We had books to read and some sports equipment and we could always waste a day playing cards, but after the first several months these amusements lost their grip and sheer boredom set in."

Sgt. Burns was a prisoner for 16 months. He was taken captive when the Fortress on which he was a radio gunner was forced down near Hannover by engine trouble while heading for Brunswick. He spent 5 months in a camp at Krems, Austria and then was taken on a month's hike a step ahead of the Russians. He was finally liberated by the American 3rd Army at Braunau, Austria.

The returnee wears the Air Medal and European theater ribbon. He entered the service on July 17, 1942 and was sent overseas in October 1943. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Burns, of 73 Lombard street.

Fake Solicitors

Although the Salvation Army announces that its 1945-1946 Greater Boston Maintenance and War Services Appeal for $400,000 did not get under way until September 4th, it is already receiving complaints that contributions are being solicited by supposed-to-be "representatives" of the Salvation Army. This, it is stated, is an old story. In some cases it seems to be a deliberate, organized plan intended to deceive the charitably inclined public.

Also it is apparently true that some of these solicitors make no definite claim that they represent The Salvation Army, but that they nevertheless allow the public to assume that they do, for they solicit and accept contributions without revealing their true identity. Such solicitors are guilty of misrepresentation. They willfully trade on the good name and character of The Salvation Army. They collect money that otherwise would not be given to them. They divert gifts from their intended channels and are a menace to all worthy charities supported in whole or in part by the public.

In its campaign The Salvation Army will not have hands playing, and it will have no tambourine collections. Its solicitors can show their authorization to act as Volunteer Workers and Collectors.

Ration Board Clerks

During the severe rationing days it was a "draw" whether the nerves of rationing clerks or applicants were more frayed. Now that rationing is easing off the applicants are beginning to really appreciate what the ration board clerks went through.

Said one so-called "crab applicant" to us: "I never before realized what those ration clerks have been through until I volunteered my services on a panel board. I now bow my head in shame. I might well say that while those on the fighting front did their share—those on the rationing boards helped to keep the home front as it should be."

V-J Day

To many people, undoubtedly, V-J Day seemed like an anti-climax. After the wild celebration on August 14 anything was bound to suffer by comparison. Furthermore, many of us had listened to that inspiring broadcast the previous evening, when President Truman spoke to the nation and General MacArthur, Admiral Nimitz and other distinguished military men gave us the details of the Japanese surrender. That really closed the book. Sunday, therefore, became a day of prayer and quiet thanksgiving in homes and churches throughout the land.

What was the first of all, may we never forget those who will never come back to us, regardless of how many points are needed for a final discharge. One of man's greatest faults is his pathetically short memory. May those of us whose normal way of life has been preserved by our heroic dead and by millions of other soldiers, sailors and marines, be ever mindful of our great debt. May we always remember the families of our servicemen, especially when we hear that they are in need.

Let's get down to cases and see what our civic leaders can do about some of these post-war problems. First, of course, comes the vital question of proper employment for our returning veterans. Every community will have to help care for its own and not lean too heavily on either the state or the federal government. Furthermore, it must be born in mind that a large number of men will not want to go back to their pre-war jobs, though they may be available. That poses a most trying problem, requiring calm, sound judgment. What shall we do with these men, especially those whose ambition outruns their capabilities?

Next comes the housing question. We read in the papers almost every day about some serviceman's wife who is unable to find a suitable apartment or other living place because she has a child. I wonder if the landlords involved in these cases realize that they would not have any property to sell or rent in this country of ours except for the magnificent service and sacrifice of the husbands of these same wives. Let them ponder on that thought.

A third problem, and perhaps the most important of all, even though it affects only a fraction of the 12,000,000 veterans who will sooner or later return home is that of rehabilitation. Our hospitals will be desperately overcrowded in the near future; indeed, there are many which are even now unable to handle all those who require their services. Here again, then, there is an opportunity for our local leaders to use their influence and not wait until there is an acute emergency.

Last, but by no means least, let us remember that when hospital facilities are not available or when they are no longer needed, there remains the delicate task of re-adjustment to civil life in all its phases. May we refrain from unconsciously hurting these men, who ask neither pity nor charity, but only a chance to earn a decent living and own their own home in peaceful surroundings. Let us always treat them as we ourselves would want to be treated if we were in their place.

Pearl Harbor

It remained for a young girl columnist of a Boston paper, Miss June McConnell, whom I chance to know quite well, to turn out one of the most readable and informative stories I have yet seen regarding the Pearl Harbor fiasco. She interviewed our Senior Senator, the Hon. David I. Walsh, chairman of the powerful Naval Affairs Committee of the upper branch of Congress. To him goes much of the credit for the recent release of the official Army and Navy findings. My readers may recall that Senator Langer of No. Dakota, some months ago, collected 300,000 signatures of citizens who politely but firmly requested a definite and complete report on the Pearl Harbor disaster. It now appears that Senator Walsh used this petition as a club, pointing out the obvious fact that Congress, soon after convening, would unquestionably demand a full, official report.

I wish to raise two questions at this time. First and foremost, what are we to do if it becomes evident that a fair part of the blame belongs on the steps of the White House, as we knew it in December, 1941? This is a very delicate matter. However, it is not right that innocent men should suffer in order to cover up secondarily, is it not apparent that there is something sadly askew in the current relationship between the State Department and the Army and Navy Departments? It just doesn't make sense to have a Secretary of State send a vitally important message to a foreign power when we have never trusted WITHOUT at the same time advising our military leaders. If THAT is what happened shortly before Pearl Harbor, let us see to it that it never happens again in our day and age.

Eliot Pageant Personalities

One of the outstanding innovations of the Eliot Historical Pageant has to offer is a verse speaking choir. Most people are acquainted with this dramatic device via Norman Corwin's use of it in radio performances. And now it will be used in an even more pictorial sense under the joint direction of Miss Bess Stratton and Mrs. Richard Grimm.

Mrs. Grimm had the privilege of studying with Cecile de Banke, director of the Wellesley College Verse Speaking Choir. Perhaps as an added item it will be interesting to note that verse speaking as a dramatic device was revived comparatively recently in England where Cecile de Banke studied and worked with various verse speaking groups.

As every implement has its particular end, so has the Eliot Verse Speaking Choir—and that is to create the proper oral background for the scene in which the burning of the church takes place. Also working with the oral choir will be a group of rhythmic dancers and supporting soloists. In turn, the musical accompaniment.

Under Mrs. Grimm's direction as members of the choir will be: Eunice Grisse, Hanna Shipley, Lois Rose, Nancy Horne, Berge Dwight, Betty Tobey, Sara Nicols, Barbara Monroed, Eleanor Arth, and Betty Ann Finnell.

The Hospital Benefit Shop

The Hospital Benefit Shop, 795 Washington street, Newtonville, will again be open to the public, commencing Monday, September 10, at the usual hours, from two to four in the afternoon and on Wednesday and Friday mornings from ten to twelve. One of the Newtonville committees, Mrs. Robert Whitehill in charge, will be on duty for the opening day.

The Shop, which has served the public as well as the hospital, is starting its eighteenth year, and its directors sincerely hope that they will have, more than ever, the backing of Newton and Wellesley residents. It is their wish that every GRAPHIC reader will feel this is a personal request for donations of such goods as the shop can sell.

The manager, Mrs. Francis Williams, at present is emphasizing the need for bric-a-brac which to dress the window. This will be a good chance to clean those crowded shelves with dust-collecting dishes, lamps, vases, etc. All you will have to do is to either bring to the Shop during the business hours or call Mrs. Raymond Perkins, Big 8123, and the hospital truck will call for them on any Wednesday morning and not only will you no longer have to worry over their care, but also, you may feel that the money received by the Shop from the many eager customers for such goods, will go to swell the fund which the new building for the Hospital will so urgently need. Be sure to watch the GRAPHIC in the space which they so generously accord the Shop, for further means of having your share in our NEWTON-WELLESLEY HOSPITAL.

Back To School In Newton

Both General and Technical Education Are Urgent Needs of Peace

At no time in the world's history has technical and cultural education of youth been more important than now. The war has been won. Peace is here again. War work will cease. We must now prepare for the future in which young people are the most concerned. The future is theirs.

Newton High School and Trade School offer almost unlimited opportunities for going on with general and technical education. In the High School almost any type of course or study can be arranged even to a cooperative course with the Trade School. The High School offers college preparatory courses, excellent business courses for both boys and girls, and courses designed particularly for pupils who plan to terminate their formal education at the end of their high school careers. Included in the various curricula are all the courses in English, science, mathematics, foreign languages, history, art, music, industrial arts, mechanical drawing, physical education and athletics.

The Trade School, long one of the outstanding schools of its kind in the state, will offer courses in trade skills which will be in demand in an America at peace. These will include skills in machine shop, electricity, radio, drafting, woodwork, auto mechanics, molding, and other types of skills which will be needed. Excellent equipment and a splendid faculty are on hand to serve those who enter the school.

Practically all trade school boys in the armed forces served in line with their training and consequent ly made great contributions to winning the victory. In like manner those who get a trade education now will, no doubt, help to win a prosperous and lasting peace. Investments in education in the past have proved to be safe investments in future prosperity. Today, and in the future, this will undoubtedly be truer even than in the past because of new and more complex technical and cultural needs and accompanying problems which are crying for solution as a result of four years of war. Youth cannot afford to miss the opportunities for adequate preparation for the world of tomorrow.

Special attention to the educational needs of veterans will be given, and to this end, flexible programs have been planned to meet them. Almost any type of course can be arranged, separate from the regular high school classes, if the veteran desires. Study and work rooms will be set aside for his use. Arrangements for as rapid progress as he is capable of making will be provided. Hours, too, will be at the convenience of the veteran. Day classes or a combination of late afternoon and evening classes will be provided in line with the needs of the student in both trade and high school education.

Kiwanis Club

Secretary Treasurer Thomas E. Wilkerson, of the Massachusetts Branch American Federation of Labor told members of the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the Y. M. C. A., yesterday, that labor in Massachusetts and throughout the country is devoted to the principals of free enterprise. It's membership in this state is comprised of citizens from every walk in life, he said, including scrubwomen who clean big office buildings in the nighttime, staff members of the Harvard Business School, musicians in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, all along the line of endeavor up to and including the fisherman of Gloucester.

Free enterprise, the speaker continued, is earned only by hard work and sincere effort. Labor, capital and the Massachusetts Congressional Delegation in Washington must work together to acquire and maintain it, he added. In discussing the loss to Massachusetts of some of its textile industry, Mr. Wilkerson said that the minimum wage act, affecting as it does the poorer paid labor in certain sections of the country, is doing much to bring New England to the forefront in that field once more.

The labor movement, Mr. Wilkerson concluded, is not radical labor, he asserted, has resisted every effort of any and all un-American groups. A fair wage being labor's goal, it will, in his opinion, be attained when industry, the bankers and labor "get together."

Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department, supervised a demonstration by the department's latest piece of apparatus. The huge new pumper delivered last week, sprayed water high in the air with the greatest of ease.

Sunday, September 9th, the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a concert at the Totem Pole, Norumbega Park, by Gene Krupa, the Drummer King. The matinee starts at 4 P. M. and the evening concert at 8. The gross proceeds of the affair will be turned over by the Kiwanis Club to the Peabody Home For Crippled Children. Kiwanians and others desiring tickets may obtain them from Robert Wilcox, Clarence Hutchings, Archie Bellinger, John Daly, Jack Cable, Walter Hood, Wilfred Chagnon at Hubbard's, Norumbega Park and at the Jordan Marsh Travel Bureau.

Members are invited to the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Hyannis

Rotary-Kiwanis Clubs Hold Joint Meeting

Captain J. B. Arnold of the United States Navy, one of the commanders of the landing fleets in the European invasion, was the speaker at the meeting of the combined Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at Brae Burn Country Club. The Kiwanis Club was the guest of the Rotarians for the day.

Captain Arnold gave an interesting account of the plans for execution of the assault on the European mainland. He described the various types of landing craft and the order in which they led the assault. He went into detail as to the trained program for the Navy teams prior to VE Day.

His description of the actual assault on the Normandy beaches was especially graphic. He gave high praise for the accuracy of the gunfire and the complete air coverage. He also gave high praise for the intelligence service which had mapped in detail the obstacles which would be encountered as the troops went ashore.

Prior to Captain Arnold's talk Ben Louis, President of the Kiwanis Club, was introduced by Rotary President Warren W. Oliver. Mr. Louis enlivened the meeting by a humorous introduction of all of the Kiwanians present, making especial reference to their types of business. A large number of visiting Rotarians were also present for the meeting.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Junior: Gee, Mom, this is an interesting book. I'm reading about the Pony Express. Do you know how long it took a letter to go from Denver to San Francisco?

Jane: No. But I'll bet it was quite a while. We're certainly lucky to have such fine transportation nowadays. Just think of the things we use that come clear across the country. Why, even lots of our food travels thousands of miles before we get it. Oranges from California.

Junior: Say, I could sure go for a big, juicy orange right now. Are you getting stingy or something? We haven't had many around lately.

Jane: You know I'm not stingy with anything as necessary for health as good food. But oranges have been scarce and not too good.

Junior: But I thought they contained vitamin C or something-or-other, and we had to have them every other day.

Bill: Hi there! What's this we have to have every day?

Jane: Hello, dear. Junior thinks I've been skimping on the oranges.

Bill: Well, come to think of it, maybe you have. Better get some more.

Jane: But Bill, we really don't need them so often if we include other things in our diet such as cabbage. This cabbage I'm fixing now is an awfully good source of vitamin C.

Junior: It that cabbage? It doesn't look like it.

Jane: That's because you didn't see it when I started. This is cabbage an gratin. It has a cheese sauce over it. I'll just stick it in the oven, and you just see if you don't think it's delicious when we eat dinner.

Bill: It looks good. But it sounds strange to hear you say cabbage can be substituted for oranges.

Jane: But it's the truth. A half cup of shredded raw cabbage contains more vitamin C than a medium-sized orange.

Junior: Boy! I must really have got a lot of vitamin C in that cole slaw I ate last night. Dad and I sure go for that.

Jane: And we'll be using a lot of cabbage these coming days because it's so good and fresh, and besides that it's helping keep our food costs down. It's very inexpensive just now.

Bill: Good enough! Let's have more cabbage.

For cabbage recipes call Newton Nutrition Center, 251 Washington Street, Newton Corner; BIG, 7602 mornings 9-10. See the Cabbage Exhibit in Newtonville Library.

Red Cross Volunteers Urged To Stay on the Job—Postwar Program Calls For Further Service Work

Calling upon all Red Cross volunteers in Newton to continue on the job, Charles Raymond Cabot, chairman of Newton Red Cross, today stated that the end of hostilities with Japan means no letup in local Red Cross activities.

"The nature of some of our activities may change," said Mr. Cabot, "but there is still much important work to do. Red Cross must continue to serve our armed forces overseas for as long as an American soldier, sailor or marine is on foreign soil. Our aid to hospitalized servicemen must be stepped up to keep pace with increased demands. Our service to the community will continue."

Chapter activities must be continued with renewed vigor, Mr. Cabot further asserted. "Hundreds of veterans will return to Newton in need of guidance—hundreds of families must be helped in their readjustments. They will turn to Red Cross and we must stand ready to assist them."

Pointing out that the volunteers in military and civilian hospitals—the Nurse's Aides, Gray Ladies, Arts and Skill Aides, Dietitian Aides—will be needed for many months to come, Mr. Cabot also emphasized that instruction in nutrition, first aid and home nursing offers other outlets of service that are of extreme importance to our local and national welfare.

"I want to take this opportunity," Mr. Cabot concluded, "to thank all of the Red Cross volunteers who have served Newton Red Cross so faithfully during these past dark war years. They have done a fine job, but their work is not yet finished. Newton Red Cross looks to them now to help build up and strengthen its peacetime program."

War Fund—

ing Chairman Damon in the coming campaign, will consist of about 1900 leaders and workers in the Residential Division, 140 Advance Gifts workers, 200 Mercantile workers, 120 Municipal workers, a Manufacturing committee of 20, and 150 in the Educational Committee, Public Relations Committee, Special Events Committee, Auditing, and Service groups. This organization of volunteer workers is one of the largest groups in the entire Community Chest field for cities the size of Newton, and it is an endorsement for the needs of the funds raised for such a large number of our citizens to assist in this worthwhile undertaking.

A Resolution has recently been prepared by a prominent group associated with the Greater Boston United War Fund, which is as follows:

"The $7,750,000 goal for the October Red Feather campaign, announced before the Japanese surrender will be retained, the board of directors of the Greater Boston Community Fund and the campaign cabinet of the Greater Boston United War Fund unanimously decided at a joint meeting yesterday.

"It also voted that the name of the drive would be the Victory Campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund.

"In retaining the $7,750,000 quota the campaign leaders adopted a resolution declaring it necessary to 'maintain our Greater Boston institutions which are so vital to our community life.'

"Cited as reasons were: The needs of the essential community services affiliated with the fund never have been adequately met; many of the 250,000 Greater Boston men and women in service will need the Red Feather facilities on their return home; reconversion will make necessary increased free agency service to thousands of wage earners and their families; and new Red Feather services in the campaign this year will need from $150,000 to $200,000.

"It also was pointed out that the National War Fund executive committee, after widespread consultation and study following the war's end, had decided to retain the National War Fund goal at the same figure as last year, with a 15-month instead of a 12-month campaign.

"The committee concluded, it was pointed out, that the role of allied relief organizations in stricken areas of Europe, the Philippines, and China would be, in President Truman's words, 'indispensable and unique.' The next six months will settle for millions the question of sheer survival, it was held.

"It also was pointed out that the Army and Navy have requested more USO-Camp Shows to entertain the occupation troops, and an increase in USO installations near veterans hospitals and demobilization centers in this country."

The resolution was signed by the following: Charles Francis Adams, Francis F. Carmichael, Frederick C. Church, Roy M. Cushman, The Rev. William J. Daly, Edward Dana, Donald D. Douglas, the Rev. James H. Doyle, Mrs. Samuel S. Drury, Richard H. Edwards Jr., Dr. Nathaniel W. Farron, Charles B. Floyd, Harold B. Fuller, Francis C. Gray, Henry R. Guild, Mrs. Sydney M. Harrison, Walker H. Heaman, Thomas C. Hefferman, Merritt A. Hewitt, and Samuel Hoar.

Also, Maynard Hutchinson, Ernest A. Johnson, Milton Kahn, Jacob Kaplan, Michael T. Keller, Henry A. Laughlin, David M. Little, Daniel J. Lyne, Charles F. Mills, Mrs. John A. Moir, C. Lawrence Munch, Thomas A. Pappas, Mrs. James H. Perkins, Arthur G. Rotch, H. LeBaron Sampson, Gilbert L. Stevard, Norman H. S. Vincent, F. Frank Vorseberg, Edward A. Weeks Jr., Alfred F. ## What Is This Peace?

A Sermon For V-J-Day

THE REV. MCILYAR H. LICHTNER, D.D.,
Delivered at Newtonville-West Newton Union Services at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville on Sunday, August 9, 1945

The President of the United States has summoned the Nation to prayer. We are not gathered in our churches this morning to celebrate a victory. We have had our celebration, not only in this country but in every one of the United Nations, and the picture was everywhere the same. In one wild night, milling crowds released pent-up emotions in an orgy of joy.

That was both natural and inevitable. Unfortunately, here and there, a normal patriotic demonstration was made the cover for excesses of every kind, with a resulting loss of life and destruction of property. I prefer to keep in memory my impressions of the following night on the Esplanade when 40,000 people gathered, in a pin-drop silence, to listen to a concert which interpreted the deeper emotions of the United Nations. It was thrilling to feel that great multitude join in the Doxology, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow." That is a true picture of the American response to victory.

We have had our holidays, whether they were legal or not. Did it not seem to you that a technical error brought a very human President close to the hearts of the people? He is, of course, a man of the people himself and, as some one has said, "as American as corn on the cob." Nobody cared about the mistake, not even the taxpayers who must foot the bill. Everybody respected the President for his prompt, straight-forward acknowledgment of an error for which a minor official was responsible. That was something new in our political history and something wonderfully reassuring.

Official V-E Day was an emotional fiasco, and few of us are interested in the formal text of a V-J Day proclamation. What really matters is the end of the magic slaughter is in sight. We can all fully understand why the President has called us to prayer. He has asked us to remember in love and gratitude those who have stood between us and the fury of our enemies, and especially those who have made the supreme sacrifice. He has asked us to thank God that the war is over, and to seek His guidance and wisdom in the difficult years that lie ahead.

There is, however, one question which I venture to ask this morning:—What Is This Peace? You will forgive me if I am almost elementary in my answer. I know of no other way to face the deeper issues of this hour.

THE END OF WAR

This peace marks the end of ten long years of war. Not ten years for us, to be sure, but ten years of almost continuous slaughter and an unparalleled destruction of property all over the world. For the first time in the history of the world, the human race has been spared a telegraphic summary of these ten years:

- 1935 Mussolini launched his shameful attack upon Ethiopia.
- 1936 The insurrection of the Spanish reactionaries, and the rebuff to Democracy.
- 1937 The beginning of the immolation of China.
- 1938 The rape of Austria. "Peace-in-our-time" at Munich.
- 1939 The darkening hour and the light of Chungking.
- 1939 The Nazi conquest of western Europe, and the peril of Britain standing alone. This through 1940.
- 1941 The devastation of Russia. Pearl Harbor.
- 1942 The Japanese conquest of Manila, Hong Kong, Singapore, the Netherlands Indies. The grave peril of Australia.

Then began the mobilization of titanic forces of resistance and a miracle in production and logistics. The conquest of North Africa and most of Italy. Russia's irresistible push toward the West, the invasion of Normandy and the sweep across France to the Rhine and beyond. The absolute military defeat of Germany.

In the Pacific, all through these years, we watched the painful island-hopping with its tragic toll of American lives: Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Saipan, the Philippines, Burma, New Guinea, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, the march upon the home islands of Japan, the atomic bomb and the Russian advance into Manchuria.

Ten long years in which 55,000,000 men stood at arms all over the world, with 14,000,000 killed and 46,000,000 other casualties—and no accurate estimate of the civilian dead. The figures will run between 20 and 30 million. The money expenditure passes all comprehension, but that does not matter. And now, by the grace of God, we are rejoicing in the drawing of the curtains.

As I think of these ten years on all the battle fronts of the world, nothing but the strong words of Robert Browning in "Paracelsus" seem to be adequate:

Jove strikes the Titans down,
Not when they set about their mountain piling.

But when another rock would crown their work.

That is what we have been doing, and time and time again. Just when a few more sinkings would have destroyed our supply lines, just when another push would have meant the fall of Egypt and the Suez Canal, just when a few miles more in bulge would have given Germany hope for victory or, at least, would have piled up the cost for us in human life, just when fanatic resistance in the jungles and foxholes seemed to threaten advance, Jove struck the Titans down. And this peace may mean, it does mean the end of ten long years of war.

A PEACE FOUNDED UPON FORCE

This peace is founded upon Force. It is not a peace based upon understanding. It rests upon the armed might of the conqueror. Germany was overwhelmingly defeated in battle. There is no mistake about that and Germany knows it, as well as the Allies. The Japanese have been beaten to her knees. She has no undefeated armies of more than 5,000,000 men in the field. Her homeland has not been invaded by a conqueror. She has yielded to fear of what Force might do. The atomic bomb and the Russian surge in Manchuria compelled her to face reality and to accept the Postdam terms. Yet, with Oriental cunning, to save "face," to postpone to the last possible moment the final surrender—she seeks delay. She may try to achieve her own people's little independence, but she will interfere at all with her dreams of a co-prosperity regime in Asia, and the ultimate victory of the Yellow over the White.

You and I know that such a peace means only a cessation of war. We are sobered by the task which we face:—the military occupation of enemy countries with every man always on the alert for treachery or for passive non-cooperation, the feeding of hungry foes, the rehabilitation of national life under the supervision of a conqueror, and the educational and political pressures to change the mind-set of entire peoples. All that is not easy.

God only knows what will come out of it all in the years that are just ahead. There will be internal troubles even among the Allies, there will be differences of opinion as to the techniques of administration, there will be wide disagreements as to the ends of government. The formal readjustment of boundaries is child's play as compared with the task of rebuilding the mind and soul of whole peoples—if, indeed, it can be done at all.

Let us keep this clearly in mind. Germany is conquered but the Nazi philosophy of the omniscient State and the dream of world conquest by the Master Race is not uprooted. It will take years to accomplish that and, in the end, it will have to be done by Germans, and not by Americans, British or French or Russians. We may assist in the task of rebuilding the mind and soul of whole peoples—if, indeed, it can be done at all.

USO To Aid in Transition from War

USO services will continue to be announced by Maurice P. Whalen, USO Regional Executive, upon receipt of the following statement issued by Dr. Lindsley F. Kimball, president of USO. "Surrender of Japan means that USO work for men and women in the armed services of their country at home and overseas enters a new phase. The extent and mobility of the operation will be guided as in the past by the plans of the army and navy. There remains a vast job to be done until the service men and women, who will be demobilized as back home. New armies of occupation, other armies in shifted bases in Hawaii, the Philippines and demobilization camps, the constant call for aid at hospitalization and transportation centers, all spell out the necessity for continuing vigorous activity by the USO.

Youths in military establishments, their thoughts turned from combat to getting home to their wives, families, friends and their future. For some, the return may be quick; for others there may be continued months of service. They need our help. It is our earnest hope that the USO through its leadership and its great army of volunteer workers will make a major contribution to the lasting peace of the world by continuing to give every possible aid in the transition from war."

State Treasurer Urges Veterans To Follow Instructions Carefully When Applying for Bonus

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, Sept. 5. While a corps of examiners continue to process the first applications for the $100 veterans bonus, State Treasurer John E. Hurley, today urged all applicants to follow instructions and stressed the importance of furnishing complete and accurate information as a means of speeding up payment.

More than 1000 discharged veterans visit the newly established State Veterans' Bonus Division, 15 Ashburton Place, Boston, daily to file applications while close to 2500 additional are received in each day's mail, the treasurer said.

Several hundred of the applications received in the mail, according to Treasurer Hurley, have been found to be incomplete or improper for a wide variety of reasons. These, he continued, will have to be returned before payment can be approved. Here are some of the mistakes that applicants have been making:

Original discharges or releases from the service are not being attached as requested.

Answers to questions are being written in longhand instead of printed or typewritten.

Applicants are failing to sign the application, although they are complete and accurate in every other respect.

Many applicants fail to answer the questions completely. Hundreds of applicants are filing applications without first having to local board of assessors complete a certificate of the veteran's residence or, lacking it, failing to supply a satisfactory explanation.

Treasurer Hurley announced that more than 100,000 applications have been distributed throughout the Commonwealth and he expressed the belief that discharged veterans should have little trouble in obtaining a blank form.

He reminded all discharged veterans that, under the bonus law, there are four requirements for eligibility. These are:

That the applicants served in the Armed Forces between Sept. 16, 1940 and the termination of the war.

That the applicants received a discharge other than a dishonorable one.

That he or she was a resident of the Commonwealth not less than six months immediately prior to entry into the service.

That the applicant's service was credited to the Massachusetts quota under the Federal Selective Service act.

In addition, the treasurer points out, applicants are required by the law to obtain a residence certificate from the local board of assessors in the city or town in which they resided on January 1st of the year he entered the service. This requirement of the statute is causing considerable confusion, Treasurer Hurley declared.

Instead of asking local boards of assessors to fill out the certificate, it has been found, the treasurer said, that applicants are making out the certifications themselves or are having relatives, friends or landlords do so. Such certifications are improper and applications containing them will have to be returned.

If the assessor's records will not enable him to certify an applicant's residence, the assessor should so state. Then the veteran is required to explain his residence and, if possible, to file some documentary proof of his whereabouts prior to entry into the service. It is possible that such proof may be procured from either the city or town clerk, election authorities or local draft boards.

Boston applicants do not have to visit the city assessor's office for Treasurer Hurley has arranged for them to fill out a simple form, prepared by the city department, which can be filed with the bonus application and which is subsequently transmitted to the local authorities for certification.

Assessors throughout the Commonwealth have been advised by the State Treasurer in a recent letter that they cannot, under a ruling by the attorney general, delegate the authority of signing the certificates to deputy assessors or other persons in their offices. He also answered many of their questions as to the procedure to be followed in certifying applications of minors and servicemen.

Applicants now contain a statement relating to section 5 of the bonus law which reads:

"Section 5. No person shall be eligible for any benefit accruing under this act who (1) shall have, at any time during the period of the existing war, sought to avoid service because of conscientious objection thereto, or because of alienage, or (2) who shall have been at any time guilty of any fraud or willful violation or evasion of the Federal Selective Service act or of the rules and regulations of the war department in force thereunder."

Applicants who have already filed their blanks will receive the statement on a mimeographed form which should be returned to the bonus division. In this way no delays will result and by means of this simple procedure there will not be the expense of thousands of dollars additional expense as erroneously reported, the treasurer declared.

Special applications are being prepared for persons desiring to claim the bonus as a deceased veteran. Treasurer Hurley said and these will be made available soon. Detailed instructions will be issued with these application blanks and, the treasurer asserted, if they are followed, the answering of the questions will be simplified.

Before applications can be approved for payment they must be subjected to further examination by the State adjutant general's department and Treasurer Hurley asks all applicants to bear in mind that the processing is progressing rapidly as possible and that the first of the $100 bonus checks will be put in the mail the earliest possible date.

Tin Can Collection September 18

The Second Eliot Church, which was erected in 1860 and cost with its furnishings about $75,000, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, January 16, 1887. So rapid was the flame that within two hours the building was in ruins. In the afternoon of that sorrowful day 600 assembled in Eliot Hall to hear Mr. Henry E. Cobb, superintendent of the Sunday School, address the meeting. He said in part: "I expected to welcome the Sunday School and congregation to a Missionary Sunday School and concert this afternoon, but God has ordered otherwise and we sit together under the shadow of a great sorrow. Eliot Meeting House is in ashes, but Eliot Church still lives and the Great Head of the Church is calling us to greater self-denial, a more perfect consecration, a larger activity, a more thorough unity of purpose that, thus, our seeming calamity may be turned into the greater blessing. We are cheered in our trial by the cordial sympathy of our sister Churches, who have tendered the use of their Churches." Future meetings of Eliot Church were held in Eliot Hall until the present Church was completed in 1889. Plans were immediately made to rebuild and a general committee of Edmund E. Converse, Henry E. Cobb, Charles E. Billings, John C. Chaffin, Andrew S. Marsh, John C. Potter, Nathan P. Coburn, Francis J. Murdock, William P. Ellison, Charles S. Holbrook, and Joshua W. Davis, was elected with power to raise money, obtain plans, and award contracts. Mr. William E. Field was later added to the committee. Mr.

Needham and Wellesley To Be Served by Newton Ration Board

Five more War Price and Rationing Boards in Massachusetts will be eliminated on Oct. 1, in a continuation of OPA's board streamlining program, the Regional OPA Office announced today. The move cuts the number of boards to be left in Massachusetts on Oct. 1 from 78 to 73 key boards. Merging of the present 361 boards into 73 has been made possible because of the end of gasoline, fuel oil and processed foods rationing which removed tremendous board workloads. The 73 key boards will concentrate on price control using all resources with the exception of the comparatively small force needed to carry out remaining rationing programs.

The five additional boards to be eliminated are: Winchester, Wakefield, Needham, Wellesley and Danvers. Winchester and Wakefield residents will be served by the Stoneham board; Needham and Wellesley by the Newton board; and Danvers, by the Beverly board.

Don't Throw Away The Key

The termination of the war did not bring a clean-cut victory to the United Nations. The avowed objective of freedom from political oppression for which the war was fought, is less in evidence today than at any previous time, not excluding the era of Hitler. The United States now stands alone as the champion of individual enterprise and the exponent of government as the servant rather than the master of the people. Over most of the world peoples numbed by suffering, seem anxious to become charges of masterful governments.

The United States remains the one great nation with production and distribution under the ownership and management of private citizens. Thanks to this system, our farmers and factories, our retailers and workers—tens of millions of them—can make a living independent of government. As long as they can do that they need never fear political oppression. The privilege of earning a living unsupported by government handouts and resultant political "persuasion," is the key to freedom. The people of Europe have thrown away this key. Even in England and France, the key is being turned over to government.

Let's not throw away the key to freedom in our own country. Private enterprise, which socialism destroys, may have its drawbacks. But its shortcomings can always be corrected. Private enterprise is the source of independent jobs—for employer and employee alike. As long as private enterprise exists, government payrolls can be kept to a healthy minimum, and we can tell officialism to go to blazes, without fear of the consequences.

Eliot Pageant Personalities

Scenery for the Eliot Church Historical Pageant has already become an actuality. The last days of August found carpenters installing materials ready for assembling and to delight an October audience.

Perhaps, though, Mr. Kenneth Barton, director of scenery, would disapprove of the use of the word actuality since he still claims his plans are in the dream stage of development. Even so, we do have some slight idea of the scenery Mr. Barton and his artistic comrades have planned for the performance on October 19.

One of the most fascinating single scenes in the one in which the burning of the old church is depicted. Fascinating for the use of rhythmic dancers, verse speaking group, and finally, for the creations of the set designers and builders, heroes of this little ecology.

The scene which has as its focal point the planning figure of the church is intended to produce an architectural effect. The set is to be arranged in extensions from the regular stage, in step formation. And on the steps the pantomime of the rhythmic dancers will take place, second only to the burning figure of the church which will stand in the arch. If any point in this scene may be considered primary, it will be the central arch in which the heart of the tableau rests. The extensions appear to build up to this central point; the dancers seem to move toward it; the very character of the early church is contained in it.

Mr. Kenneth Barton, whose years in the Massachusetts School of Art make him an excellent director of scenery, is ably assisted by Miss Dorothy Howe, Mr. William Altieri, Mr. George Hokanson, and Mr. Gazakian.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Board of Aldermen

When this column was first written in 1933 it covered local politics to a far greater extent than it has during the past few years. The reason, of course, is obvious. Since the start of the second world war there has been so much to discuss in connection with both state and national politics that it seemed advisable to forego strictly local affairs. Furthermore, it so happened that there was relatively little excitement on the home political front. Whenever possible, men continued in office for the duration and there was a tendency to continue the status quo.

We now have an entirely different situation. The war is over and thousands of servicemen have already returned home or will shortly return. Their needs and desires will be given serious attention. This is as it should be. Also, the problems of reconstruction are upon us and they, too, will affect our local government.

Right now, however, I wish to call attention to a matter which gives me some concern. I doubt whether the average citizen realizes it, but the cold hard facts are that there has been too heavy a turn-over in our Board of Aldermen. Let's look into this situation.

Four Aldermen are retiring voluntarily this fall, as follows: Everett S. from Ward 2, from Ward 3, Hoffman from Ward 6 and Scofield from Ward 7. These men have served eight, five, eight and three years respectively. Of the other seventeen Aldermen who will continue on the Board, assuming that the polls in November will be successful in their campaigns, only four have been on the Board MORE THAN FIVE YEARS. These men are Barwise from Ward 1 (11 years), Bacon from Ward 4 (9 years), Johnson from Ward 5 (10 years) and Leonard from Ward 7 (8 years). In other words, there are thirteen Aldermen who have averaged less than five years service. When you stop to consider that it takes at least two years for a man to learn the ropes and become really efficient, you wonder if it is good business to have a Board composed of so many men who can scarcely be termed veterans. After all, Newton is a big city and its population is steadily increasing. That, in turn, means economic and political problems to solve. It seems to your columnist that this situation calls for a good-sized group of veterans each year on our governing Board. What do my readers think?

Gambling on horse-races is uncertain business; so is gambling on the time when a meeting of our Board of Aldermen will adjourn. Last night I dropped in during the recess period, which runs anywhere from 8:15 to 9:30 p.m. or even as late as 11:00 or 12:00. Last night it was well after midnight before the various committees had completed their regular business. When the Board finished up its business and adjourned, the clock said 1:26 a.m. Perhaps that may be one reason why some of the older men decline to serve more than five years. What intrigued me, however, was the calm efficiency of the President, Joseph B. Jamieson. After the Franchise and Licenses Committee had reported via Alderman Gibbs, the President announced that it would be necessary for the Claims and Rules Committee mentioned by Alderman Gibbs. He suggested that Alderman Bacon claim a meeting of his committee without leaving the Aldermanic Chamber. Accordingly, Alderman Bacon arose, polled the members of his committee, still sitting in their regular seats, and then announced to the President that his committee had taken favorable action. Thereupon the full Board proceeded to vote on the matter in hand. That's efficiency for you.

City Election
I had planned to write a full column on the progress of the election campaign. However, it seems advisable to wait until next week, in view of probable changes in the Mayoral set-up in the next day or two. The chances are that we may have a two-man fight after all. If so, my guess is that it will be Mayor Goddard vs. Alderman Dennis M. Cronin of Auburndale. That would be most interesting. Mayor Goddard now lives in Auburndale instead of Newton Centre, in case you did not know it.

There is one curious rumor afloat. It is said that one of the candidates for the Board, who frequently runs for public office, has interested himself in placing in the field men from each ward whose names begin with either A or B. Just how that will help the gentleman in question is beyond me. His name starts in the middle of the alphabet. However, if you will look at the list of candidates for the Board you will note quite a few names beginning with B, although a number of these are men now serving. It will be very interesting to watch and see what happens to candidates whose names begin with B.

It is to be regretted that School Committeeman Cabot of Ward 2 and Taber of Ward 3 are both retiring this fall. Cabot has been Chairman and has worked hard, as he always does on any job, however thankless. Taber has likewise served as Chairman and worked most faithfully. Let us not forget these men. They are real public servants.

Mattson Candidate For Ward Two Alderman-at-Large

Has Been Active in Civic Affairs for Many Years

William R. Mattson, candidate for Alderman-at-Large for Ward 2 is seeking election for the vacancy caused by the retirement of Albert P. Everts who has been Alderman for the past seven years. A resident and property owner in Newton since 1921, Mattson lives at 28 Brookdale road, Newtonville. He is Vice-President of the American Lockers Company, Inc., 211 Congress street, Boston.

For many years Mattson has been on the executive committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association. In this connection he has led various groups of citizens in obtaining city betterments in playgrounds, streets and property zoning. He has served as Vice President of the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club.

WILLIAM R. MATTSOON

dent, was elected President of the Association in 1944 and reelected in 1945.

When the Newton Board of Public Welfare was organized by the Aldermen in May, 1941, they appointed Mattson one of the five members. He has served on the Board of Public Welfare since it was formed.

Bill Mattson, as he is known to his many friends in Newton, has also been active in several capacities with the Community Chest. He was Resident Chairman for Newtonville last year and reappointed for the same position this year.

In the days of A.R.P., Mattson was first Neighborhood Warden, then Assistant Village Warden and finally Village Warden for Newtonville. When the need for Victory Gardens became acute, he was appointed Village Chairman and conducted a very successful Victory Garden Show in the Newton High School in 1943.

A few years after graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mattson enlisted in the 101st U. S. Engineers at the beginning of World War I. He became Captain of "E" Company, served overseas for nearly two years and was wounded in action. At the end of the war he joined the editorial department of Babson's Reports, then for nine years was Assistant to the President of Babson Institute, a school of business administration. In 1935 he resigned from Babson Institute to become Vice-President of the American Lockers Company, Inc., a company that has installed thousands of parcel checking lockers throughout the United States.

Mattson is a member of the Advertising Club of Boston, New England Transit Club, Traffic Club of New England, Aeronautic Association of Boston, Military Historical Society of Massachusetts, 76 Club and Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattson came to Newtonville shortly after they were married. Mr. Mattson has also been associated with many community and political activities. Their daughter, Janet, now with the United Business Service, is a graduate of Newton High School, Dana Hall and Mt. Holyoke College.

A business executive with an engineering background, and with years of experience in civic affairs, Mattson should be an efficient, energetic addition to the Newton Board of Aldermen.

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Agnes Atwell, Indiana terrace, Newton Upper Falls, with Mrs. Frank Mordor serving as co-hostess. Mrs. R. Capobianca presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president.

A progressive quiz followed the business meeting, with awards as follows: 1st, Miss Madeline Sears; 2nd, Miss Alice Jones; 3rd, Mrs. Marian Cedegren.

Delicious refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, followed by group singing of national and popular songs.

Latest reports place the total 1945 potato crop (early, intermediate, and late) at 420,265,000 bushels instead of 408,000,000 as indicated in July.

from this state; John W. Weeks was the last Secretary of War and Robert Bacon was the last Secretary of State. Of these distinguished public servants, only Mr. Adams is still alive. Many people refer to him as the "First Citizen of Massachusetts." Just ask anybody connected with the United War Fund what he thinks of this grand old man.

This week's question is: "How many men have served as President of the Newton Board of Aldermen since the first world war? Name them and let's see if you recall in which ward they lived."

Rotary Club

Speaking on "The IF in Thrift" at the meeting of Friday of the Newton Rotary Club, Clyde S. Casady, Executive Vice-President of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, discussed probable post-war trends in life insurance, with particular reference to the huge total of U. S. Government Insurance now held by members of the armed forces, the sizable amount of group insurance issued to workers in war industries, and the development of Social Security benefits.

Mr. Casady expressed the hope that returning servicemen would convert at least part of their present Government insurance to the permanent National Service Life Insurance policy. He stated that the cost of Government insurance is low, benefits are liberal, and the policies contain several valuable provisions not obtainable from private companies.

The speaker predicted a substantial replacement demand for new insurance from those who may be forced to drop present protection as a result of unemployment or sharply reduced income during the period of readjustment to peace time industrial operation. The probable termination of many group insurance policies during this period will bring home to many workers that this type of protection is not a sound substitute for permanent forms of protection. He feels that Social Security payments to increasing numbers of people who reach retirement age, and to widows with children, will tend to increase the popularity among other persons of both annuities and life insurance policies providing income to supplement such benefits.

Mr. Casady also emphasized the fact that insurance needs change as a person grows older. A young man with a growing family requires the greatest principal amount of protection, whereas when the children become self-supporting, the emphasis shifts toward provision of income for support at retirement age.

"A fellow was just killed in an automobile crash on Main street, Waltham," he said. That brought him out in the dark of the morning "with two hours' sleep in the last thirty-six hours," he added.

An old time resident of Newton, "Doc" started the first restaurant in Newton Corner, setting a local man up in business, years ago, so that his friends and himself "could get a bite to eat." One of the best known men in New England and beloved by all who know him, "Doc" probably has more money owing to him than he has ever collected for his services. Chewing on the last of his doughnut, he dashed through the doors, on his way to Waltham, leaving behind the advice that vacations were bad for humans. "I haven't had one in twenty years," he said. KIDDIN'?

I asked him if he liked the life, and wasn't soldiering fun?

I said, "This uniform we wear looks well on anyone."

I told him I admired his style— from me his charm's not hidden. But conversation died because he answered, "Are you kiddin'?"

So then I tried a different tack—I said the Army's tough. He's overworked and underpaid, and hasn't stripes enough. The things he really wants to do are by ARs forbidden.

We got exactly nowhere for he told me, "You ain't kiddin'!"

ROTARY-KIWANIS CLUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING

Captain J. B. Arnold of the United States Navy, one of the commanders of the landing fleets in the European invasion, was the speaker at the meeting of the combined Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at Brae Burn Country Club, Newton.

Kiwanis Club was the guest of the Rotarians for the day.

Captain Arnold gave an interesting account of the plans for execution of the assault on the European mainland. He described the various types of landing craft and the order in which they led the assault. He went into detail as to the trained program for the Navy teams prior to V-E Day.

His description of the actual assault on the Normandy beaches was especially graphic. He gave high praise for the accuracy of the gunfire and the complete air coverage. He also gave high praise for the intelligence service which had mapped in detail the obstacles which would be encountered as the troops went ashore.

Prior to Captain Arnold's talk Ben Louis, President of the Kiwanis Club, was introduced by Rotary President Warren W. Oliver.

Mr. Louis envisioned the meeting by a humorous introduction of all of the Kiwanians present, making special reference to their types of business.

Camp Frank A. Day closed its twenty-ninth season on August 29 when the last group of 145 boys returned to Newton. Over 250 boys were at the camp this season.

The highlight of the last days was the closing banquet on Tuesday, at which "Doc" Simmons, the camp director, was toastmaster. The chorus made up of the camp leaders was under the direction of Vincent Marotto, the musical director.

300,000 Smiles Did You Get Your Share?

While no exact count was kept we estimate that in connection with our savings department, club accounts, war bond sales, free bond storage, register checks, foreign remittance service, mortgage lending, and sales and servicing of life insurance and retirement annuities, and other services—we made from three to four hundred thousand separate customer contacts last year! We were short-handed and under constant pressure but we hope that all those contacts were made with a smile, actual or in spirit. And why not? This is your bank, not ours!

Although we are long-range optimists, we assume there are still trying times ahead. Smiles will still be important. And remember, it will be easier for you to smile if you have a comfortable savings balance, a mortgage really tailored to your needs, a retirement annuity for your declining years, and adequate life insurance to protect your dependents. been on leave of absence since Oct. 1, 1943, serving as Commissioner of Education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Dr. Homer W. Anderson, formerly Superintendent of the St. Louis and Omaha School systems and who has been Acting Superintendent in Newton for the past two years, will succeed Dr. Warren.

Dr. Warren came to Newton from the superintendency at Lakewood, Ohio. The nine years of his administration were marked by many advances in education for the Newton School system. For four years Newton was one of fourteen public school systems in the country to participate in the Teacher Education program of the American Council on Education. Parent Education courses instituted by Dr. Warren received national recognition and it was during his administration that Newton became the first school system in the Commonwealth to develop an inter-school program for high school and trade school youth.

In terminating his leave of absence from Newton, Dr. Warren stated in a communication to Mr. Cabot, "I shall be grateful if you will express to the members of the Newton School Committee, my appreciation of the years of work with them and my satisfaction in serving as Superintendent of Schools in the City of Newton. It was a memorable and enriching experience for me."

There is to be no special drive for the collection of waste paper in Newton but paper will be collected if placed out on the day for the regular collection of rubbish and will then be taken to the city incinerator to be baled.

B. G. Waters, Jr., executive secretary of the War Production Board's salvage committee, with headquarters at 17 Court street, Boston, has notified Newton officials that the WPB salvage program will end Sept. 30. This does not mean that waste materials will not be collected and channeled into production. It means merely that in line with the WPB policy of stepping aside in favor of industry at the appropriate moment, the time has come to close out the WPB salvage program as such.

the Newton Community Chest, and plans have been made for a larger attendance than ever before. Members of the soliciting groups in the various villages together with their wives will attend, and acceptances received to date indicate that a substantial number of citizens on the invitation list and their guests will be in attendance. Of the Newton goal of $320,000 this year approximately one-half has been assigned to the Advance Gifts Division. The last of prospects in this division is larger than for the past few years and the Chairman of the various villages have accepted challenging goals. Mr. Myers is confident that, if the subscribers assigned to this division, know the story of the needs this year, these goals will be well over-subscribed. In addition to learning the story first hand, opportunity will be provided at this meeting to get acquainted with those who are sponsoring the campaign this year in Newton.

Edward A. Weeks is the ninth editor of the Atlantic Monthly, having served in that capacity since 1938. Prior to this, he spent fourteen years of apprenticeship in the Atlantic headquarters as reader, literary editor, and finally as the editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press books. He is the author of This Trade of Writing and the editor of an anthology, Great Short Novels. He has delivered two series of broadcasts under the title of "Meet Mr. Weeks" over the Blue Network of NBC. In the summer of 1943 at the special invitation of the British Ministry of Information, Mr. Weeks spent six weeks in England, where he talked with British authors and saw at first hand the effect of the war on English life and letters.

During the First World War Edward Weeks left Cornell University to drive an ambulance for the French Army and received the Croix de Guerre. He finished his education at Harvard and won a scholarship for special study in English literature at Trinity College, Cambridge. Mr. Weeks is an outstanding speaker and the Advance Gifts Division is very fortunate to have secured his services on this very important occasion.

Chairmen of the Advance Gifts Division for the 1946 Campaign in Newton assisting Mr. Myers are: Dwight C. Arnold and Henry T. Dunker, Assistant Chairmen; Charles S. Chalmers, Auburndale; Donald L. Gibbs, Newton; John Perrin, Chestnut Hill; S. J. TenBroeck, Newton Centre; John E. Peakes, Newton Highlands; Ralph W. Conant, Newtonville; Mrs. Robert M. P. ## Salvation Army Conducts Vet Service Center in Boston

The Salvation Army has established a Veterans Service Center at 157 Federal street, Boston, which is already providing service men and women with the kind of helpful, friendly advice and counsel they can depend upon. Other similar centers are located at Salvation Army Corps Centers throughout the New England States.

This center for returning veterans is aimed to make the transition from armed service to civilian life more easy, and sympathetic assistance is given at all times. The center is a source of information on State and Federal statute and agency pertaining to veterans and will cooperate fully with all other agencies serving veterans.

... particularly the Veterans' Administration in whose hands rests the responsibility for all discharged servicemen and women.

Just as The Salvation Army established servicemen's clubs and mobile canteens when they were needed during the war, now they have ready this service center when the serviceman returns to peacetime living.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, chairman of the Newton women's residential solicitation committee for The Salvation Army 1945-1946 Greater Boston Maintenance and War Services Appeal for $400,000, announces some additional captions in her district. They are Mrs. Edmund J. and Mrs. A. E. Everett in Auburndale; Mrs. John Whitely and Mrs. Worthy West in Newton Center; Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson and Mrs. Herbert W. ## The Ultimate Heresy

A Sermon by
THE REV. McILYAR H. LICHTNER, D.D.

Delivered at Newton-West Newton Union Services at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, on Sunday, Sept. 2, 1945

In 1938, England was disturbed by the appearance of an irritating and most provocative book. Resentment was due to two things: it was pessimistic to the core and it was written by a woman. It punctured masculine illusions. Men could take Oswald Spengler's "The Decline of the West" in their stride but, on both sides of the Atlantic, the same men objected to "Collective Insecurity" by Mrs. H. H. Swanwick.

Masculine illusions die hard. We like to think that, no matter what happens, a woman is endowed with such tenderness, such understanding, such idealism, that she keeps hope alive even when there is no rational basis for hope. Somehow we feel that when a woman loses heart the world goes gray beneath our feet.

That, I repeat, is a masculine illusion. There is not the slightest reason why a woman should not be as pessimistic and as realistic as any man. Perhaps, with greater reason! I recall that Mr. Leonard Woolf, one of England's most discerning critics, took this book apart and told us just what were its implications. If Mrs. Swanwick is right, he reminded us, then the human race is utterly hopeless. No kind of stable civilization is possible. Natural relationships of human communities must be those of the wolf and the jackal. The normal occupation of mankind must be the perpetual and slaughter of each other, and the sooner this stupid, blundering species of bipedal exterminates itself by birth control and high explosives, the better it will be for the Universe. That was in 1938, mind you, and the atomic bomb had its dress rehearsal on August 5, 1945. Since then we have listened to a pessimism more devastating than either Spengler or Mrs. Swanwick ever dreamed possible. The inevitable conclusion seems to be that God would be greatly relieved if the human race were to wipe itself out in some final, tragic Armageddon.

The Tragic Doubt
I cannot believe that God feels that way at all. Let me summarize two ancient folk tales of the early Hebrews, to illustrate how God really feels about folks.

When Moses was trying to make a God-fearing nation out of a disorganized mass of fugitives, there was an unexpected reversion to idolatry. The Israelites, he thought, were not ready for the God with all the licentious orgies with which they had been familiar in Egypt.

Moses came down from the mount, saw what was going on, and his wrath flamed against the people. He broke the tables of the Law and ordered the Levites to use the sword. 3000 were slain. Then, in an emotional reaction, Moses saw that there was a better way. He was moved to compassion and offered himself before God as a sacrifice for the sin of the people. There is nothing finer in all literature than the prayer of Moses in the 32nd chapter of Exodus. His faith in trying to reach out toward the absolute justice of God, but a justice tempered with mercy. "Yet now, O Lord, if Thou wilt forgive their sin . . ." The sentence breaks right there as though the man were overcome by emotion—and then he went on "but if not, blot me, I pray Thee, out of the book which Thou hast written."

It is a great pity that Moses could not have lived at this high level. Contrast that incident with the story in the 20th chapter of Numbers. At Kadesh, the water supply failed and the people were in rebellion. God told Moses to smite the rock and waters would gush forth. The story is terribly mutilated, but evidently Moss lost his temper again, and this time he did not pray. He smote the rock angrily. "Must we bring water out of this rock for you rebels?" God was left out of the picture. He said, "I will smite thee, O Moses, for thou hast not believed in me, and thou hast not obeyed my commandment." As those blows echoed on the still air, the shattered forces of the fabric woven by his dreams and hopes. The vision that had allured him through the long years faded as light off Alpine suns at sunset, and angels were sent to chase the site, beneath the cliffs of Pisgah, where his body should keep guard at the gate of the Promised Land which he was not to see.

Let us think, then, of what God said to Moses in the 12th verse of the 20th chapter of Numbers: "Because ye believed me not to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them."

There are some moral difficulties about that text. Did God punish Moses because of an explosion of bad temper. I hope not, otherwise it would go hard with some of us in judgment, and God would be revealed as an intolerant Autocrat. Was it because Moses smote the rock twice instead of once, and I am sure that he would have smote it out to be a trivial, trifling sort of God, unworthy of man's respect. What was the matter? What has this ancient folk tale to do with modern collective security, and renaissance imperialism, and the bewilderment of the Christian conscience facing a threat of chaos?

Let us frankly acknowledge that the Quakers and the Swedenborgians know more about this than we do. We are too blinded by critical preoccupations. I follow a trail blazed by a great Quaker, Dr. Rufus Jones, and I am sure that Emmanuel Swedenborg would have followed the same road. "God said to Moses on the road to Pisgah, 'You doubted me but I forgive you that doubt. You doubted your own self and failed to believe in your own powers as a leader, and I forgive that also. But you lost faith in the people and doubted the divine possibilities of human nature—that I cannot forgive. That loss of faith in the people makes it impossible for you to enter the Land of Promise.'"

That goes right to the heart of this business. The ultimate heresy, whether in the wilderness of Kadesh, or in modern England, or here in our own land, or in Germany and Japan—the ultimate heresy is to lose faith in people and to doubt the divine possibilities in human nature. That explains a lot of pessimism and cynicism which is vocal today. That explains the unclear thinking of a lot of current discussions of the atomic bomb. That explains much of the weakness in our own political life. That is why so many of our wise good men and women feel so hopeless about the future. They have lost faith in folks.

The Rise Of The New Paganism
This lack of faith in a people as a whole is responsible for the emergence of the new paganism. Let us be clear concerning one thing. Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, Franco and the war lords of Japan did not win their dictatorships by a coup d'etat. There was a widespread bankruptcy of faith, the possibilities of humanity were discredited. During the summer of 1937, while residing in Oxford, Professor Arvik Runestam of the University of Upsala in Sweden said at one of our Seminars—"What we face . . . is the result of man's own devaluation of himself manifested in a growingly felt need for men to subject themselves to the collectivity, and the leader no matter who he is. That is what produces dictatorships. It is a symptom of spiritual resignation and fatigue, but it is also a recognition of human nature and is entirely foreign to the Spirit of Christ."

Let me put that into other words. The Nemesis of a loss of faith in a people as a whole is a dictatorship. You and I really play with fire when we indulge ourselves in a pessimistic view of human life. When we cannot trust the people, when we cannot trust what Tennyson calls "the commonsense of most," we open the door to the Man on Horseback.

More than that—we deal a death blow to Religion. It is clear that God wants to be sanctified in the life of the whole people. That is to say, we believe that there is a contribution from the people as a whole and not just from a few leaders. To surrender faith in the divine possibilities of human nature in its collective aspects is to surrender the foundations of ethics and religion. There is nothing ahead but a kind of political absolutism and some form of nationalistic paganism.

It is one thing to doubt God . . . that is forgiven. It is another thing to doubt one's self and one's power of leadership—that also is forgiven. But when one doubts the people as a whole, he puts himself outside the pale of efficiency and usefulness. Moses was no longer fitted to lead the people because, in his heart, he despised them. That has happened many times in the history of the world. It has happened here in our own country—and not so very long ago. It may happen again.

Faith In The People
Can we regain faith in the people as a whole? Candidly, I do not know. At the moment the odds are against it. There are two things which always breed implacable hatreds—cruelty and humiliation. Both are operative today.

There is, for example, a tendency to indict a whole people for the sins of a few. It is difficult for us to forgive the Nazi devastation of Europe which set the pattern of global war, nor can we forget the unparalleled brutality of the Gestapo. Justice should be meted out to all war criminals in Germany as speedily and as drastically as possible. We all have feelings close akin to hatred when we hear of the unspeakable barbarities of the Japanese in their treatment of prisoners of war. We could not keep faith with our dead if we permitted a soft peace. Those responsible for all outrages against humanity should receive the only penalty which is the measure of their crimes.

But, at the same time, we wonder at the pontifical omniscience of men who cannot speak a word of German or Japanese, who have no intimate knowledge of the heart of either nation, whose contacts are pathetically limited, no who assure us that among 80,000,000 Germans there are no "good" Germans, and that no "good" Japanese can be found among 70,000,000 people. How can we know?

Why not postpone this rather speculative matter until we get a clearer perspective? It may turn out that German and Japanese Christians may rise to the emergency and help to build a new national life, and that latent democratic yearnings may come to flower. In the meantime, why in the world do we criticize them because they do not receive conquerors with open arms or with absolute submission of spirit. Most of us would feel a hatred born of humiliation and the bitterness of national defeat if we were on the receiving end of the conquest. Any change in a national mind-set will take time—and the change must come from within, from the people as a whole.

It is not any too easy to keep faith in people right here at home. A great deal of lip tribute is paid to the common man but it is sentimental and romantic, and a lot of it comes from pseudo-intellectuals who have never wandered far from their ivory towers.

There are two reasons why it is hard to have faith in the people as a whole. In the first place, we can't somehow get at the people. We are cursed with all sorts of pressure groups which dominate the political scene and stand between Congress and the people at the grass roots. Veterans of three wars assert that they will mobilize 7,000,000 men in a political bloc. We have a silver bloc, a farm bloc, a solid South, two—and if Mr. John L. Lewis has his way—three militant organizations of Labor. We have lobbies representing huge business and industrial groups, and even a number of educational and religious lobbies, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. It is hard just now to get at the people because so many stand in the way.

Then, within the week, we have been told that the people as a whole were responsible for the Pearl Harbor! That has amazing, even tragic, implications. It means that the leaders themselves did not have enough faith in the American people to tell them the truth—and in ample time. The report left so much unanswered. Why were they told together at the dock when they could not be maneuvered easily instead of riding safely at sea? Why was not more done to prevent a catastrophe which resulted in the loss of 3000 American lives? If the people were to blame—what data did they have? Why was not the truth told? Did the leaders honestly believe that these people would not have responded had they been told that war was imminent and that we were not ready? Are we so insensate that nothing but tragedy could awaken us? That indictment of the people as a whole will not stand.

There is however a brighter side. Why did England, some years ago, repudiate Sir Samuel Hoare and the French reject Laval? What was back of the recent British election which set Mr. Churchill aside? It did not mean any lack of gratitude for Churchill's superb leadership in war. It meant that the people as a whole felt that their interests were not safe, and they spoke decisively. Keen students of French life assure us that the regeneration of France will not come from clever politicians or brilliant military men but that it will spring from the moral steadiness and intense love of country among the peasants.

I am sure that, in time, the masses of the people in this country will speak in spite of all pressure groups, and they will demand the whole truth from those who have been chosen to lead. There is every hope that we shall witness an uprising in this country of the voiceless millions who hope for a government for the people as much as we, government by the people. We must uncover a lot of unconventional elements in a people's movement, the right to be left alone, freedom from bureaucratic controls, and even the right to make a fool of one's self if that is really what one wants.

Is it necessary to say a single word concerning the function of the Church? Surely, we should be in the van of every movement which returns power to the people and which insists upon faith in people as a whole. This is the only hope for a democracy, and the only sane outlook for the future unless we are prepared to bury all our democratic strivings and, with them, the teachings of the Master. To believe in God, to believe in the inner kinship of the human, to believe that the heart of the world is sound, that peoples do not always share the tawdry exhibitionism of men who strut in high places, to believe that right and justice shall triumph, and that love can never fail—this is the high calling of the Christian.

500-Year-Old Scroll Brought to Newton By Rabbi Sherman

A sacred Hebrew Scroll of Laws, saved from a burning synagogue in Mannheim, Germany, in 1938, has been brought to Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, by Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman, former Army chaplain.

The burning of the synagogue occurred after a Nazi commissioner was killed in France by a young Jewish patriot and the Nazis ordered all Jewish temples in Germany to be burned.

Meyers Expresses Confidence in Success of Victory Campaign

"Our boys are impatient to get home," stated Edward A. Weeks, Editor of the Atlantic Monthly, who was guest speaker at the dinner held last Tuesday evening in the interest of the Advance Gifts Division in Newton of the Greater Boston United War Fund.

"In our impatience we are going to forget the hidden mines on the beaches of Belgium and France? Are we going to forget the 2 1-2 million Frenchmen who have come back home from prison camps, under the yoke of the enemy? Are we going to forget the boredom that our own boys are bound to suffer while waiting to get their release from the armed services?"

"The United States is the only country in the entire world which is now enjoying more prosperity than before the beginning of the war. We are no longer a people who can withdraw to living on our private lives; we are now a people committed to public life. We are community minded and we owe an obligation to those community programs which are making our own cities and towns a better place in which to live."

Other speakers on the program were President Thomas E. Shirley of the Newton Community Chest, who extended greetings to the gathering of 150 Advance Gifts donors, workers, and friends, and Lawrence B. Damon, Campaign Chairman for Newton, who gave a very comprehensive statement of the needs of this year's campaign. Music was furnished during the

Abreast Of The Times

Just about the time the general public comes to the conclusion that the good old days are gone forever, that high costs will prevent expansion, and that it will be necessary for a benevolent government to look after all its unemployed citizens, industry comes along with some new and helpful plans which upset the pessimist's apocalyptic. As evidence of this, the possibility of a postwar building boom has stimulated interest in improved building codes throughout the country, according to a report just issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

While the public has feared the cost of building will be so high after the war that the average man cannot hope to own a home, the National Board cites that "predictions are widely made that postwar houses embodying materials now generally unknown, will be fabricated in greater quantities in factories so that they can be quickly assembled on the building site. Unbelievably low costs to purchasers are talked about."

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is on record advising cities to restudy their building codes. It is hoped that provision may be made to take advantage of technological advances resulting from the war effort and the availability of new building materials which are in the process of development. Lower building costs with the same promise of safety are in prospect."

The insurance industry is seeking to keep abreast of the times by having building codes in various cities perfected so as to facilitate construction along safe lines which will assure the lowest possible insurance cost.

City Election

Somewhat to my surprise I find that there is still very little interest in the current campaign for Mayor. Questions at leading drug-stores have resulted in nothing but a raising of the eyebrows and the calm reply: "Is there an election this fall? Even in districts where there is supposed to be a real battle for a seat on the Board of Aldermen, there has been no sign of interest. I understand that even the Boston politicians are having a hard time stirring up the voters, despite the magic of the name of Curley on the ballot. More about that situation in a later paragraph.

In Newton, the battle-lines have not yet been drawn. However, it is a safe guess that Messrs. Cronin and Boyd will devote some little attention to the fact that organization Republicans used to work themselves up to a high pitch over the length of former Mayor Childs' tenure of office. They used to say: "Does this man expect to make a life job of the Mayoralty business? That was in the days when he was still serving his first sixteen year stretch. Later on, of course, he served another four year stretch, only to be defeated by our present Mayor, Paul M. Goddard, in the fall of 1939. Today the situation is that our Mayor has finished a six year term and is preparing to serve at least eight years. That would make one-half the length of Mr. Childs' tenure of office, up to the time when he retired voluntarily prior to Sinclair Weeks' election.

How much will this argument amount to this fall? I do not know. Mayor Goddard has been a very efficient Mayor, by and large. The war years have brought many new problems and recent version will bring still more. A good many voters may argue that it is best to leave well enough alone. Why break in a new chief executive in the difficult years just ahead?

Up to date, one of the leading complaints against the administration appears to be the very slothful handling of the garbage situation. Frankly, it has been rather bad. Other cities and towns nearby seem to have been more fortunate. Is the system wrong or is it just a case of an individual falling down on the job?

The street department may also come in for criticism, despite the fact that one or two other communities frankly admit that we do a better job here than they do. I am thinking especially of the problem of snow removal. As to the general condition of our streets during the more pleasant seasons, I am not sure. The condition of our streets and sidewalks is far from perfect. The point here is to consider the difficulty of securing adequate help during the war years. There is also the question of getting proper equipment, sufficient gasoline, etc. In other words, it is not fair to judge the condition of our streets by a comparison with pre-war years.

Another argument which I know will be advanced is the handling of the famous Tredwell case. This stirred up a good many veterans and it is conceivable that there may be repercussions in late October and early November, when campaigning is at its height.

In connection with the above, there is an article in the edition which the opposition will be smart to leave alone, lest it act as a boomerang. I think world war I veterans will understand what I refer to.

We come now to the question of an alternative to Mayor Goddard. The opposition will be obliged to do more than merely criticize the present incumbent. That is always easy and frequently justified. The voters will want to know precisely what either Dennis M. Cronin or Hugh Boyd have to offer in connection with their candidacies. It is a fair assumption that these two men will shortly enlighten the public.

Possibly my own views may prove helpful. I have known both men for a long period, tho' not unduly intimately. Both are capable and aggressive and extremely independent. Politically speaking, they know most of the answers. For that very reason I am surprised that they have BOTH insisted on running. They must know that a divided opposition is just what Mayor Goddard has been hoping for. Either man, running alone, would have a difficult time knocking off the Mayor this fall. Most observers doubt that it could be done. With two men attempting to unseat the Mayor, it seems to me that he need not be unduly concerned. Incidentally, an attempt was made to get Cronin and Boyd together and arrange for the withdrawal of one of them. I was told that each man appointed a committee of five for the purpose of narrowing the field. Either the ten men never got together or else each group sat tight and insisted that the OTHER man quit. The net result is that there are now three candidates for Mayor.

Mayor of Boston

There is one point I wish to make in connection with the campaign for Mayor of Boston. The psychology of the anti-Curley forces is terrible. One of the weaker candidates, tho' a very fine man, personally, recently made a radio speech on the following topic: "Can Curley be defeated?" It has always been my understanding that a candidate was supposed to talk about himself, his record and his plans for conducting the office which he seeks. That was the strategy of U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in 1936, when he swamped this same Mr. Curley, who insisted on talking about Mr. Lodge and his late

The only time he ever mentioned Mr. Curley was in the closing hours of the campaign, when he felt compelled to reproach his opponent for attacking a man no longer living and therefore unable to defend himself.

Let the anti-Curley forces remember the lesson of that campaign. Tell Boston voters what the candidates opposed to Mr. Curley expect to accomplish if any one of them is elected.

Weekly Quiz

Here is the list of past Presidents of the Newton Board of Aldermen, going back to the close of World War I:—Henry I. Harriman, Ward 1; Arthur W. Hollis, Ward 7; Thomas W. White, Ward 5; George W. Pratt, Ward 6; Sinclair Weeks, Ward 3; Roy V. Collins, Ward 2; John H. Gordon, Ward 4; Charles B. Floyd, Ward 4 and the present incumbent, Joseph B. Jamieson, Ward 6.

It is interesting to note that every ward is represented here. Wards 4 and 6 have had two Presidents of the Board, tho' John H. Gordon of Ward 4 served out only one year. If my memory is correct, George W. Pratt of Ward 6 also served but one year.

Finally, I believe that every one of these leading citizens is still living in Newton.

This week's question is as follows:—There have been twenty-one amendments to the Constitution of the United States. The sixteenth was the income tax amendment. What was the subject matter of the last five amendments?

Kiwanis Club

The Movie "Here Come The Yanks," dealing with the problems of returning veterans, was shown at the noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the Y.M.C.A. last Wednesday. The task of becoming acquainted with his family is sometimes difficult, according to the movie version.

Rev. Carl Knudson, a veteran of both World Wars I and II, having served as a marine in the first war and as a chaplain in the navy during the recent hostilities, told the meeting of his extensive travels on behalf of veterans since his return to civilian life and to his calling, one year ago.

With more than 3,000,000 men away from home for over two years and 33 per cent of that number going from school to the service, Mr. Knudson said they are pretty well disconnected from all civilian contacts, and the business of getting back into the tempo of the home town will require time on the part of the veteran and the understanding of those at home.

Next week's meeting will feature "Past Presidents' Day."

Rupert Thompson of the Chamber of Commerce and the Newton Rotary Club attended the meeting as the guests of Kiwanis.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, Sept. 12, 1890
C. O. Tucker & Co., Newton, received this week another carload of their famous flour, which is so popular with Newton housekeepers.

One of the new houses on Hollis street, Newton, is offered for sale, and the one who wish a perfectly pointed house, where all the extras so dear to housekeepers have been attended to, should not fail to inspect it.

We understand that the contract for the building of a schoolhouse at Waban has been awarded. It will probably be located on the city farm. It is expected that a postoffice will soon be established there, and that it will be located in the stone block, now nearly completed.

Pitching quoits is a favorite pastime at the Newton Centre depot.

50 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, Sept. 13, 1895
An Indian family of the Kickapoo tribe, picturesquely attired in their native dress, have been quite an attraction, seated in a window of the Corner Pharmacy, the past week. They are advertising the Kickapoo remedies and are selling their needle and other handwork as a side speculation.

The public schools opened Monday with a very large attendance at all the schoolhouses. The High school opened with 544 pupils, the entering class being a large one. The Bigelow has 214, Underwood 167, Mason 334, Rice 225, the new Claflin 282, Hyde 336, Wade 231, Pierce 265, Barnard 175, Davis 205 and the Franklin 195. At the parochial school on Adams street the pupils numbered 600, in all the grades. Miss Spence's private school has 51 pupils and the Williams school 324.

George Hudson has a pay station in his store. This is quite a convenience to Bemis residents. The West Newton Common, as it has been called, is offered for sale by J. Cheever Fuller, and if sold will be divided into building lots. It is too bad that this land cannot be retained as a playground, as it is centrally located, and is the only open space available for games and out-door sports in this ward. It would seem as if there ought to be public spirit enough here to secure this land for such a purpose, just as the Newton Centre people combined and secured a playground there.

25 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, Sept. 10, 1920
The largest primary ever held in this city took place on Tuesday morning at 8:38 a. m. and women cast their ballots for Republican and Democratic candidates for office, 4,108 being Republicans and 180 Democrats.

At the last meeting of the School Committee it was voted to increase the length of the school day for the Classical and Technical High schools, making the hours from 8:30 to 3:30. This change is needed to relieve the congestion at lunch time. It has incidentally the advantage of providing for all pupils an extra period of about half an hour for study during school hours. The lunch period will occupy double the present time, divided into two sections. While part of the pupils are at lunch the others will have a study period.

president and director of the national advertising firm of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc., in charge of the Boston office.

In accepting the appointment, Hatch stated, "I'm happy for this opportunity to help further the magnificent work the American Red Cross has been doing at home and abroad since the war started and will continue to do until complete demobilization.

"Many of our own Greater Boston boys will be among the United States armed forces to remain in Europe and the Far East during the next few years and Red Cross service will carry on beside them until the job is done. Red Cross also faces a tremendous job at home in the increasing task of serving the returning veteran and his family during the readjustment work for sick and wounded servicemen. In addition to these, Red Cross will again assume its place as the greatest disaster relief and health service organization this nation has ever seen.

"The citizens of Greater Boston have always shown a keen interest in Red Cross work and have provided generous support to carry on its many services. In fact, last year this was the first major community in the United States to oversubscribe its goal. I am confident that Greater Boston will continue that support as long as overseas and domestic needs exist."

Chairman Hatch is a native of Medford and graduated from Harvard University in 1919. He served in World War I as a 1st Lieutenant in the 48th Infantry. His son, Francis, Jr., is now serving in the Pacific as an ensign aboard the USS Pensacola.

Hatch is a member of the Committee for Naval Officer and Naval Air Cadet procurement in this area and served on the Naval Manpower Survey Board for the First Naval District.

He has been a member of the National Executive Board, Boy Scouts of America, in charge of national public relations since 1938. He was chairman of Boy Scouts, Region One, from 1936 to 1941 and is now vice president of All-conquinn Council. For his service to boyhood, he has received the Silver Buffalo, highest national award of Scoutdom.

In local civic and business activities, Hatch is a director of Ellis Memorial neighborhood house; Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children; treasurer Castine, Maine, Community Hospital;

The Dawn of Freedom

By THE REV. MR. HERBERT W. GATES

To write this thing was wished on me;
A poet I have claimed to be;
So, if you find cause your command to rue;
My friends, that's entirely up to you.

I

Dedicated to a man:

One out of many whom all of you know;
In lieu of a name let us call him "John Doe."

For three long years your life has been awayed
By rules that the "Wise Men" of Washington made.
You have sometimes complained and we fully agree
That all were not quite what we thought they should be.
However, we had them and were ruled by them, too;
Not all of the headaches were suffered by you.

If now, you would know what we've had to learn,
Here's a book you may read, if you've time to burn.
Begin with this section: Seven-seventy-seven, four.
That's the one that put most of you in such a fix.
And this is but part of Thirteen-ninety-four.
Be well assured—there are plenty more.
Don't forget to read all of sub-section (q)
For that has raised Cain for many of you.
And if you master this, from One through to Twelve
We doubt that you'll care any deeper to delve.

BUT—

Your day of freedom has come at last.
Gasoline rationing's a thing of the past.
Gas for speed, hot air for speech
When higher mileage you would reach;
The Newton Board is done with both,
A fact which finds us nothing loath.

With gas for speed: "Fill 'er up to the top"
And reserve your speech for the traffic cop.

Your speedometer, Sir, is back to normal
And your readings are much less informal.
Sales and Service you may blend
Without giving your ration a downward trend.

"Engineers" and "Technicians" may now return
To their former station, their living to earn.
Do we hear you plead, "I'm called out at night?"
Friend, with us that is quite all right.

You may work all night and work all day;
If you can stand it, so can O. P. A.

We still have a word with respect to speed
And, if you are wise, this caution you'll heed.
Don't try to hit eighty, to see if you can.
Just because Washington's lifted the ban.

You car's no spring chicken, your tires synthetic;
The results of your rashness may be quite pathetic.

And, if you are glad from this Board to be free;
Brother, take it from us, you're no gladder than we!

II

To Fellow Members of the Board

Three years, more or less, we have served on this Board;
With memories our minds are most bountifully stored.
Some of them pleasant, and some not so hot;
We shall treasure the former; let the rest be forgot.

And now, as we gather at this jovial feast,
For this evening we know neither greatest nor least.
We have all worked together. We have done what we could,
Though sometimes we had to do what we would.

We have met lots of people, most of them fine,
And all those we forgot will not make us repine.
There's the man who has struggled along with an "A";
Never asked us for more—God bless him, we say.

Next in the alphabet comes our friend with a "B";
Who never has cheated to make it a "C."
But our hearts go out to the chap dropped to "Semi-";
A wrong he protested, sometimes with a "Demme!"

But between us a friendship has been well cemented
That shall never be broken unless we're demitted.
This reward is the best from working together;
On a job that is tough, in fair and foul weather.

We have wrestled with bulletins that left our minds tired,
But this last one is good: "Many thanks! Now, you're fired."

The invaluable experience boys and girls will gain in running an actual business will give them a head start in getting a job as well as the edge on competitors when venturing on a business of their own in later life. Such a "business laboratory" is designed to bring to education practical application of business techniques upon which students can capitalize.

Celebrates Victory Aboard USS Missouri

The following letter was received this week by O. O. Clapper from S-1 Oscar Pierce. We reprint it here because of its interesting news content.—Ed.

August 17, 1945

Dear Orville:

It's hard to believe, isn't it? A few days ago we were at war without much prospect of it finishing very soon. Now it's over, all except the occupation.

On the day the official word was received, the Missouri, with the other ships of Task Force 38, was in position for an air strike on Tokyo. Since we have been in Task Force 38 all along, you will realize that this was nothing new to us. It was a nice sunny day, which is a rare thing in the vicinity of Japan in the summer time. The date for us out here, was the 15th of August. When the message came we already had air strikes on the way. Word was flashed to them to return and, after we gathered them all in, we retired to collect our own next move.

At eleven o'clock word went out to celebrate the occasion by breaking the battle flags. All the ships flew their largest ensigns and blew their whistles and sirens in honor of this great occasion. We tossed our whistle with much gusto and the Mighty Missouri added her bit by getting the whistle stuck and continuing to toot until the engineers could get the steam secured and make minor repairs.

That just about constituted our celebration. We continued in an alert status because, although the war was over, we weren't really sure that the Japanese knew it. This is very necessary in the forward areas for it takes time to notify all the forces and order them to stop fighting. We have been on the front lines for a long time now, too.

All of us, here, are certainly glad that the war is finally over and are anxiously awaiting to get the final details cleared up so that we can be on our way home. Somehow or other the things we wanted to tell about a few days ago seem to be as important now as they did then.

Anyway, our last replenishment period was spent in Leyte Gulf, Philippine Islands, where we found all our old friends, the tenders and supply ships, from Ulithi Atoll. Ulithi is the atoll in which the island of Mog Mog is, that I told about in my last letter. Other than that the replenishment period was much the same. There was a recreation beach on the island of Samar which was like Mog Mog except hotter.

After our replenishment we went to sea and proceeded directly to strike at Tokyo. From there we went to the north and struck Hokkaido and made the Muroran Bombardment that I wrote about before. From then till the end of the war we have made strikes all along the Japanese coast, so many that they are hard to remember.

Our bombardment group made a night bombardment on the Hitachi Aras Factory, Engineering Works and Copper Refinery near Minato on the east coast of Honshu. This was interesting because it was on a night so black and in weather so bad that planes could not be used to observe the fall of shot. We didn't have any idea of the damage done until it was photographed by planes the next day and they sent us the pictures. To our surprise and gratification we found that the damage was extensive and the targets were well covered. It is amazing what can be done with modern war equipment. We could hardly even see the next ship in column much less the target which was fifteen miles away.

We are all proud that we have been able to help win this war. Let us all hope that this will be the last time that a war has to be won. Many of our friends have died with that hope. That hope has carried us through many a grinding, grueling day. Let us pray that it carries those charged with formulating and preparing the peace to a successful accomplishment of their task.

Goodbye now, and I hope to see you soon.

Oscar Pierce S-1st C.

U.S.S. Missouri.

evening by a trio from the All Newton Music School including the Misses Evelyn Hicks, Martha Clancy, and Daphne Kenway.

Charles H. Myers, Advance Gifts Chairman, presided and in his remarks closing the evening assured Chairman Damon of the loyal support of the workers in his Division and stated his confidence that the campaign would have the unequalled support of the citizens of Newton. "With this support," said Mr. Myers, "the Advance Gifts Division cannot fail to do its share and you can count on us."

The Morning Coffee held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Wednesday morning launched in Newton the Victory Campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund in the Mercantile Division. More than 100 women volunteer workers from the thirteen villages of Newton attended this meeting and were amply rewarded for the time they took from their daily duties by the inspiration received from Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, Literary Editor of the Boston Herald, Mrs. Bond, who is a resident of Newton, graphically described the changes in the program of service to our men still wearing the uniform, and to our Allies still in dire need, and to our Red Feather Services whose programs must be stepped up to provide for returning servicemen, dislocated war workers, and their families.

Mrs. John E. Peakes, Mercantile Chairman, presided at the meeting, announced a full enrollment of workers, and introduced Mrs. Bond and Lawrence B. Damon, Newton Campaign Chairman. Mr. Damon, in telling of the part that the Mercantile Division would have in raising $320,000 in Newton this year, mentioned specifically the Newton Agencies who are members of the Newton Community Chest and urged that the division complete its work before the Opening Dinner of the Residential Division on September 28.

The Advance Gifts, Manufacturing, Mercantile, and Municipal Divisions have already started the solicitation of their prospects, and it is not only the ambition of the Municipal Division to duplicate its record of announcing 100% of goal subscribed on the night of the Opening Dinner last year, but the other divisions are attempting to give the Municipal Division strong competition.

Dinner invitations were mailed out on Monday to 2750 leaders, workers, and friends of the Newton Community Chest, inviting them to the Opening Dinner at which Bill Cunningham, famous columnist, will be the speaker. This meeting, to be held at the Newton High School on Friday, September 28, will be a "dutch treat" affair with tickets at $1.00 per person. Any Newton citizen who may be interested in attending this meeting is invited to call the Chest office, LASELL 5120, if he would like to make reservations. Workers can obtain tickets from their Captains or Village and Section leaders, but all tickets should be purchased on or before Monday noon, September 24, in order to make proper catering arrangements.

The Opening Dinner of the Community Chest has been an outstanding affair each year and the attendance has averaged in excess of 1000. This year the entire program will maintain a high standard and as Bill Cunningham is a Newton citizen, has just returned from Europe where he has seen conditions first-hand, and is read more widely than ever before, the committee in charge feels that this dinner will be a gala event of the 1945 season.

In his week-before-the-campaign statement, Chairman Damon said, "With a full enrollment of workers, the completion of scores of preliminary meetings and a training program we have developed this year under top-grade leaders, the campaign organization is now ready for the task which lies ahead. With the needs of our Red Feather Services increased and the demands on the USO and the National War Fund agencies for larger and more widespread services even greater than last year, I am confident that Newton citizens will meet the challenge and will be as generous this year, even more generous than they have in the past."

Re-vitalize "summer weary" grass with a fall application of Milorganite. Unlike most plants, grass grows vigorously in the fall. It provides a firm, healthy base for the new growth of the following year. It is the ideal fertilizer to use because it contains all the elements needed by grass. Golf Clubs use Milorganite because it is the ideal fertilizer. They know from long experience that it is the ideal fertilizer. Milorganite this fall for greener, more luxuriant lawns now and NEXT year, too.

Nonantum Yanks Win National League Title

The Nonantum Yanks entered the baseball season this year for the first time as a bonafide twilight league team. As a result of excellent teamwork, sportsmanship and last, but not least, superb baseball playing, have taken home to Nonantum the Newton Twilight Loop National Division. The title game was played at Allison Park, Nonantum, with a score of Yanks two and Thompsonville naught naught. The runner-up team to the Divisional crown was the Thompsonville team. This team displayed remarkable ballplaying but was no match for the Lake boys. The total games played between the two teams was six. The Yanks took two-thirds of the number of games which gave the title to the Yanks.

The season's record for the Yanks is as follows: 16 wins, 9 losses and three ties. Quite a record for a beginning team (hey). The final game was a heads-up ball game. There was no score until the fourth inning when slugging Johnny Bastinelli stepped up to the plate and then strode down to third on a wild pitch. Sam (Rabbit) Proia then stepped up and bunted down the third base line, reached first safely, when Buonito (Thompsonville pitcher) tried to nab Bastinelli at home, but failed in the ordeal. Delgizzi then bunted while Proia went all the way to third. Del was nabbed on first. Do you understand now why I call Proia "Rabbit"? Proia scored the second run when John Vecchimes singled to left field.

The new champions proudly accepted the Mayor Goddard Cup.

The Yanks wish to express their thanks through the column to T. Sullo and F. Copen for their instructive help during the playoffs.

Radar--

today is in use on all combatant ships (destroyers, carriers, cruisers and battleships) of the U. S. Navy. Raytheon's SO system is found on thousands of large landing craft, PT boats, attack transports and most auxiliaries, patrol craft, etc.

Both the SG and SO models were developed by Raytheon under the direction of the Navy Department's Bureau of Ships and from the outset Raytheon has been the exclusive producer of both models.

All the installations have been and are being made under the supervision of the Navy with the assistance of Raytheon field engineers. During the war Raytheon maintained a staff of 300 field engineers, stationed in all Navy yards and Navy bases throughout the world. These men visited the ships as they arrived in port and checked the operation of the radar equipment and instructed the ship's personnel in details of operation. They also installed improvements and modifications of the equipments which resulted from lessons learned under battle conditions.

Raytheon's post-war plans include the maintenance of a similar force of field engineers at shipyards and leading ports here and abroad to install and service Raytheon equipment on merchant ships.

Among the advantages to be provided through the installation of Raytheon's SO radar equipment will be saving of time in crossings, as the ships' speed will not have to be diminished through fog or darkness. Collisions will be prevented; the ships will be able to follow the buoys; icebergs and other obstacles can be detected; the ships will be able to get in and out of port during all kinds of weather and darkness. The saving of time will also speed the return of servicemen from overseas.

WANDERING AROUND NONANTUM

With Bob Womboldt

Pvt. Samuel J. Allen was recently home in Nonantum for a brief furlough. Sam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allen of 152 Pearl street. Sam is now stationed at Fort George Meade, Maryland, which is situated approximately 50 miles south of Baltimore, Md. He had a grand time while he was at home and he sincerely hopes that the next time he sees Sam he will be wearing civies.

Here is a chap from the Lake folks who has really been in luck and seen the sights. Pfc. Angelo Forte assigned to the 35th Infantry Division has 16 months overseas chalked up to his record and in those sixteen months Angelo has certainly not been idle.

He was in France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland, and all over the Nazis' impregnable land. While assigned to the 35th Inf. he was attached unassigned to the 1st, 3rd, 7th, 9th and 15th Armies. He was awarded five battle stars.

In the Army the boys call campaign ribbons "fruit salad." What a bunch of "fruit salad" this kid must have on his chest after all of that service. After all of his travels and experience, Angelo has only this to say, "Give me a friendly old Nonantum any day of the week."

If you have someone in your family that is home from the service, been awarded, promoted, or is coming home, let us know so we can let his buddies, friends and neighbors know. You can do this by dropping a line to DeLuca's variety store on Watertown street or by writing to Bob Womboldt in care of the Newton Graphic, Newton Corner, Mass.

Friends of Bill (Mac) McKimley of Watertown street will be happy to know that Mac is back from the hospital and is speeding along the road to recovery.

Folks, do you remember about a year ago in the Record there was a picture of a Nonantum soldier inspecting a captured German Tiger tank in Germany? That chap was Leo Murphy, famed ball player of Watertown street, who is now enjoying a rest furlough at home.

Troop 3, famed Nonantum scout troop, has reopened for the season. We will hear much of this troop as the season rolls on. If you have a boy two years or over that you would like to have join a strong reliable youth movement under excellent leadership by all means have him join Troop 3, Boy Scouts of America.

Commander Innocent Prianti of the Italian War Veterans Assoc. of Newton, and Mrs. Prianti attended the state convention of the organization which was held in Milford. The Prianti's reside at Dalby street.

Two of the many Nonantum ex-veterans who have gone into business: 1st, ex-Cpl. George Cazzio of Cook street. George is proprietor of George's oil and ice company. Good luck to you, George in your new field of endeavor.

2nd, ex-Pfc. Charles Belfry of Dalby street who at the present is engaged in general carpentry. Charlie is the proud possessor of a small trailer which seems to bounce merrily behind his Ford. Loads of good wishes to you Charlie in your carpentry work.

Kenny Ridgeway of 36 Riverside avenue has returned to the States after an extensive tour of duty with the Navy in the Philippines. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ridgeway of Newton. We all hope to see Kenny around soon delivering milk as he used to do in the good old days.

After a two hour struggle a dump fire off Linwood avenue was checked by the ever-ready hose 8 fire station during the week.

Lt. William P. Mahoney, who resides at Washburn street, Nonantum took the civil service exam for captain of the Newton Police Dept. Saturday at City Hall.

Irene DeBelfraux has returned to Nonantum after vacationing in New York City. Irene traveled by plane to and from New York.

Lt. G. Henry Dath, formerly of Pond street, Nonantum, was elected American Legion at the annual chow night which was held last night at City Hall. Archie Eno and Lionel Sadler were appointed to the executive committee from Nonantum.

Cpl. Freddy Pignato, of 270 Pearl street, Nonantum, is due to arrive from Europe this week. Freddy practised law in Boston before joining the club.

Mrs. Antonio Tedeschi of Pearl street really has a military family. Her three sons are in the Army and are stationed at the following places: Pfc. Joe Tedeschi (former N.A.A. Club member), Robins Field, Georgia; Capt. (Pat) Tedeschi, medical service overseas; Pfc. Ray Tedeschi, overseas.

During the week I passed Victory Field and noticed a group of teenagers passing a pigskin around and couldn't help but remark, another sport is reclaimed and no doubt but Nonantum will claim another city title.

Next week this column will publish the results of the Italian-American War Veterans election and convention which was held in Milford, Mass. The Newton Chapter in a body participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and their daughter Clare of Lyons Court have recently returned from a motor tour of Canada.

Nonantum Citizen of the Week

By Bob Womboldt
This week's citizen of the week in Nonantum needs no introduction. He is well known throughout Newton in the social and athletic groups. He is Samuel (Sammy) Fried.

Sam was born on Cook street in the year 1904. He attended the Stearns School from 1909-1917. He then attended Newton High from 1917-1921.

While attending Newton High Sam majored in football and played center on the teams that won the Suburban League Championship for three consecutive years, 1918-1919-1920. After completing high school he entered the business field as an assistant to his father who at the time operated a dry goods store at Cook and Watertown streets.

Since that time Fried's Dept. Store has moved to the corner of Dalby and Watertown streets where it has developed into one of Newton's finest department stores under the excellent management of Sam and Louis Fried.

Wednesday night at the Newton Centre playground house Sam accepted for Nonantum the softball league trophy which the Victory A.C. won. Incidentally, he is manager of the team.

Sammy is a natural born organizer, sportsman, and an all around good fellow. He believes firmly that if more boys were interested in and played sports that delinquency and vandalism would vanish.

Sam is a member of the Elks Lodge, the Royal Arcanum Lodge, and a troop committee man of Troop 3, Nonantum. A few years back the N.A.A. Club was honored to have him serve as their president and treasurer.

Whenever a question arises around town that pertains to sports, Sam is immediately called upon to produce the answer. In addition to his many accomplishments and titles he has recently acquired the title of Dr. of sports (unofficially).

An old Nonantum resident said after a softball game, "A Fried Victory of course." If baseball is played in the great beyond Sammy Fried will be there managing one of the teams. Sam is now preparing for next year's season.

Fifty-eight per cent of North Carolina's area is still in forests.

Newton Lions Club Engagements

The Rev. Arthur B. Clark, Minister of the North Congregational Church spoke at the Lions Club on "Your Boy and My Boy," a very timely subject and a particularly important one during this post war period. Mr. Clark proved himself an amiable and entertaining speaker and drew on his own experiences as a father, a minister and a Y.M.C.A. worker for his subject matter.

Topic evolved around the thought of "Shake Hands with Tomorrow," a tomorrow in which, he said, all of us are interested, interested for two people each of us and our boy — be that boy our own or the kid in the neighborhood, he continued tomorrow is his world, today it is ours to give the necessary guidance.

In closing he urged every man to pal with his boy, to understand him, and to practice patience in his dealings. It was a worthwhile meeting especially so as the Newton Lions Club sponsors Sea Scout Ship 13 of the Sea Scouts, a project of which every Lion is proud.

A guest of the club was the Rev. Arthur Block, a fellow Lion from Long Island, who has recently come to Newton to organize a Lutheran Church in the city. He was introduced by Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti, was prevailed upon to say a few words and from what he said and his friendly personality all were sure that before long there will be a new and needed Lutheran Church in the city.

Lutherans in the City, not now connected with any Church, would be doing them a favor to pass along the news that there was such a group being formed in the City.

By Regional Director Frank J. Labadie, who stated that there are now 700,000 members in the Loyal Order of Moose.

Plans were made for an open meeting to be held October 18 when pictures of Moose Heart and Moose Haven will be shown and a talk will be given on forming a women's chapter in Newton.

The next regular meeting of the lodge will be on Monday, October 1.

Paul Robeson Opens Wellesley Concert Series October 17

The Wellesley Concert Series announces the resumption of its concerts during the season 1945-46 under the management of David Barnett. Now in its fourth decade of service to the concert-goers of this area, the management has planned a program worthy of a long and high tradition. With the end of gasoline rationing, it becomes possible again to bring the series to the many friends who live at some distance from Alumnæ Hall and to call it to the attention of new patrons.

The first concert will be on Wednesday evening, October 17, and will present Paul Robeson, the celebrated basso and famous personality of the concert stage after two years of triumph in the role of "Othello." Mr. Robeson has selected a program of songs and spirituals which promises a rare and memorable evening of musical enjoyment. This appearance will be his only concert this year in the vicinity.

The subsequent concerts in the series will be of a similarly high order: The Budapest String Quartet, noted for its precision in playing together and the finish of its performances, December 6; Robert Casadesu, French pianist, who has toured the United States with

Alcoholics Anonymous Have 1st Anniversary in Newton

Fifty-eight members of the Newton group of Alcoholics Anonymous celebrated their first anniversary at the Smith House, Cambridge, last Thursday evening. All of them individuals who found it impossible to control their respective cravings for alcohol, previous to their association with Alcoholics Anonymous, also celebrated their own abstinence from alcohol for periods ranging from one to ten years.

According to a local Mr. Anonymous, the group had its beginning at his home little more than a year ago, its membership numbering 20 at that time. Many who came to scoff, remained to be cured and became ardent disciples of A.A. The Newton group is now ten times its membership size of one year ago and is still growing. Anyone fighting a lost battle with John Barleycorn is welcome to attend the weekly meeting, Thursday, at Bay State Hall, Centre street, Newton Corner.

Eliot Pageant Personalities

Perhaps one of the most complicated problems which the producers of the Eliot Church Pageant have to face is that of lighting. And when we look back at past pageants, we can only realize that the October Pageant will mark the highest point in the development of the church lighting.

One of the earliest pageants within the recollection of Dana Parks Jr., who is in charge of lighting, had for its sole lighting effect an old fashioned carbon-arc projector mounted on a piano stool in the echo gallery. This produced a glaring, unnatural effect, but nevertheless it did mark an early advance in the history of church lighting.

The carbon-arc projector then grew up into the regular spotlight which enlarged and multiplied will be responsible for the magic lighting of the Pageant.

This year the spots will be mounted on the beams of the church as usual, and for each spot will be a regulator who will be connected with a central switchboard in the south transept of the church. Then, by an intercommunicating telephone system, the director of lighting, Miss Stratton, and an observer in the audience may easily be connected by telephone and so the production runs smoothly.

It would be a mistake, however, to associate the Pageant lighting with that used in regular theatrical performances. The latter is often highly dramatic and spectacular. But in the Pageant the opposite effect is sought. In other words the lighting artists try their best to make a scene fit naturally within the walls of the church, rather than to make a theatre out of the church.

Almost in contradiction of the last statement, however, will be the highly dramatized scene of the burning church. In this scene, perhaps more than in any other, lights will take on the surging, mounting characteristics of fire.

Competition Between Villages Keen

With the Opening Dinner of the Newton Community Chest Victory Campaign at the Newton High School, tomorrow, Friday night, September 28th, at 6:30 p.m., the 1946 drive of the Greater Boston United War Fund gets away in Newton under full steam. Newton's goal this year is $320,000 and that of the Greater Boston United War Fund, $7,750,000.

The theme for the campaign selected many months ago, "Now Is The Time," turned out to be very appropriate, as now is certainly the time to show our men and women still in service and those who are returning home that the citizens of Newton are behind them in their dreary waiting to be mustered out and in their return to civilian life.

Lutheran Church Being Organized In Newtonville

A Lutheran Church is being organized and will be opened sometime in November. Exact date will be announced later. A fine tract of property located at 430 Walnut street has been purchased. The large building on the property is now undergoing extensive alterations. This building has facilities for a large chapel and individual rooms for Sunday School instruction. There will be classes for all ages with graded lessons and competent instruction.

The Rev. Arthur H. Block has been placed in charge of this church by the Board of Missions of the Atlantic District of the Lutheran Church. Mr. Block has come here from Malverne, L. I., where he was pastor of Grace Lutheran Church which he also started.

Rev. Block and family are now living at 70 Berkshire road, Newtonville. Anyone interested in or desiring information about the Church and Sunday School may contact him at 70 Berkshire road, Newtonville or telephone L.A.S. 7959. A hearty welcome is extended to all.

The drive this year is called the Victory Campaign, and Lawrence B. Damon, Newton Campaign Chairman, and his assistants are determined that Newton will exceed its goal. Each division and village has assumed its portion of this goal to raise and there is great rivalry among the village chairmen to have his group get out in front and hold their lead during each of the report nights, October 1, October 3, October 5, and October 7.

The campaign will wind up on Tuesday, October 24th, and it is expected that the precedent established in the last many years will be continued with Newton reporting 100% of its goal on that night.

Attendance at the opening night dinner at the Newton High School Gymnasium promises to be a new record. Workers in the residential division will be out in great strength. Newton and Newtonville each expect to have over 150 workers present; Newton Centre and West Newton, over 125 each; while Auburndale, Newton Highlands, and Waban expect to exceed 75; with high percentages from the smaller villages of Oak Hill, Nonantum, Lower Falls, Upper Falls, Chestnut Hill, and Waban Hill.

In addition to the Residential Division, there is keen interest among all the other divisions in the Chest Campaign to have a large out-pouring at the dinner.

The Mercantile Division will have about 100 workers present; the Municipal Division, 50; Auditing Division, 40; Women's Service Committee, 20; and the total of other divisions, Greater Boston United War Fund guests, Chest officers and directors, Agency officers and executives, and other Newton citizens will make up the balance of the attendance.

In addition to the 17 local health and social agencies, there are 271 Red Feather Services in the Greater Boston Community Fund. The National War Fund includes the USO, Allied Relief groups, and war-related services.

Bill Cunningham, noted columnist and radio commentator, who has just returned from Europe's war-devastated countries, will be the guest speaker at the dinner and will tell the large gathering something of his experiences in covering recently a big portion of the battle-scarred countries. He will tell also of the work of the USO and give a vivid picture of conditions facing the citizens of our allies. It is expected that he will further present a challenge that we as citizens of Newton face in meeting the future.

Lawrence B. Damon, Newton Campaign Chairman, will preside at the meeting and will introduce Michael T. Kelleher, Greater Boston Campaign Chairman, who will tell of the 1946 needs, and Thomas

League of Women Voters To Conduct Campaign

A committee of the Newton League of Women Voters has laid extensive plans to publicize the city election on Nov. 6 and to get every Newton citizen to vote. The need for such a campaign is shown by the fact that in the last city election only 5890 out of 38,269 registered voters showed enough interest in their city government to go to the polls.

It is the purpose of the League of Women Voters to promote responsible participation of citizens in government. The League is sending letters to Newton organizations and churches asking them to stress to their members the importance of exercising their duty of choosing their city officials.

Government Must Encourage Business Now

After all the talk about tax reduction, one fact stands out startlingly clear: Under our present tax laws corporations are taxed to the limit on their net earnings. Then if there is anything left they are allowed to declare a dividend to stockholders, which dividends are immediately assessed the limit by the tax collector—double taxation.

Now that the ballyhoo about taxing the rich is exploded, as there are not enough rich people to even make a drop in the bucket of our tax demands if all their income was taken, it is being openly suggested that corporate income taxes be entirely eliminated, and that the earnings of the corporation be passed on to the stockholders who would then be assessed through personal income taxes.

This proposal is not made to favor corporations, but to encourage capital to invest in undertakings which involve risk, and which employ labor.

Congress knows that from now on, government must take the lion's share of net earnings—either from corporations or individuals. It realizes that before it can tax, someone must invest in order to create business. Therefore—tax policies which discourage investment and rob the stockholder, automatically cut government off from its source of income.

Yes, the day is past when the tax collector can "soak" the few as a means of getting public revenue—he must now formulate policies that will "encourage" someone to produce and earn a profit so there will be many to tax.

Proclamation—

life's blood. But let us not be so blind as to think that these sinister forces of evil have ceased to operate. Let us not be so foolish as to assume that the real war against these forces has ceased, or that we can ever relax, for a single instant, in a continuing effort to keep them under control.

The Greater Boston United War Fund, of which our Newton Community Chest is a part, provides the means through which we can work in fulfilling our collective responsibility to our neighbors here and abroad. The destructive forces of our society are born and flourish where there is want, degradation, misfortune, maladjustment and discontent. We must carry the fight directly to these enemy strongholds, and continue to do so until this war is finally won.

As a Nation we have evidenced a profound sense of obligation to the men and women who have served on the battlefields for us. We have given freely in the past few years in attempting to partially discharge this obligation. Although the fighting is over, these men and women still need our help during the trying days when they are waiting to return home. We must not fail them now.

Let us continue to give this year as we have in the past. Let us help to build even more firmly the foundations of our democracy. Let us, individually and collectively, help our Nation in the position of world leadership which it has now assumed. Let us help in the responsibilities which such leadership involves, by a more intelligent application of democratic principles. Let us extend a helping hand, wherever we can do so, to those who are in need.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Justice Burton

It was no surprise to your columnist when President Truman appointed the Junior Senator from Ohio, Hon. Harold Hitz Burton, to the Supreme Court. To be sure, I had discussed this matter with him very briefly and had been given the distinct impression that the Senator was extremely happy where he was and that he felt that he had a real job to do. Furthermore, it was obvious from a careful reading of all the newspapers that there were a number of justice or distinguished public servants who were being given serious consideration by the White House. However, Judge Parker from the South was given another post and Patterson was finally given Mr. Stinson's post as Secretary of War. That left the Ohio Senator in the No. 1 spot. Personally, I am delighted for a number of reasons. First of all, it has been my privilege to know the new Justice quite well for a good many years. Incidentally, he is the only Justice whom I have ever known to seem to me that the President could not possibly have made a finer appointment. Senator Burton is a sound, keen lawyer with a liberal mind and the capacity to grow with the times. That was one of the criticisms of the Supreme Court which the late Mr. Roosevelt tried so hard to pack with New Dealers. There were too many men with fixed, rigid views on many economic and social theories. Perhaps we may now expect to have a pendulum swing back a bit in the other direction.

Secondly, the Supreme Court is supposed to be non-partisan. When Justice Roberts retired and made room for Senator Burton, there were seven Democrats and but one Republican on the Court. The Chief Justice owed his elevation to the head of the Court to Mr. Roosevelt. Accordingly, the entire personnel was under obligation to the current administration, if we proceed on the assumption that Mr. Truman is committed to a continuance of his predecessor's policies. Therefore, this latest appointment is an indication that President Truman wishes to restore some semblance of balance to the Court.

The press comments were most interesting. The Boston Herald led their editorial page with words of praise. David Lawrence of the Traveler used up a whole column in a discussion of the appointment and its significance. Bill Cunningham wrote from a slightly different angle. He found considerable political significance in the removal of Senator Burton from the U. S. Senate. Harking back to the 1940 and the 1944 national elections, he reminded us all that Burton was a strong dark-horse for the Presidential nomination in G. O. P. circles. Cunningham appears to believe that the new Justice might well have become the 1948 nominee of the Republican party. On that basis, President Truman may have made a very shrewd move in placing the Ohio Senator in cold storage. Maybe so. My own feeling is that either former Governor Stassen of Minnesota or some brand new dark-horse, possibly General MacArthur, will quite possibly walk off with the coveted nomination in 1948.

Hearty congratulations, Justice Burton. You will fill your new post with distinction and you will start off with the sincere good wishes of every man in public life who knows you. You chance to be the scholarly type rather than the political type. It augurs well for you and for the Supreme Court.

City Election

It seems strange, but the amount of interest in the coming city election is particularly nil. Except for the fact that all three candidates for Mayor made a public appearance at the annual Chow Night and election of Newton Post No. 48 of the American Legion just a week ago, I would not know that November 6 was anything but another date on the calendar. Mayor Goddard, of course, was present in his capacity as Chief Executive of the city. Former Alderman Cronin is a fairly active member of the Post and might well have been present anyway. Former Ass. District Attorney Hugh Boyd, however, is not a particularly active member. The thought struck me during the evening's entertainment that it would be extremely interesting to get all three men on the same public platform. I realize that most politicians shy away from a public debate, especially if they are not unduly gifted oratorically. However, in this instance, all three men are excellent speakers and have had ripe experience in the political arena. Nobody would have any great advantage over

A client is seen in private consultation with a family service bureau worker.

Family Service Bureau Helps Adjust Home Problems

Yes, the war is over, but the need for the Family Service Bureau, a Red Feather Service, to act in an advisory capacity to service men's families will continue to exist for a long time to come. Here is an actual example, in the case of little six-year-old Jane.

"The war's over, and my Daddy's coming home," sang Jane all the way home from Camp Hideaway in New Hampshire. "Won't he be happy when he sees all the things I learned to do at camp to help Mummy?"

"Mummy" had found her tiny, vivacious, pig-tailed youngster quite a handful after her Daddy went away. Jane didn't see why her Daddy had to go to war. She heard big boys talking about all the terrible things that were happening to American soldiers. She became fearful, wouldn't eat and was resentful toward her mother who had left her Daddy go away.

At camp, understanding counselors who accepted Jane as just another little girl upset by problems too big for her to handle, helped her to realize why her Daddy went to war and taught her ways of helping her mother. Jane loved camp but was glad to be home. She said she could "take care of my baby brother and sister and make it easier for Mummy to do all the cooking for my Daddy's coming-home party. My can he eat?"

V-J Day described by six-year-old Jane pictured 30 little girls joining hands around the flag pole. "We said 'Our Father,' sang 'My Country' and 'God Bless America,' and then we all cried—because we were so happy."

Jane's Daddy is a member of the Army of Occupation, so the homecoming party will not be in the near future. In the meantime, the Family Service Bureau will stand by ready to give necessary suggestions that will help Jane continue to understand why her home can't be a united one yet, and to help with other home problems, youth difficulties and family dislocations.

anybody else. The voters, however, would have an opportunity to estimate the stability and soundness of the three men.

Weekly Quiz

Last week's question was: "What was the subject matter of the last five amendments to the U. S. Constitution? In other words, what do the 17th to the 21st amendments cover? The answers follow. No. 17 provides for direct election by the people of United States Senators. No. 18 was the famous Prohibition Amendment. No. 19 was the Amendment giving women the right to vote. No. 20 was the so-called Lame-Duck Amendment, providing that the Presidential term be moved ahead so that January 20 becomes the date for the official retirement of both President and Vice-President and January 3 becomes the date for all Senators and Congressmen to retire to private life. Another section of this Amendment takes care of the procedure to be followed in the event of the death of the President-elect PRIOR to his induction and other equally important contingencies. No. 21 was the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment.

This week's question is: "Going back to 1900, we find that there have been 17 Governors of Massachusetts, including the present incumbent. Can you name as many as seven who were NOT Republicans? Incidentally, does it surprise you to be reminded that the Democrats have done so well for nearly a half-century?"

Children Well Cared For at Rebecca Pomroy House

A drama of unselfish leadership by a group of volunteers so that children of service people and war workers could enjoy simple comforts, is the story of Rebecca Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather Agency. Not only do the children benefit from this Newton Agency, but others benefit through women's and young peoples groups which are active parts of the program.

"All through the war years, boys and girls from nursery age through high school have had the benefits of our program," said Miss Helen Sandstrom, Executive Director. "Our Mothers Club has been the only recreation for many overworked mothers during these years."

"The daily nursery school is serving a real need. Mothers forced to work while fathers are in the service have found the nursery school an excellent place for their children during the day."

"The children receive the best of care including visits by nurses of the Visiting Nurses Association, another Newton Red Feather Agency. Craft and hobby groups as well as social activities and dances are available for older boys and girls."

"One of the summer features of the Pomroy House is the day camp program operated in cooperation with the West Newton Community Center, also a Red Feather Agency. Children, whose summer might otherwise be spent on the city streets, get the full advantages of summer camping through this program."

In talking of the program, Miss Sandstrom continually emphasized the important work being done by a small corps of staff and volunteer leaders who carry the burden of supervision and instruction. It is because of their work and that of the Board and Committees that the Pomroy House is able to maintain this fine record of service.

Mr. Bungard's immediate responsibility will be with the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Clubs of both Newton and Watertown, and the Community work in Waban.

At the same time it was announced that Stephen A. Randall, who has been in the Boy's Department at the Newton Association since January, will assume the position as Building Boys' Work Secretary. He will have charge of all the boys' activities in the Y.M.C.A. building in Newton and will work directly with Mr. Bungard. Arthur B. Clark who has been associated with the "Y" for over a year, will continue his work with boys as will Richard W. Hubbard.

On September 1st there were 997 boys in the "Y" membership and another 137 were enrolled in the Community activities in Waban. This is an all time high for Newton "Y" Boys' Membership.

The staff and the boys' work committee, under the direction of Dr. A. Philip Guiles of Andover Newton Seminary, are planning a well rounded program of athletics, swimming, hobbies, and club activities for the boys. The fall program of swimming under the direction of Charles Wade Abbott got under way last week, and the athletic and club activities will start October 8th.

In The Past

55 Years Ago

Commodore Cassidy's steamer Watertown made a trial trip down the harbor, Thursday with a party of guests and her boilers worked to perfection.

The visitation of black birds to Lowell street, Newtonville, early on Tuesday morning was an overpowering surprise. The traditional "four angels baked in a pie" were as nothing. There were hundreds, and they perched on the elms and swarmed upon the lawns in surprising fashion, keeping up an incessant chatter all the while, and after quite a halt and rest they flew off to the eastward to add still further to their grand numbers before the final southern migration.

Our somewhat noted bicycle manufacturer, Mr. Arthur M. Good of Newton Center, is adding to his factory a room with 14-inch walls for boiler and engine room. He is putting in a new boiler with other additions, to meet his increasing business.

One of those whom he met and with whom he occupied the same room at the former Japanese ordnance school, was Capt. Leo Geary of 140 Waverley avenue, Newton, Northeastern and Boston University hockey player, and formerly a clerk at Hubbard's Drug Store, Newton Corner.

Geary, the article states, is starting his 44th month in the Pacific and has been out on a special personal mission searching for a Dr. Ino who in 1938 lectured at Boston University constantly stressing how poor Japan was agriculturally. From what Geary has seen since our occupation of Japan he finds that the Japs have cultivated every inch of fertile soil and that Japan is by far the richest vegetable growing country he has seen. Not until the war broke out he told the Globe correspondent did he realize that Ino was a Jap propagandist.

Newton Centre Garden Club

Emily Henry Bush will be the speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club to be held at 10 a. m. at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse on Monday, October 1st. Mrs. Bush will present a colorful, pictorial record of an early 18th century plantation of rare beauty and historic interest.

Guests will be welcome, as always, at this outstanding meeting. The guest fees help to support the Garden Service at the Marine Hospital in Brighton, for which the club is responsible under the able direction of Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf of Chestnut Hill.

Fortunate it is for members and guests that the chairman of program, Mrs. George Engle of Claremont street, Newton, is able to present such an attractive program at this meeting.

Mrs. Alden H. Speare and Mrs. Vincent P. Maloney are co-chairmen of hospitality, and with their committee, are serving morning coffee before the lecture.

Mrs. Austin C. Benton of Monadnock road, Chestnut Hill, the retiring president, will award the President's Cup to the member having won the greatest number of points in Flower Show awards during the year.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club have their plans complete for a very busy year in all their various activities.

The President, Mrs. Eric Kermath will conduct the first board meeting, on the first Friday in October.

In November, a Chinese Bazaar will be held, full details of which will be given later. The Music and Garden Club are planning very attractive meetings during the year.

Community Council Acts as Planning Board for Projects

Two of the recent major accomplishments of the Newton Community Council, a Red Feather Service, are the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans, Newton's center of information for veterans of World War II, and the newly created Newton Nutrition Center. The Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans, now a Red Feather Service, was established in 1944 to coordinate the efforts of all agencies and civic groups in matters pertaining to veterans. It has served as a model for other community groups throughout the State and Nation. This project was suggested to the Council through several of its organization members. The Newton Nutrition Center began in a similar manner.

The Newton Community Council, which serves as a coordinating group between Red Feather agencies and as a planning board for city wide projects, is composed of 66 member organizations representing the agencies, church groups, clubs, and societies. At the core of the Council work is a Governing Board, which guides the various projects and heads committee organizations to further the progress of the community. The members of this Board are volunteers. Mrs. Barbara Stearns, Executive Secretary, serves full time coordinating the activities of the Council.

Among the many community services offered by the Council are:

THE RESEARCH COMMITTEE, Charles O. Richter, Chairman, which recently completed a study of sub-standard housing in Newton and has made definite recommendations. Efforts are now turned to studying the problem of housing accommodations for returning veterans and their families.

THE HEALTH COMMITTEE, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Chairman, which is constantly working for the good health of the citizens of Newton. A sub-committee on Industrial Hygiene this year functioned in the Tuberculosis Case Finding Program. Practically all the employees of Raytheon Production Co. in Newton received chest X-Rays. It is hoped that other plants will soon take advantage of this X-Ray service.

THE CONFERENCE AND STUDY GROUP, James P. Reynolds, Chairman, which explores through monthly meetings of lay and professional people, interests in social planning, the needs and problems of the community. Recommendations, when necessary, are made to the Governing Board, and promptly acted upon.

THE GROUP WORK COMMITTEE, Miss Elizabeth Richardson, which is instrumental in furthering recreational programs for youth and adult groups in areas where the need exists, through cooperation of public and private agencies, as well as city departments.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Jane—Will you help me with breakfast this morning, Bill? These muffins are a much longer job than toast.

Bill—Sure thing. Do you want me to squeeze the oranges?

Jane—No, not this morning. You'll find a nice large cantaloupe in the icebox. Just cut it into three pieces.

Bill—But I thought that we were supposed to have orange juice every morning.

Jane—Oh! stop your teasing. You've heard me say that we should have a good source of Vitamin C every day, but that doesn't mean we have to have oranges all the time.

Bill—Do you mean that melons are just as good as oranges?

Jane—They certainly are, and lucky for us, too, because melons are best when the orange supply is the poorest. All the different kinds, such as honeydew and watermelon, are rich in Vitamin C, too.

Bill—If melons are so good, what about peaches, pears, and bananas?

Jane—Those fruits happen to have very little Vitamin C. So if we have peaches on our breakfast cereal some morning soon, you'll have to bring in an extra big handful of tomatoes or cabbage from the garden for dinner that night.

NOTE: The following foods contain as much Vitamin C (Ascorbic Acid) as half cup orange juice:

1/2 small cantaloupe, honeydew, maternelon

10 large strawberries

2 medium tomatoes

1/2 raw cabbage

Dr. James Lee Ellenwood To Speak in Newton

DR. JAMES LEE ELLENWOOD

"Your Family and Mine" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. James Lee Ellenwood, noted author and lecturer, in the Newton High School Auditorium, Thursday evening, October 4th, at 8 o'clock. The address is the occasion of the Fall Meeting of the Newton Community Council and its member organizations and the public is invited to attend.

The Council, a Newton Red Feather Agency, is attempting to strengthen Newton community and family life. An extensive program is planned for this coming year which will be of interest to all families who are now faced with youth problems and their effect on the home and family as a working unit.

Dr. Ellenwood's two books "There's No Place Like Home" and "It Runs In The Family" are familiar to many Newton people. All who have read them will remember his ready humor and common sense approach to difficult family situations. Out of the emerging patterns of family life each reader has found at least one issue that he has faced in his own home.

Under the sponsorship of the Newton Community Council, Dr. Ellenwood will be spending the entire day in Newton. He will speak to the high school assemblies, confer with high school student leaders during the morning. At 3:15 in the afternoon he will meet with school principals and Newton agency executives. His address in the evening will conclude the day's program.

The member organizations of the Council, which include most of the social and civic groups in the city, will be planning projects around ideas suggested by Dr. Ellenwood.

Potatoes* eaten daily give as much as one-quarter of the Vitamin C quota, some B Vitamins, and other important minerals and starch.

Every day in the U.S.A. there are 1800 fires, 28 deaths caused by fire in 1000 homes, 130 stores, 100 factories, 7 churches, 7 schools, and 3 hospitals.

together and, all in all, it was a great day.

It sure must have been a great day with Bob and the rest of those Newtonites out there, fanning the breeze with matters concerning the Garden City.

CURRENT EVENTS...

This department received a card from Sgt. Bob Thibault who was summering among the Czechs in July and a letter from Sgt. Jim Moorehead that was mailed from the same country, at the same time.

Last night, Thursday, September 27, we shook hands with both Sgt. in Newton Corner. They're sure moving 'em fast these days. . . Sgt. J. P. Santucci writes that he caught up with an old pal, Sgt. Paul D'Innocenzo, in Southern France. All of which makes everything just a bit of a relief, he adds.

W. C. is on its way to Sgt. D'Innocenzo. . . Joe Sheridan, Sgt. Thomas Doucette, Edinboro street and Peter Forte, Chapel street, are all in Germany. . . According to Bernard Burke, the druggist, his son, Bernard Jr., is now in the Philippines with the Navy. He participated in the invasion of Southern France and Salerno, in the European Theatre and in the invasion of Okinawa in the Pacific.

Bernie Jr., is now a 2nd Class Pharmacist Mate. . . We're still enjoying summer weather here and if the weatherman continues it until Christmas, it will be all right with all of the neighbors' children.

There's not a vacant store in Newtonville Square and the last vacancy in Newton Corner was taken this week. Cleansing, electrical and radio shops are being opened by returned veterans. A veteran who operates a new radio shop under the name of "Buddy's," repaired our ailing set in five minutes flat. The thing had been out of order for months, too. . . The coupe of Harry Roiter, the well known paper dealer in Nonantum, burned up the other night and Brother Roiter is still burned up. New cars are still unobtainable. . . According to John McMullen, the Lake cop, Lawyer Edward Fahey from that section, is planning to commit matrimony with a Red Bank, New Jersey gal. . . Jeeps are on display in a Boston auto salesroom. . . Gasoline is becoming scarce again. Labor troubles in the West are responsible, this time. . . Veterans are being invited to take specialized courses at Newton High School. Many are doing so, one pupil having a wife and child at home. . . See you soon.

SEN. BURTON, FORMERLY OF NEWTON, APPOINTED TO SUPREME COURT

The appointment last week by President Truman of Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio to the Supreme Court is of particular interest in Newton, as the senator is a former resident of this city.

Born in Jamaica Plain in 1885, the son of Dean Alfred Burton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the former Gertrude Hitz, daughter of the Swiss consul to the United States, he came to Newton at the age of six, the family making their home on Webster street, West Newton.

He was educated in the Newton schools and was graduated from the Newton High School in 1905. In 1909 he was graduated from Bowdoin College, where he was a room mate of Senator Owen Brewster of Maine. Three years later he received his degree from Harvard Law School.

He married the former Selma Smith of West Newton, a graduate of Wellesley College, and they made their home in Cleveland where he entered the practice of law with Thomas Johnson, a prominent attorney. During World War I he served in France and Belgium.

Before becoming a member of the Senate in 1941, he served as Mayor of Cleveland. His present term in the Senate expires on January 3.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE AT NEWTON KIWANIS SPONSORED CONCERT

Capacity audiences enjoyed the afternoon and evening concerts by Gene Krupa and his orchestra at Norumbega's Tolem Pole, recently, assuring completion of the Newton Kiwanis Club's plan of improvements at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. The gross receipts of the Kiwanis sponsored concert will be used to provide for the added safety and comfort of the little sufferers at the Home.

A representative group of Kiwanians, Chairman Robert Wilcox of the Concert Committee, Fire Chief John L. Keating, James P. Gallagher of the Board of Directors and Paul Considine visited Gene Krupa at Norumbega, where a photographer of "Look" magazine busily made pictures of the great orchestra leader and his band. Pictures were also taken of the Kiwanians as they conveyed the Club's congratulations to the drummer king.

BROOKLINE CHALLENGES NEWTON IN SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Philip Bowker, chairman of the Brookline Appeal Committee for the Salvation Army Greater Boston Annual Appeal for $400,000, issued a challenge to Philip S. Jamieson, chairman of the Newton Appeal Committee, at a meeting of the Brookline workers at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, that his town would beat Newton in contributions. Last year, Newton raised $6000 more than Brookline. The quota in Newton is $15,000.

the National War Fund, including the U. S. O.

The National War Fund needs from the whole country in the next year $115,000,000. Probably twice this amount will be required to carry on the year-end work of the many social agencies, hospitals, and youth centers in the Community Chests. Of this large total, the Greater Boston United War Fund, with which our Chest is associated, has set a goal in this campaign of $7,750,000, with Newton's share $320,000.

With the war now over in Europe and the Pacific, we wish that all of our men and women still in uniform could come back immediately to take their places in civilian life. This, of course, cannot be effected immediately; in fact, it is very likely that many of our Service people will have to stay in uniform for some time.

Until the Service Flags are taken down from the windows of every home in Newton, the USO will be backing up our boys with recreational centers and entertainment. Until the citizens of our Allied Countries have gotten back on their feet, they will have our support. As long as Newton people need hospitals and other health and family services, we shall continue to aid them.

Along as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations continue to get the present great results with our youth they will have our help. As long as these needs exist, we are sure that the citizens of Newton will lend their support for these services sponsored by the Newton Community Chest.

The Chest Campaign this year is called the Victory Campaign. To be victorious, the Campaign must top its goal, for the services which the funds are to provide must not be impaired. As a matter of fact, the work for the USO and many other agencies must be increased. For these reasons, 2,500 of our fellow citizens are now hard at work, raising the funds to reach a challenging goal to prove once again that Newton still cares.

DR. HOMER W. ANDERSON NEW SUPERINTENDENT NEWTON SCHOOLS

At a general meeting of all teachers in the Newton Public Schools, held on September 10, at the High School Auditorium, Mr. C. R. Cabot, Chairman of the Newton School Committee, announced the resignation of Dr. Julius E. Warren from the position of Superintendent of the Newton Schools. Dr. Warren, who became Newton's Superintendent of Schools in September, 1934, has been on leave of absence since Oct. 1, 1943, serving as Commissioner of Education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Dr. Homer W. Anderson, formerly Superintendent of the St. Louis and Omaha School systems and who has been Acting Superintendent in Newton for the past two years, will succeed Dr. Warren.

Dr. Warren came to Newton from the superintendency at Lakewood, Ohio. The nine years of his administration were marked by many advances in education for the Newton School system. For four years, Dr. Warren was one of 14 public school systems in the country to participate in the Teacher Education program of the American Council on Education. Parent Education courses instituted by Dr. Warren received national recognition and it was during his administration that Newton became the first school system in the Commonwealth to develop an inter-school program for high school and trade school youth.

He will have a revised faculty assisting him, including Lt. Gov. Robert F. Bradford, Supreme Court Justice Raymond S. Wilkins, Prof. Austin W. Scott and Warren A. ## Newton Merry-Go-Round

By Paul Considine

There's a letter on this apology for a desk that all of us here agree is mighty fine readin'. Addressed to yours truly from a gent whose home address is pretty close to this department's castle, it's a letter to be filed away with the others of its kind, so's to be read and read on the long journey ahead, during the years to come, on the trip down memory lane.

Sgt. Bob Wilson of the Marines, who formerly lived at 181 Vernon street, is the author, and his letter tells of a dozen Newton boys contacting one another 'way out on lonely Tinian, in the Marianas, declaring a 'Newton Day' out there, and throwing themselves a whale of a reunion and party in honor of the occasion.

His letter, maybe, will tell the story better than any description the Merry-Go-Round might spin your way, so dated June 26—on this department's birthday, incidentally—Bob writes, in part, as follows:

Dear Paul:

Here's a bit of news that might prove interesting to some of the folks back in good old Newton.

Last Sunday a Newton reunion was staged here on Tinian in the Marianas. Of course, it was not a planned affair, but Tom (this name may be misspelled. It's a bit blurred) Giamgow and myself met a fellow out here from Newton, who knew a fellow from Newton and the fellow, in turn, knew another guy from Newton. We searched around and by the time we ended up, we had quite a gang of assorted servicemen, all of them from the Old Home Town.

Here's a list of the fellows as I remember their names:

M.M.-c Al Malley, Emerald street, Sea Bee.
Sgt. Tim McCarthy, Emerson street, Army.
Chief SF Joe Daley, Hunnewell avenue, Sea Bee.
SF 2-c Guy Telesco, Crafts street, Sea Bee.
Seaman 1-c Page, Lowell avenue, Sea Bee.

Danny Leonie, Adams street, Sea Bee.

Bill Richardson, Linwood avenue, Sea Bee.
Pvt. Frank Canty, Auburndale, USMC.

... Emmett, Lower Falls, Sea Bee.
Lt. Frank Hendrick, Fayette street, Army.

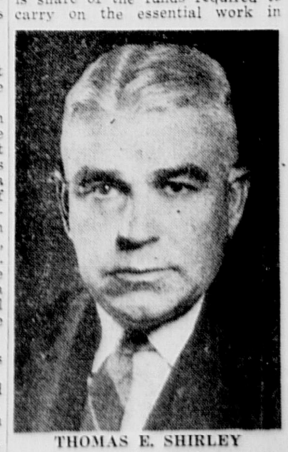

Sgt. Tom Giamgow, Walnut Park, USMC, and, of course, myself, Bob Gibson, also of the Marines, from 131 Vernon street, Newton. We had our pictures taken in front of a B-29, had a swell get-together.

Boys Scouts Report Busy Program During Past Year

The Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, a Red Feather agency, serving Newton and Wellesley boys, had a remarkable program of activity and service during the past year.

An unusual War Service activity was the V-Mail Letter Project during which over 5,000 V-Mail letters were sent to Servicemen overseas by Scouts of Newton and Wellesley. Hundreds of replies came back from overseas and the Norumbega Scout exchanged the story of his experience at home with those of the Serviceman at war in all parts of the world.

Last fall Newton and Wellesley Scouts collected more than 500 bags of Milkweed pod pods—scouring the countryside for the pods, drying them, storing them and shipping them out to the Midwest where the pods were used in the manufacture of life preservers for the Merchant Marine. Norumbega Scouts continued the fine record of Salvage Collection by gathering more than 500 tons of waste paper during the year.

An established "Service to Others" project was the distribution of literature—during the year approximately 75,000 pieces of literature were distributed for the Newton and Wellesley Chests, the American Red Cross, and other agencies. The Newton Chest literature distribution is a fine example of teamwork whereby the Mariners of the Newton Girl Scout Council count and bundle the leaflets for each district, the Red Cross Motor Corps delivers the bundles to the homes of Scoutmasters; and then the Boy Scouts distribute the leaflets to each home in Newton.

A highlight of the year in regard to War Service was the launching of the U. S. Submarine Catfish at Groton, Connecticut when a delegation of Newton Scouts and Scouters represented the City of Newton at the sponsorship and launching of the war vessel. The Catfish was constructed by the Fifth War Loan Purchases of the Newton Citizens, and the Norumbega Council was delegated by the War Loan Committee and the Mayor to represent the city at the launching. Eagle Scout Peter Cummings of Newton Center presented a plaque bearing Newton's name to the Captain of the Submarine when it was commissioned.

The Norumbega Exposition took place in April at the Newton High School. More than 6,000 people attended to inspect the program and activities of Cubbing, Scouting, and Senior Scouting, dramatically demonstrated and displayed in fifty booths. A feature of the Exposition was the participation of additional agencies such as the Newton and Wellesley Girl Scouts, the Red Cross, the Fire and Police Departments, the Children's Museum, and others. The Council continued its steady growth during the past year—the

"Old Time Daze" At Waban

"Old Time Daze" will feature the Open House of the Waban Neighborhood Club on Saturday evening, September 29, when Service men and women only will be the guests.

Old songs will be sung by the membership chorus and old time movies of the days of "The Bicycle Built for Two" will be shown with tin pan accompaniment. New members will be introduced by the Speechless Dummy.

A dinner will be served from 6:30 to 7:30.

June 30 membership total showed 2,100 boys compared with 1920 a year ago; and 531 volunteer adult leaders compared with 460 a year ago. The Council also enjoyed a remarkable growth in Senior Scouting during the year. Three new Sea Scout Ships were organized, sponsored respectively by Saint Andrews Church in Wellesley, the Newton Kiwanis Club, and the Coast Guard Reserve. The Newton Rotary Club sponsored an Air Scout Squadron—the first of its kind—during the year. This Air Squadron is one of the best in New England. The leadership of James Mitchell, Squadron Leader, a busy program in aviation took place. Early in September seven Air Scouts and Squadron Leader Mitchell attended a ten-day encampment at Stuart Field at West Point when 300 Air Scouts from throughout the country and the middle Atlantic states studied and practiced the routine of the Air Force Cadets at West Point.

At this time, Norumbega Council has thirty-nine Troops and Senior units compared with thirty-six a year ago and seventeen Cub Packs compared with sixteen a year ago.

The Rt. Rev. Sherrill To Dedicate Church Edifice Sunday

The Church of the Messiah, Abundant, destroyed by a disastrous fire in November 1943 has risen from the ashes and will be dedicated by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Episcopal Bishop of Massachusetts, on Sunday afternoon, September 30, at 4 p. m. The Rector, the Rev. Richard P. McIntock, who has shepherded his flock through a building program in difficult times will lead the people in a General Thanksgiving. Hon. Paul N. Goddard, Mayor of Newton will bring a good-will message from the Community.

The Church already a famous Newton landmark as the Church of the Lighted Cross and as the Avenue in all of Newton is also known as the home of the famous composer, Horatio Parker who played his first organ notes there in 1888. The services on Sunday will climax a courageous struggle by people and pastor; a struggle to rebuild during wartime shortages and increased building costs. The Brownstone and brick building to be dedicated by the Bishop is said to be one of the most beautiful church edifices in New England. Great credit is due the architect, Charles Collins, for his simple dignified lines both within the chancel and without the edifice.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GIVE TIRED GRASS A FRESH START!

Re-vitalize "summer weary" grass with a full application of Milorganite. Unlike most plants, grass grows vigorously in the fall. . . provided dwindling soil fertility is restored by generous feeding. Milorganite is the ideal fertilizer to use because it contains all the elements needed by grass. Golf Clubs use more Milorganite than any other fertilizer. They know from long experience that it is the ideal fertilizer. Profit by their example. Fertilize with Milorganite this fall for greener, more luscious lawns now and NEXT year, too.

MEN'S SWIM CLASS AT Y.M.C.A.

C. W. Abbott, aquatic director at the Newton Y. M. C. A., has announced that a "Swimming Skills" class open to all senior members of the "Y" began September 19. Particular attention will be given to beginners, although more advanced skills in swimming and diving will be taken up also.

This class is designed to give men and young men who are not now able to swim an opportunity to learn, and to also afford advanced instruction to those who are already at home in the water. The "Y" expects to add other activities to its regular physical fitness program as found necessary by the increasing number of young men returning from the services.

NEEDHAM AND WELLESLEY TO BE SERVED BY NEWTON RATION BOARD

Five more War Price and Rationing Boards in Massachusetts will be eliminated on Oct. 1 in a continuation of OPA's board streamlining program.

The move cuts the number of boards to be left in Massachusetts on Oct. 1 from 78 to 73 key boards. Merging of the present 361 boards into 73 has been made possible because of the end of gasoline, fuel oil and processed foods rationing which removed tremendous board workloads. The 73 key boards will concentrate on price control using all resources with the exception of the comparatively small force needed to carry out remaining rationing programs.

The five additional boards to be eliminated are: Winchester, Wakefield, Needham, Wellesley and Danvers. Winchester and Wakefield residents will be served by the Stoneham board; Needham and Wellesley by the Newton board; and Danvers by the Beverly board.

100F ENCAMPMENT 62 PLANS ACTIVE YEAR

The October meeting, to be held October 12th, will be devoted to the installation of officers, followed by the Patriarchal Degree.

Army Answers

Q. Is the mother of a soldier entitled to receive an allotment if she is working and her husband is working? C. O., New Bedford.

A. The mother may receive a Class E allotment from the soldier, that is an amount of his pay to which no allowance is added by the Government. Family Allowance is paid to a parent when the father is dependent, and this fact must be established by certificate before payment is approved and paid.

Q. Can a Massachusetts boy who was inducted into the service receive the Massachusetts State bonus? M. S., Taunton, Mass.

A. In order to receive the Massachusetts State bonus, the person on whose behalf application is filed must have been a resident of this State of at least six months immediately prior to his induction, and his induction must be credited to this State. The writer may wish to make inquiry to State Adjutant, Providence, R. I., for information as to any benefits which may be paid to servicemen by that State.

Q. A soldier in the service for almost three years and 35 years of age in November 1945, when he applies for discharge, will the Army keep him for 90 days? E. M., Fall River.

A. The present policy is to discharge men in that category as promptly as possible. There may be some delay if the man is overseas and in an essential position, but there is no regulation which requires that a man obtaining discharge on this basis wait a period of 90 days if it is possible to discharge him sooner than that.

Q. My husband has been in the Merchant Marine for three years. He is 21 and we have one child. If he leaves the Merchant Marine, will he be drafted into the Army? O. B., Milton.

A. The drafting of a man into the Army comes under the jurisdiction of his local draft board. That is the only agency which can give you information as to whether or not your husband would be subject to induction.

Q. We have three children. My husband is in the Philippines. Can he get out because of the children or will he have to wait until he gets enough points? R. P., Burlington.

A. The three children give 36 points credit to your husband. He would not be eligible for discharge on this basis alone. He is also entitled to one point for each month of service and one point for each month overseas, and five points for each battle star and for certain awards.

Q. I entered the service on Nov. 7, 1942 and was discharged in June 1945 under the 35 years of age rule. Am I entitled to muster out pay? G. B. C., Lawrence.

BASEBALL

The all important five game series between the Tigers and the Senators opened Saturday, Sept. 15 with the Tigers knocking the Senators down twice 7-4 and 7-0. Newhouse started for Detroit but retired after the first inning. Stubby Overmire pitched 4 2-3; Caster 3-1 with Caster the win. Wash. and allowed two runs in the second; Carrasquel gave up two runs in the fourth but gave up to Pieretti in the seventh when Detroit scored three runs. Wash. tied the game up in the sixth when he scored his ninth when Dizzy Trout won his 18th victory in the second game when Mickey Haefer the loser. Wash. scored two runs in the first, Detroit three in the sixth when York soaked his 18th homer, the Senators tied it up in the sixth 4-4, then Detroit scored 1 in the eighth and 3 in the ninth.

Wash. and Detroit split even Sunday with the Senators winning the first 3-2 with Wolf holding the Tigers to five hits while the Nats. got along with Newhouse who was the losing pitcher. Ben-ton received credit for the win in the second game as Detroit was leading 5-0 when he gave way to Bridges when Wash. scored two runs in the eighth. Caster was held out in the ninth when the Senators scored two more runs but Dizzy Trout came in and put out the fire.

The Senators really went to work on the Tigers in the fifth game pounding six pitchers for 12 runs in the first two games. Trout and Newhouse. They pounded Dizzy for six hits and four runs in the first inning and finished up with Case knocking a triple off Newhouse with the bases full. Dutch Leonard was the winning pitcher.

Bob Feller pitched a one hitter against Detroit Wednesday, beating them 2-0. Heath slamming a home run with one on, for the two runs. Cleveland blasted three Detroit pitchers, Benton, Trout and Caster Thursday, beating them 6-1. Reynolds held the Tigers to 12 hits in the first two games. Yankees 6-1 Thursday and again Friday 5-3. Wolf beat Philadelphia 2-0 Saturday and the teams split two games Sunday, the A's winning the first game, 4-3 when Hanks lost a fly in the sun in the 12th inning.

Wash. won the second game 4-3, splitting these games means Detroit only has to win two out of their remaining four games to tie. Detroit won Saturday 9-0 and St. Louis Browns won Sunday 5-0.

Ferris Day Sunday was a gala day for Boston fans who gave him a Lincoln Zephyr sedan, his Sox mates a radio. Hood, the milk company, a gold wrist watch, and a huge floral piece came from the Rotary Club of the home town.

The Sox won the first game from the Yankees 6-5 in the 14th inning when Lake drove in the winning run with a double. Otis Clark pitched from the eighth inning allowing the Yanks only two hits. Dave lost the second game 2-1 which went only five innings as it was called at 6:15 due to the curfew law.

Barrett, one of Boston's favorites opened the big series in St. Louis against Claude Passeau Tuesday night before 22,000 fans and Red sure was good, holding the Cubs to two runs, which they scored in the first inning while the Cards scored 3 runs on ten hits. This was Barrett's 22nd win, and 14 out of 18 wins for the Cards over Chicago. The Cubs came back Wednesday night to win 4-1 before 26,000 fans with Hank Borowy holding the Cards to one run, kept right after Lewis and it looked as though it was his constant aggressiveness that proved the margin of victory for him. In the tenth with but a few seconds remaining, Mell got over a terrific right, Lewis fell as a great hit with an axe at the count of five he was on his feet but still out. Calby headed for his own corner and before Gus could reach him the gong sounded ending the fight. It was well for Lewis as he was in no condition to continue. This was the last of another feather in the atomic punching Mell's cap and with a year or two more experience he may very well be lord and master of all the lightweight there are to survey. As Champ he would have color galore as we Bostonians could say it was right here he got his start.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS HAVE FIRST ANNIVERSARY IN NEWTON

Fifty-eight members of the Newton group of Alcoholics Anonymous celebrated their first anniversary recently at the Smith House, Cambridge. All of them, individuals who found it impossible to control their respective cravings for alcohol, previous to their association with Alcoholics Anonymous, also celebrated their own abstinence from alcohol for periods ranging from one to 10 years.

According to a local Mr. Anonymous, the group had its beginning at his home little more than a year ago, its membership numbering eight at that time. Many who came to staff, he said, remained to be cured and became ardent disciples of A. A. The Newton group is now 10 times its membership size of one year ago and is still growing. Anyone fighting a losing battle with John Barleycorn is welcome to attend the weekly meeting, Thursday, at Bay State Hall, Centre street, Newton Corner.

Your dollars reach them all!

They bring good cheer and comfort to the guardians of lonely island outposts scattered throughout the vast Pacific.

They provide rest and recreation for the heroes of our Merchant Marine, the men who deliver supplies to every fighting front.

They help restore the wounded, in mind and spirit. Over 500 U.S.O. clubs near hospitals give aid and relaxation to convalescents.

Your dollars don't forget our gallant WACS, and Army Nurses. To thousands of them, the U.S.O. is the nearest thing to "home."

Through your Community War Fund, your dollars lend a helping hand to wives, children and families of our men in service.

In China, the Philippines, all over the world, destitute and helpless people are aided by a share of your War Fund dollars.

Not all our men are fighting Japs. Thousands serve in conquered lands and at foreign bases. Your dollars bring them recreation.

And, right here at home, your dollars help keep the Visiting Nurse on her errands of mercy. No call is ever refused.

Your dollars bring the "smiles of Stars" each week to more than a million men, wherever they are, through U.S.O. Camp Shows.

The healing power of your dollars is felt by the wounded... dollars that help heal through laughter and peace of mind.

"Thanks," say the Spars, Waves and lady Marines for the thousands of "little things" your War Fund dollars have done for them.

Former Nazi slave labor, on its way back. Your dollars will help them greatly to return to their homes and sanity.

"Honorably Discharged"... returned to civilian life. Your dollars give counsel, personal-adjustment aid, legal guidance, etc.

All branches of our armed forces receive the mercy of your dollars. They bring everything from checker boards to Bob Hope.

Now, more than ever, your dollars are needed to serve our men throughout the long, hard road to final Victory.

"To Care for Him Who Shall Have Borne the Battle"

Newton Schools have started their campaigns to furnish Hospital Units at a cost of $3,000 each for our wounded veterans through their purchasing of War Savings Stamps and Bonds during the Victory drive. This is the last of the War Loan drives and we have been asked to loan our money to Care For Him Who Shall Have Borne the Battle.

One of the war's greatest victories is the triumph of skilled medical treatment over wounds, illness, and disability. The credit for lives saved and futures kept hopeful belongs to the medical corps of all armed services. But the miracles of medicine are paid for with BONDS.

No one can even guess at the huge sums of money which will be needed to provide care and comfort, and a new chance for life and health for our sick and wounded in service. A late summer check showed that there were more than 300,000 patients in Army Hospitals throughout the United States and about another 100,000 in Navy hospitals. None of us knows how many others are still to be brought home from overseas areas. It costs an average of $5 per day to keep a man in an Army or Navy hospital. It will take months and sometimes years before some of our seriously wounded can be sent back to civilian life—sound in mind and body and high of heart.

The work of the Medical Corps has stretched all the way from emergency treatment on the fighting line to reconditioning of bodies and reconstruction of lives. Conscience is taught and trained while they are being cured. Physically handicapped men learn to handle themselves and their infirmities; learn new skills and adjustments.

Your Bonds pay for skill, for tools, for hospital care, for food, for dividends in human life saved, usefulness and dignity restored. Schools having entered campaigns to supply hospital units are Newton High School, F. A. Day Junior High, Andover, Peirce, Clafin, Cabot, Oak Hill, Horace Mann, Carr, Burr, William, Hamilton, Underwood, Franklin and Davis.

Girl Scouts Taught Home-making, Citizenship, Etc.

Submitted By Public Relations Committee, Newton Girl Scouts

Everybody talks about the responsibilities of today's young people but very few persons have bothered to ask the children themselves what they think about it all.

The Girl Scout organization has been a part of our lives for more than a million girls and adults—were asked to do in order to become better citizens in today's changing world. To our knowledge this is the first time that such a nation-wide poll has been taken by any youth agency. On the basis of their replies, the national and local Girl Scout plans were made. In effect they are a design for citizenship made by American girls for American girls. Girl Scouts are eager to build international friendship by getting acquainted with girls from other lands through meetings, correspondence and programs that will interpret the aspirations of people of all colors and creeds.

In accordance with Scout tradition, citizenship means service as well as privilege. Americans who look beyond victory to lasting peace will find in the Scout organization one of the best means for building that peace. For here is an opportunity for women who have left their volunteer war activities to continue the good fight. In spite of our wonderful growth here in Newton there are still waiting lists of girls who want to be Scouts but who lack leaders. Many women who learned the joy of service and of doing something useful during the war years will not be content to be idle now. The Newton Local Council, a Red Feather service, hopes that a goodly number of these will find their way to the Girl Scout office at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, and that this year all girls who want to be Scouts in our city may be taken care of. Training in leadership techniques and Girl Scout methods is available this fall.

Here in Newton we have 114 troops which means over two thousand girls working and playing together, learning the fundamentals of homemaking, citizenship and patriotism. They are community-minded as well as world-minded. They assist at the Hospital, they send Treasure chests of books to children of Europe, they perform office tasks for local agencies, they contribute to a World Friendship Fund in the name of their founder (Juliette Low). They work and live and learn together in the out-of-doors. They become self-reliant and capable.

In another month we celebrate Girl Scout Birthday Week (October 28 to Nov. 3) which will stress active citizenship at home and abroad. Because we believe that the Scouting movement can be a vital force for international peace and understanding we urge our girls to learn more about their own country and those beyond the seas, to study the community in which they live, and to take more responsibility so that they, as citizens of tomorrow, may fulfill their obligations to the world.

EVERY WEEK somewhere in Newton, groups of Girl Scouts gather about a Nutritionist from the Newton Nutrition Center as she tells absorbing stories about food and how it serves the body.

Nutrition Center Gives Advice on Food Problems

Submitted By Mary A. Mitchell, Chairman, of Public Relations Comm. Newton Nutrition Center

The Newton Nutrition Center works with individuals and families, many Community Chest Red Feather Agencies plus several departments of the City, and the Red Cross. Newton Girl Scouts work and study with our Nutritionists, to learn about food and how it serves the body. The Nutritionists also work with the Health Department, the Newton District Nursing Association, the Family Service Bureau and the Public and the Parochial Schools in an important educational program.

Of course, many of us have long recognized the value of good nutrition. Most of the time we do a good job of feeding father, mother and the children. But everyone needs a refresher course. The Newton Nutrition Center, a Red Feather Service, provides the instruction. They are Newton's Nutritionists, Mrs. Virginia Sargent, and Mrs. Jean Eastman. They are ready to help you answer these of eight to fourteen, found themselves engrossed in outdoor cooking, nature trails, dramatics, overnight trips and all the other varied activities that go to make up an interesting and stimulating program. To Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Director and Mrs. Stephen Burke, Committee Chairman should go the enthusiastic thanks of many Newton parents.

Camp Mary Day, located on None-Such Pond in Natick and Weston, was presented to the Newton Girl Scouts by Mrs. Frank A. Day to give the Scouts a chance to live out of doors and to learn and practise skills that make camping more comfortable. The eight week period extended this year from July 1 to August 25 and 173 different girls were accommodated. Here at an established camp, the Scouts got down to business in swimming, boating, pioneering, camp craft, team games—all the camping activities that afford an opportunity to further develop resourcefulness, initiative and self-reliance, and that help each girl become a happy, adjusted member of her community. With Miss Laurajean Rod, Field Secretary of the Newton Girl Scouts as Director and Mrs. Sterling Loveland as Committee Chairman, Camp Mary Day reached a new high in enrollment and accomplishment.

In another month we celebrate Girl Scout Birthday Week (October 28 to Nov. 3) which will stress active citizenship at home and abroad. Because we believe that the Scouting movement can be a vital force for international peace and understanding we urge our girls to learn more about their own country and those beyond the seas, to study the community in which they live, and to take more responsibility so that they, as citizens of tomorrow, may fulfill their obligations to the world.

questions (perhaps you forgot to ask them)—for instance:

1. Remember that you may know a great deal about planning proper meals for your family, but is your newly married daughter equipped with this vital knowledge?
2. Remember that young married couple with the new baby? Do they know how to spend wisely for the kind of food necessary to maintain health?
3. Does your breakfast taste good and does it give you energy for your mornings' work? Well—remember the answer is good nutrition.
4. How is your complexion? Is your hair shining and strong? Are your eyes clear and bright? Have you a pleasant disposition? Well—remember the answer.
5. What about your children's teeth? Perhaps you know and will remember the answer to this one. But does your new neighbor know? Does she know about the Dental Clinic in City Hall where children learn good food habits while they wait their turn for the dentist?
6. Will you please remember to help our Nutritionists to educate our children, the next generation, in the necessary knowledge about food?
7. Will you remember to help yourself to health and help the Community Chest support one of Newton's vital agencies—the Nutrition Center?

Newton Lions Club

Nelson Churchill, Popular radio announcer and a fellow member of the Newton Lions Club told his fellow Lions of his many interesting experiences in his fascinating field where he has had the opportunity of meeting and interviewing many celebrities.

In commenting on the various "Commercials" and the so-called "Soap Operas" so often objected to by many of the listening audience, Mr. Churchill reminded his audience that it was the revenue received from the sponsors that supported the stations and which even made it possible for all to enjoy the higher type of programs. Radio, he said, was for all and not for any one type of listener. His Station WNAC, he felt, like all the others constantly strives for diversification and quality, and in this connection welcome suggestions from listeners.

As an alternative for the support of programs, he mentioned the method of taxing each radio which is employed in England to support BBC. The speaker, thought however, that this was a reason why our programs are more interesting than those of any other country, and here, he thought, was also a reason to keep our stations on a commercial basis.

King Lion Asa Blakeslee presided at the meeting which was very well attended.

Capt. Amato Pescosolido of Newton has recently been discharged from the service. He was overseas for 15 months seeing action in the E. T. O. area. He has to his credit the Combat Infantryman's Badge, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, and the Oak Leaf Cluster.

Citizens' Advisory Committee Aids Discharged Veterans

The Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans, after more than a year of operation as a Red Feather agency, finds itself facing a greatly increased opportunity for service. This arises from the ending of both the German and Japanese wars, and the consequent release of very large numbers of men and women from the armed forces.

At the date of our last count, 1122 veterans on the Newton list had been discharged. An address outside of Newton is reported for 200 of these, but many of them are living in nearby communities because they are unable to find a place to live in Newton. Of the total discharged, 247—22%—have been interviewed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee. If the armed services go through with their plans for discharge during the coming year, more than 3500 veterans will be returned to Newton. Even if no larger percentage comes to the Committee for advice and help, that will mean some 800 new cases, and with a tightening employment situation, a minimum of 1000 seems a conservative estimate.

The Committee is making plans to handle this increased work. The files which have been built up from information furnished by questionnaires prove an excellent source of educational and occupational information, and provide many short-cuts to the solution of a veteran's problems. The Committee's panel of lawyers, and the members of the Mayor's Committee on Employment offer the best possible legal and vocational assistance. The Veterans' Services Department of Newton and the Boston office of the Veterans' Administration are always available. Nearly all Red Feather agencies of the Community Chest have been called on at some time to assist, and their handling of veterans has been thoroughly satisfactory.

To give an idea of the Committee's approach and methods, and to illustrate the scope of assistance called for and the necessity of providing such help, we present a resume of four interesting cases of the past year:

CASE A. This soldier had no disability recorded and no problems, but just wanted a photostat of his discharge papers. He was not looking for employment. After a month he returned to say he had taken a job which was to start two days later, but that a week before he had had an attack of malaria, and he was afraid other attacks might jeopardize his employment. An appointment was made with a doctor who confirmed the malaria record and advised him to get in touch with us if another attack occurred. This did happen a few days after he started work. A doctor was called and a Red Cross ambulance obtained to transport him to the Veterans' Administration Facility, West Roxbury, for hospitalization. His claim for disability compensation was filed immediately. As a result of this case the Chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee sent a letter to all veterans having any record of malaria, whether officially noted on their discharge or not, advising them to report any recurrent attack through this Committee office, or direct to Veterans' Administration.

CASE B. This man was a resident of a distant State, but married a local girl after his discharge and settled permanently in Newton because of what he believed the favorable employment conditions in the Boston area. His first visit to the Committee office was because of his health. He was employed in local defense plant, earning good money and saving it, but not feeling well. An appointment with the doctor revealed stomach ulcers, service-developed, and the reason for his discharge. The doctor prescribed and obtained extra ration points for a special diet. A month later, "B" returned, having lost his defense plant job when hostilities with Japan came to an end. From information obtained at our first interview, we found that he had a background of specialized merchandise training. Our office called a firm in a neighboring town, known to be employing such men, and he immediately secured employment. Now he is arranging for a loan under the GI Bill to buy himself a home in Newton.

CASE C. The veteran was discharged with a high disability rating due to wounds which necessitated his securing employment where he could sit most of the time. He appealed to us to help him find a job. His education, which was along technical lines, had been interrupted by war service. He was referred to two members of the Mayor's Committee on Employment who suggested leads which provided part-time free-lance work in his field. With this established, he returned to school under the auspices of the B.I. Bill, and is completing his academic training at the same time that he is working at his trade under conditions suitable to his physical disability.

CASE D. This is an older man, employed in a responsible position. He first came to us to find out if he could collect his mustering-out pay, and it was explained to him that he could not do this, as he had requested an over-age discharge to accept essential civilian employment. The case seemed closed here. However, six weeks later he telephoned us that he had been served with a summons. He was referred to one of our Committee of Lawyers, who arranged a satisfactory settlement out of court. Again the case seemed closed. But nearly a year later he returned with a serious domestic problem, asking if we could again arrange for legal advice. From the nature of the circumstances, it seemed better to send him to the Family Service Bureau for consultation. They took the case and handled it to a satisfactory conclusion.

These illustrations are typical of the problems which veterans bring in, and the solutions are typical of what the Committee has been doing and hopes to be able to do for an even greater number of Newton's ex-servicemen and women.

WANDERING AROUND NONANTUM

With Bob Womboldt

Cpl. Al (Sunshine) Reale of West street, Nonantum has recently returned to a training camp in the south after enjoying a furlough at his home on West street. Many of the boys from the Club remember Al's super guitar playing and are looking forward to the days when he will be strumming the guitar once more.

Tom Treddin, veteran of World War I is resting at his home in Newton after being discharged from the Veterans Hospital in West Roxbury where he has been undergoing treatment for injuries received in the last war. Tom was a very popular and well liked patrolman in the Nonantum area a few years back. Here's hoping that we will see you in good health and back to work in the near future, Tommy.

Pvt. Ralph Grafalo of Watertown is enjoying a brief delay in route at his home on Watertown street. Ralph has been in the service for approximately six months and in that time has been through the following camps, including Camp Devens, basic training, Camp Gordon, Augusta, Ga., advanced training and is now heading for Fort George Meade in Maryland which is a staging area. Ralph was formerly employed in the ship yards where he participated in vital war work. Ralph has two brothers in the service, Richard and Frank who served in the intelligence corps and was a former Watertown police officer. His other brother is Joe Grafalo who is widely known throughout Newton and Watertown as a super de-luxe ball player.

Joe (Tum) Champagne, widely known dancer and entertainer from Nonantum area has recently accepted management of the Shell Oil Service Station at the corner of Watertown and Cook streets. The station is now being remodeled considerably and Tum is open for business. His slogan is "A song and dance with every repair job." Good luck, Tum.

Cpl. Henry Arcese of Faxon street is home after 38 months service overseas in the European theater of war. Henry was assigned to the anti-aircraft section of the army. Henry was a former ball player in the area and an active member of the N.A.A. Club.

T/S Alfred J. Couston of 49 Faxon street entered the service in October of 1942 and served with the famous 330th Infantry in the European theatre of operations. Al has won the Bronze Star for devoted duty and heroism. He has served in France, Luxembourg, Belgium, and Germany. In addition to his achievements Al has five battle stars. His brother Henry F. Couston, famed athlete of the area is now serving in the southern Pacific.

Commissioner Eddie Dungan of the veterans dept. at City Hall has requested that his office be allotted more clerical help due to the increasing number of veterans being discharged. This request is a timely and needy one. There is no doubt but our city fathers will see eye to eye in this matter and appropriate the necessary funds for this department.

Lt. Herby Yanco has arrived home from the E. T. O. after 21 months overseas duty. Herby resides with his parents on Green street, Nonantum. He left civilian life to join the air forces in Dec. 1941.

Trained at Pope Field, North Carolina and then was assigned to an observation group at Providence, Rhode Island. He was then promoted to the grade of sgt. and sent to the aviation classification center at Tennessee. From there Herb was selected to attend officers candidate school at the Aberdeen, Maryland proving grounds and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in March of 1943.

He then was assigned to Morrison Field, Palm Beach, Florida and was attached to the air transport command. He left Palm Beach in June to join the famed Hell Hawk fighter group 365th which was at that time training as a unit for overseas duty. The group left for overseas duty in Dec. 1943 and landed in Scotland and proceeded to England. This group was the first fighter group to fly over Germany after D-Day and gave close support to the armed forces on the beachheads in Normandy thru France, Belgium, and the Ardennes Campaign.

The 365th flew from Mons to Metz to supply Gen. Patton's boys with air support on New Year's day in 1945. This outfit suffered a loss of 75% aircraft casualties, one squadron was completely demolished due to a Kraut sneak attack and strafing of grounded planes by the Jerries.

The outfit was the first unit to fly from American bases in Germany to other parts of the front and was used as an occupational disarmament team for three months.

Herb left Weiden, Germany to go to Kassel, Antwerp, to Commonwealth Pier, Boston. He arrived home aboard the S. S. William and Mary victory ship. He has the Bronze Star, 6 battle stars, and the E. T. O. ribbon. His unit was honored with two presidential citations. Herb is the son of Harry Yanco, well known Newton used parts dealer, and the brother of Albert Yanco, Newton Police officer.

When I met Herb the other day he said, "Bob, I was never as happy in all my life as I am today and that is because I am home with my folks and friends in Nonantum." That is a grand tribute for the Lake from a mighty fine fellow.

Say fellows, remember Russell Burkhardt, the square shooting, sports-minded principal of the F. A. Day that we all studied under a few years back, well he is due to be back in circulation again in the near future. Major Burkhardt is due to be released from the Army after three years of service and will then resume his post as headmaster at the Day Junior High.

Tony Fraini, S2/c, is now attached to the 114th unit U. S. Navy Sea Bee division which is now serving on Attu in the Aleutian Islands.

Pfc Billy Thomas of 20 Emerson street is home on leave for 14 days. He is a member of the Marine Division that saw strong and furious action at Okinawa. Bill was wounded on May 9th while participating in the attack on Shuri Castle.

While he was overseas he met Chick Morris, former Our Lady's High baseball star and Charlie Gallagher who were on Yontan Airfield at the time. Billy has nine months overseas to his credit, Purple Heart, Presidential Citation and the Navy Unit Award.

He has had shrapnel removed from both legs and after his leave is up he will proceed to the Philadelphia Naval hospital for additional medical treatment.

Loads of good wishes to you, Bill Thomas.

At an ice-pond, the guests formed a long queue of red, blue, and green-colored skaters doing a winding conga chain to music.

A woman sighed as she watched the weaving figures, turned to the cigar smoking man beside her. "It's so wonderful," she said. "It's so real—just like in the movies."

PM.

Will you help this neighbor's child?

MAYBE we take too much credit for having saved the world.

Maybe we sort of forgot how the Greeks, the Dutch, the Belgians, the Norwegians, the Chinese, have harried our common enemy at every step—using courage and ingenuity in place of guns.

All these people are our Allies. And all of them, in this world of airplanes, are our next-door neighbors.

Today, our neighbors and our neighbors' children need our help. They are in desperate need of money to provide food, of doctors and medicine to restore health, of clothes to provide warmth. They need friendliness to provide hope.

Your Community War Fund provides all this: Part of the money you give goes to Russia and China, to Belgium and Holland, to every country that our enemies have ravaged. Part of it goes to help American soldiers and sailors where ever they are. And part stays at home to help servicemen's families and kids, right in your neighborhood, who need tending and guiding.

Your Community War Fund embraces them all. With just one contribution you help the 21 agencies participating in the National War Fund to carry on their vitally necessary work. Won't you do the good-neighborly thing—give and give generously to your Community War Fund?

Y.M.C.A. Is Popular With Servicemen

The Newton Y.M.C.A., a Red Feather Agency, faces the coming year with a capacity membership which includes over one thousand boys. At the same time it is daily receiving more and more returned servicemen. Any Newton returned servicemen automatically receives a three month membership free of charge. This has been voted by the Board of Directors, as well as to help men coming back to avail themselves of the "Y" facilities. During the past year over two thousand men in uniform availed themselves of the services offered by the Newton Y.M.C.A.

As a typical example, a United States Navy serviceman dropped into the "Y" the other day looking for a long lost brother whom he had not seen for eighteen years. He had just returned to Boston from long overseas duty and his only clue to his brother was the fact that he had a post office box number. With the cooperation of the postal authorities, the post office box was located and the sailor was reunited with his brother.

This is typical of the many services the Newton Y.M.C.A., a Red Feather Agency, has been offering to our servicemen during the war years.

The boys activities at the "Y" are an all-time high. Boys of all ages are taking advantage of the "Y" facilities, which include clubs, athletics, bowling, and social activities. In Newton High School, the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi Clubs for boys and girls are outstanding for their constructive activities among the young people.

With the establishment of a new camp, Camp Massasoit, the camping activities of the "Y" have been almost doubled during the past year. Camp Massasoit, operating on the Newton Y.M.C.A. grounds, has provided summer recreational activities for well over two hundred boys who are in the city for the summer.

Camp Frank A. Day at Brookfield played host to another two hundred and fifty-seven boys during the past summer. This camp is under the direction of Mr. Frank M. Simmons.

The "Y" in the Community. During the coming year increased activities are planned in various neighborhoods far removed from the "Y" building. In some cases these programs will include both boys and girls. Available facilities such as schools and churches will be used for program activities.

Cooperation. The Newton Y.M.C.A. has always cooperated with other groups in the city. The Boy Scouts have regular swim periods, as does the West Newton Community Center. The Red Cross, various women's clubs, church groups, the Kiwanis and Lions clubs all make use of the building facilities.

The Y.M.C.A. is justly proud of its sixty-eight years of service and it is looking forward to an increased usefulness in the days ahead.

In a joint announcement made by Samuel W. Hawley, vice-president of the Bridgeport People's Savings Bank, Bridgeport, Conn., Stanley L. Over $500,000,000 of Savings Bank Life Insurance is now in force in the three states, with 221 Savings Banks offering this service.

Dr. Ell Stresses Need for Education

Asserting that "there is no more precious thing than the trained mind," Pres. Carl S. Ell told Northeastern University's first peace-time class since 1941 this morning that "at the same time you young men and women face the keenest competition in your part of the world."

Speaking before the largest freshman class of the past few years, 510 students including 94 veterans of World War II and a large coed body of 105 in Jordan Hall, Huntington Avenue, the Northeastern president said "while the time is entering on a peace-time era, it will need far more than ever keen minded men and women."

These men and women will not only know how to use wisely the individual freedoms which victory has guaranteed, but they will be helpful in the construction of the world to come," he added.

Director of the Day Division William C. White introduced Pres. Ell.

Mr. Ellis is a native of Warren, Mass., and attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Tri-State College.

From 1930 to 1941 he was with General Motors Corp. in various capacities including engineering, sales, service, personnel and public relations, being associated with electronic work through most of this period.

When General Motors entered the auto radio manufacturing business in 1936, Mr. Ellis was made general manager of the Delco Radio Division. In the spring of 1941, at the request of General Knudsen, he joined O.P.M., later W.P.B., to start the mobilization of radio and radar production facilities.

In 1942 he became director of the W.P.B. radio and radar division. In addition to correlating the electronic production facilities in the United States, he made extensive trips to England and Russia, assisting those countries in the scheduling and production of their electronic equipment.

More recently, Mr. Ellis was chairman of an F.E.A. Committee to suggest plans for the demobilization of the German electronic manufacturers and also was associated with John Hopkins University in the development and production of highly classified military apparatus.

It is axiomatic that no man can think beyond his vocabulary. She who lacks humor is indeed a poor companion.

How Does the Fund Operate?

The Fund, except for a small year-round staff, is composed of volunteers numbering over 30,000 workers each year. It coordinates the planning and solicits the funds for Red Feather services in the 52 cities and towns of Greater Boston. It combines the needs of these Red Feather services and the National War Fund agencies into a single, annual, united campaign. This protects the public from a multiplicity of appeals, conserves manpower, and reduces costs.

Throughout the year volunteer Budget Committees, composed of responsible citizens, study the budget needs of each Red Feather service to determine how the money which is contributed to the Fund should be distributed. This insures maximum benefit in community service from every dollar.

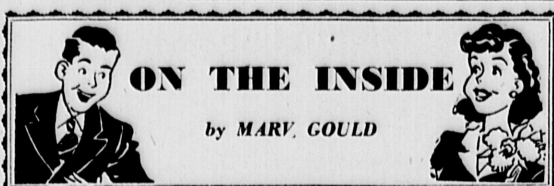

When people give through the Fund to the Red Feather and war-related services they can be sure their contribution will be used to supply the utmost in community service.

Everyone Benefits Indirectly.

Mothers' Rest Club

The Mother's Rest Club of Newton, of which Mrs. Heman Pettengill is president, will open its fall season with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Joel Barnes on Cedar Street, Newton Centre Wednesday, October third. Assisting Mrs. Barnes will be Mesdames William Breed, William Steinsieck, Gardner Walmorth, Horace Williams and Everett Winslow.

The trouble is that most women think that "equal rights" mean equal privileges.

It is the honest opinion of this reporter that Newton High School's gridiron team for "45" may become one of the greatest teams in the history of that High School. With Freddie DeAngelis (29), Track Captain elect, well known for his now famous end runs that he used to such great advantage by scoring a touchdown in the New Bedford game last Saturday, playing fullback.

Bobby Scanlon (45), President of The Senior Class and Forward Passing sensation at left halfback and Georgie Wales (22), receiving star in the right halfback spot, Newton has one of the best aerial offenses it has had in recent years. This was proved to be true Saturday as one of the two touchdowns scored by Wales was on a pass from Scanlon. The other one taken across the goal line was also part Scanlon as Georgie received the ball on a very clever reverse from Bob.

With Pete Connelly (55) in the quarterback position just about proves that Newton's backfield for "45" is made up of ace players, as Pete is responsible for a Newton touchdown through the use of a very tricky quarterback sneak.

Newton's always powerful line which proved itself great both offensively and defensively is made up of such bulky and brawny iron men as Bobbie MacConnell (22), son of Norman MacConnell, Physical Education instructor of Weeks, at left end. At left tackle is that 6-foot sensation "Whizzer" White (47). The left guard position is filled by that very versatile and agile, Mike Kelly (46). At the center of the line is the brute form of Herbie Kellar, well known outdoor track letterman. Arvin "Jim" Teschner (27) the man who throws a mean body block, fills the right guard position quite ably. Bill Altieri (33) holds down the spot of right tackle and that boy can really tackle. Right end is taken over by Jack Sharkey Jr. (31), son of the former World's Champion. Many say that Jackie Jr. is almost as good on the field as his two-fisted Dad was in the ring.

With such men as these making up the Newton line-up one can easily see why this reporter is almost certain that we will have a top-notch team in "45" under the very able coaching of Head Coach, Vic Knapman and Coach Warren Huston.

Of course at the present time the team is fairly undeveloped but under the very able coaching of the men mentioned above it may turn out to be all that the traditions of Newton High's ace gridiron teams call for.

Newton Community Chest

In one campaign each year, the Newton Community Chest raises the funds needed to meet the needs of its seventeen Newton Red Feather Services and for the 271 other member agencies of the Greater Boston Community Fund. During the emergency period, the Chest has also raised its share of the funds needed by the National War Fund for use of the U.S.O., Allied Relief Agencies, and other War related services.

In addition to raising these funds, the Chest keeps a complete record of contributors and prospects, prepares pledge cards and control sheets and keeps all necessary records and statistics for the successful running of the yearly campaign, and maintains an office and a small year-round staff.

The Chest coordinates the activities of Newton Red Feather Agencies and through its Budget Committee controls the expenditures of these Agencies. It gives guidance and advice towards economy and effectiveness of operation. The funds for Red Feather Service operations in Newton come from the Greater Boston Community Fund and the Newton Chest dispenses these funds directly to the Agencies as needed during the year.

Assigned to each member agency is a contact man on the Budget Committee who meets frequently with the Boards of Directors and Finance Committees of his agencies. With complete understanding enjoyed between the Chest and its agency members, financial matters are handled cooperatively and substantial savings can be frequently effected.

The Chest works also in close

A Prayer

Distributed at Protestant Churches On Red Feather Sunday

O God, our Heavenly Father, help us to love our neighbors as our selves, whether they be nearby or across the seven seas. And make us to know that our world is a neighborhood of Thy children and that no one of us liveth unto himself alone.

May we then be quick to aid those who suffer from hazards abroad or from misfortunes at home. May we be ready to give help and comfort to the sick, the aged, the crippled, the poor—to the broken in body, mind or spirit.

And, O God, incline us to be more willing than ever to help in the building of strong bodies, clean minds and high ideals among the boys and girls of today who will be builders of the world of tomorrow.

And may we be more than ever united in the making of a community and a world that shall in freedom and justice honor Thee in all its ways.

Next week this column will present James (Porky) Murphy as the citizen of the week and the story of Lt. Harold Mooney's tour of duty with the U. S. Navy. Plus the story about the oncoming of Police Chief Nick Vedeccio Banquet.

harmony with the Newton Community Council in that organization's program in planning, in eliminating duplicate services, and in public relations.

This laugh's on you — and worth it!

SOMEWHERE in the South Pacific, American boys are getting a laugh. A much-needed laugh that helps their morale. A laugh your money helps to buy—when you give to your Community War Fund.

For part of every dollar you give goes to the U.S.O. and helps send the U.S.O. camp shows overseas. And, with the millions of men now idle in occupied territories, the need to keep up their morale is greater than ever. That's why the army has asked the U.S.O. to quadruple its activities. And why your money is needed to help bring to some lonely G.I. a touch of home—the familiar face of Joe E. Brown—the friendly voice of Frances Langford—the dancing feet of Fred Astaire.

Another part of your money is spent right here at home; to help servicemen's families keep living decently, united in happiness and health. Still another part helps cheer our merchant seamen in distant ports of the world. And it helps relieve hunger and sickness and suffering among our fighting allies.

This is a great united cause. And because the needs are so many and so great, give generously—give more than you gave last year. Make your gift as big as your heart.

When Does A War End?

CHILDREN—just like your own, except that they talk a foreign tongue—are starving, dying of cold, in allied countries ravaged by the war. The war isn't over for them—or for the many war-relief agencies that help them. These war-relief programs can only be kept going through your contributions.

THE WAR has ended in many places. But its effects haven't. Millions of our boys must remain scattered over the earth—thousands of miles away. One of their nearest contacts with home is the U.S.O., which brings American cheer to American boys through Camp Shows given for them. The U.S.O. operates on your dollars.

OUR SHIPS—manned by our men—will be docking at foreign ports for many months to come. The men who man them are not military personnel, but their work is every bit as vital. One place they can go for relaxation is to the clubhouses operated by United Seamen's Service. The U. S. S. needs your help, too.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED veterans still have a long way to go, to get all the way back to civilian life. To help them, Veterans' Information Service has been established. It cannot function without your help. You help many a boy get properly started again, when you give to your local Community War Fund.

HOSPITALS for the wounded and maimed will not find their work finished when the war ends. Many servicemen will remain in their charge for years to come. To help them recuperate, the U.S.O. sends entertainers to bring them amusement, talk with them, brighten their days. Your contribution helps make this work possible.

RIGHT IN YOUR OWN community, there are troubles that have not ended. Family service, hospital and clinical services, visits by trained nurses, care for children right here in our own community, are still needed. These services are rendered by our own local agencies. They, too, need your help.

Catholic Welfare Committee Renders Unusual Services

The Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, a group of 60 experienced volunteer workers, is rendering unusual services in special case of need. The members of this Red Feather Service belong to six St. Vincent dePaul Conferences in Newton.

Helping a Service Man's Family

Mrs. S. was brought to the attention of one of our conferences by an interested neighbor. She was emotionally upset and distressed. Her husband, who is in the service, had just been sent overseas. She had three small children, and was expecting a new baby shortly. She had been in this state a short time and had no friends or relatives here. Plans were made to assist her in budgeting, arranging for one of the youngsters to attend a day nursery, and housekeeping service was given during her confinement.

Providing for an Elderly Lady

Mrs. A. is a 79-year-old woman whose daughter is physically unable to care for her. While partially handicapped by an organic disorder, Mrs. A. is able to be up and about. As a result of a visit by two members of the St. Vincent de Paul, arrangements were made for her placement in the Home of the Little Sisters of the Poor.

An Unfortunate Home Situation

Mary Lou is an eleven-year-old girl of a divorced mother. The whereabouts of the child's father are unknown. The mother's second husband has also left the home, which is very inadequate from every viewpoint. Mary Lou is a bright child, with a high I.Q. and a pleasing personality. She reacted violently to the home situation by fainting spells. Doctors and psychiatrists agreed that the child must be placed away from her own home. After investigation by one of our volunteer workers, a foster home was secured. As a result the solution was a happy one.

Helping an Elderly Gentleman

An elderly gentleman was referred by the District Nurse to a member of our governing board for financial assistance. He was unemployed, without funds or family, and was not well. He was referred to Old Age Assistance and in the interim period, a maintenance budget was granted.

Meeting an Emergency

A Chief Petty Officer, home on an emergency furlough, requested assistance from the pastor of one of our parishes, who in turn brought it to the attention of his St. Vincent de Paul group, to plan for the care of his four children while his wife was hospitalized. The children's mother had been taken ill suddenly and the children left in the care of a neighbor until the father got home. Temporary placement of the four children was arranged.

Saving Fat

If you like, put several kinds of drippings or leftover fats in one jar. Always check to make sure the fat you have saved is not turning rancid before you pour new fat on old. Never use rancid fats for food. It is unpleasant to taste and unwholesome.

Household Furniture Storage

Towards That Better World

We, the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Community Fund and the Campaign Cabinet of the Greater Boston United War Fund, at a joint meeting Tuesday, August 28, 1945, hereby unanimously resolve:

I. That the name of the campaign shall be The Victory Campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund.

II. That the goal of the Victory Campaign shall be retained at $7,750,000.

1. We must maintain our Greater Boston institutions which are so vital to our community life, for the following reasons:

A. The needs of the essential Red Feather community services affiliated with the Community Fund have never been adequately met. B. Many of the 250,000 men and women from Greater Boston who have served in the armed forces will need the facilities of the Red Feather services upon their return to their community.

C. Reconversion will bring many dislocations, necessitating increased free agency service to thousands of wage earners and their families.

D. New Red Feather services in the Campaign this year will need from $150,000 to $200,000.

2. The National War Fund Executive Committee, after wide-spread consultation and study since the cessation of hostilities has announced that the National War Fund goal, now to cover a fifteen instead of a twelve month period, will remain for the following seasons:

A. The role of allied relief organizations in the stricken areas of Europe, Philippines and China is indispensable and unique, according to President Truman.

B. The next six months will settle for millions the grim question of sheer survival.

C. The Army and Navy request more USO-Camp Shows entertainment to maintain the morale of the millions of men and women exposed in the U.S. occupation troops.

D. The Army and Navy request an increase in the USO installations near the veterans hospitals and demobilization centers in this country.

II. That we, therefore, urge everyone in Greater Boston to help generously in carrying through to a successful conclusion the task effort: that we gratefully, quickly, efficiently and conscientiously intensify our efforts in and increase our contributions to the Victory Campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund, with the knowledge that an oversubscription is vital to the well-being of our community, our nation and the world.

Signed by the members of the Board of Directors and the Campaign Cabinet.

12 Newton Girls Enrolled at Beaver Country Day School

The Beaver Country Day School opened its twenty-fourth year on September 19. On the afternoon of the eighteenth a tea was held for the new girls so that the old students could meet their new classmates.

At the present time there are twelve girls attending Beaver from Newton. They are:

Jean Briggs, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Horace W. Briggs; Phyllis Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie S. Brown; Deborah Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Cole; Mary Ditmore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David C. Ditmore; Molly Drinker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Drinker; Marce Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August C. Klein; Katharine MacLure, daughter of Major and Mrs. Henry G. MacLure; Joan Nickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stacy M. Nickerson; Sherrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill A. Smith; Nancy Wedger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Herbert Wedger; Nancy Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Willis; and Jane Wogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Wogan.

Carl J. Hollatz Joins Executive Staff of Raytheon

Carl J. Hollatz, former manager of Ken-Rad Division of General Electric Co., has joined Raytheon Manufacturing Co. in an executive capacity. Laurence K. Marshall, president of Raytheon, announced yesterday.

Mr. Hollatz was born in Madison, Wisconsin, and attended the University of Wisconsin. He became associated with Westinghouse Manufacturing Co. in 1918 and worked in the Incandescent Lamp Division.

In 1929 Mr. Hollatz started the Indianapolis radio tube plant of that plant until it was taken over by Radio Corp. of America, when he joined the organization of RCA, continuing on until 1932. At this time Mr. Hollatz became associated with Ken-Rad Tube and Lamp Corp. of Owensboro, Kentucky as executive vice-president. He held this position until Ken-Rad sold its tube activity to General Electric in January, 1945, when he was appointed manager of the Ken-Rad Division of General Electric.

A week of visitation evangelism will be held during the week of October 15th when the unchurched in the village will be visited.

Methodism is on the march again in a great Crusade for Christ. The first time the Methodist world relief and rehabilitation Church asked for $25,000,000 for world relief and rehabilitation. The Church responded sacrificially by giving over $2,000,000 more than was asked. Now the Methodist Church seeks to win 1,000,000 new members for Christ during this year—from September 1945 to September 1946. To this end a School of Evangelism is to be held in Wesley Church, Worcester, October 16, 17, and 18.

When Methodist ministers from all over the Boston area will be in attendance. The Boston area in the Methodist Church includes Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Among the leaders at this Conference will be Bishop Day, O. Hartman, Dr. Albert Day, Dr. Guy Black, Dr. C. H. Chubb and Dr. George Fallon.

A Super Conference will be held each evening for a group of visitors who will be assisted by two visiting clergymen and the pastor, Rev. W. Henry Shillington. Visits will be made throughout the parish in the interest of evangelism. The goal set by the Church is one new member for every eleven members now on the roll.

School Children Write Compositions On Victory Campaign

The Newton Public and Parochial schools have distributed campaign leaflets especially prepared for school children in grades 1-9 in all schools.

The teachers this week are explaining the needs of agencies in the Community Chest Victory campaign and the children are being asked to write a composition in the blank page inside the folder, to take home to their parents, telling them about the Red Feather Campaign.

Thrift Center Calls For Winter Clothes

The Newton Thrift Center, a Red Feather Service, is the collecting agency and central clearing house for community service groups in our city. Requirements for clothing and other articles are increasing from such organizations as the Family Service Bureau, Newton Nursing Home, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Newton Department of Public Welfare, the churches and other reputable agencies.

During the war, the main duty of the Thrift Center was salvage collection of the good clothing and furniture discarded. Now, however, the demand for clothing and furniture is growing in importance.

As winter arrives, the need for warm clothing is becoming acute. Children sometimes been kept home from school and have been denied the privilege of playing outdoors because they didn't have the necessary snowsuits or winter clothes. When your Newton agencies, churches and schools hear of such cases, they appeal to the Thrift Center for the articles which are needed. Therefore, it is important that everyone who has personal belongings which have outgrown their usefulness remember to call the Thrift Center—LAS. 2112.

The yellow Thrift Center truck with the bright red letters makes daily collections and delivery trips throughout the city. Waste materials such as paper, rags and metal, is collected and sold to help reduce operating costs. In fact, last year savings from salvage provided 56% of the costs of running the Newton Thrift Center.

NEWTON VICTORY CAMPAIGN

The Greater Boston United War Fund Victory Campaign is opening with an outstanding dinner meeting at the Newton High School, September 28, at 6:30 p.m.

Newton's goal this year is $320,000. The Greater Boston goal is $7,750,000.

The Campaign dates are September 27 to October 9. Newton has set a closing date eight days earlier than the Greater Boston wind-up in an effort to get its share subscribed in a twelve-day period.

The Campaign theme this year is "Now Is the Time." Though selected last Spring, it is a particularly appropriate theme for this campaign.

The total enrollment in Newton has surpassed the quota set for 2400 workers. Each year about 2500 citizens are enlisted in the Newton Community Chest volunteer soliciting units.

26,317 prospects have been listed for personal calls in connection with this Victory Campaign. In 1945, 19,540 subscriptions were received.

Sunday, September 30, will be Red Feather Sunday with churches cooperating by devoting part of their services in the interests of the Fund and the Newton Community Chest.

There are 288 Red Feather Services in the Greater Boston Community Fund. These agencies are located in Boston proper and in 51 outlying communities.

Approximately three quarters of the funds raised in the Campaign go to Red Feather Services, and the balance to National War Fund Agencies. The Newton Agencies budget for 1945 was $200,257.

Attention is called to the index on Page 1 of this issue of the publicity items of the 17 Newton Red Feather Agencies.

Indications are that more than 1200 Newton workers will attend the Opening Dinner.

The Advance Gifts, Manufacturing, Mercantile, and Municipal Divisions have been soliciting during the past week. Substantial amounts in these divisions will be reported at the Opening Dinner.

The Report Dates for the Residential Division will be Monday, October 1; Wednesday, October 3; Friday, October 5; and Monday, October 8. Other Divisions may report daily to their headquarters.

The Campaign will open in Boston with a mammoth parade on Sunday, September 30, at 2 p.m. On October 11, there will be a mid-campaign rally at the Boston Garden.

Attractive circulars have been prepared explaining the needs of the Campaign and listing the Red Feather Services in Newton. These have been distributed throughout the City within the last few days by the Newton Boy Scouts.

Remember that when you give, you do not give TO the Community Chest; you give THROUGH the Community Chest.

The Campaign this year is known as the Victory Campaign. Chairman Damon states, "For victory in the Victory Campaign our subscriptions must total more than our $320,000 goal."

The Campaign in Newton will finish in Newton with a Closing Night party at the Newton Community Chest office. This, it is hoped, will be Victory Night in Newton.

F. A. Day Junior High School News

The pupils and faculty of the school will be glad to learn that Major Burkhard is being released by the army. He expects to return to us as Principal late this fall after an absence of over three years.

We welcome a former Day pupil to the teaching staff, Mr. Edwin Frye who served his country as an aviation cadet. Mr. Frye is a graduate of Newton Trade School and Fitchburg Teachers' College. He is teaching printing and general business.

The first bond and stamp sale at the school resulted in a rush of business which totaled $822.05. Grades seven and eight reported 100% participation and grade nine is very close to the same goal.

Home Rooms 17 and 20 have begun the year by setting a record of two full weeks of perfect attendance.

The annual audiometer testing program under the direction of Miss Seale began on September 24th. Each pupil is tested periodically to make certain that no hearing difficulty will go undetected.

The first assembly of the year was a talent program under the direction of Miss Lougee. Nancy Shea, program chairman, led the school in the salute to the flag, which Mr. Jurgielewicz led in singing the National Anthem. Donald Koch, president of last year's eighth grade, welcomed the new pupils to the school. Lorraine Arcese began the talent parade with a piano solo, Libertrium, and then Charles Thomas and Mary Glatting appeared in a humorous skit, "The Mathematical Genius." Carol Antz of the Glee Club sang a solo, and Virginia Wolcott entertained us with tap dancing. Mrs. Wolcott accompanying her on the piano. Mary Jean "Sentimental Journey." The assembly ended with a specialty number by the Stokes twins, Julia Spencer, and Ann St. George, in a tribute to the physical education department.

We are sorry to hear of the retirement of Mr. Morris Brown after 34 years of teaching in the Newton schools. All our good wishes go to Mr. Brown in his richly deserved vacation.

Potatoes lose the least Vitamin C when stored between 50 and 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Pecans are breaking records in the South this year—a bumper crop of nearly 74,000 tons is expected.

Fred Rust's Book "The Road Ahead" Attracts Publicity

In the "Along the Trails" column of a recent issue of the South Shore Life there appeared an article on Fred Winslow Rust's latest book "The Road Ahead" published by Bruce Humphries Inc. of Boston.

Mr. Rust who is the president of Rustcraft Publishers, 1000 Washington street, Boston, resides at 98 Kirkland road, Newtonville and spends his summers at Cohasset.

Mr. Rust, the article states, knows his Cohasset well and loves it. His latest book contains a variety of prose and poetry and the artistic cover jacket illustrated by Stephen York contains the following note "About the Author."

"Fred Winslow Rust was born in Belfast, Maine where his grandfather was editor of the weekly newspaper. At an early age, he with his family, moved to Kansas City, where he spent his boyhood. He attended Williams College and taught school for a while, leaving the teaching profession for the textbook business, with publishing as a sideline."

"Thirty years ago he moved to Boston, and Rust Craft became a national institution. In the early days he wrote most of the verses on the cards and for thirty-five years he edited every verse that was sent into the office."

The following poem from "The Road Ahead" heads the column in the South Shore Life:

THE TROOPS OF THE SEA ATTACKED THE ROCKS
And fought with a will today
Their legions marshalled rank on rank
Isisting the rocks give way!

The lines in the forefront plumed with white
Dashed up and were beaten back;
But others maddened by their rank
Dashed up and were beaten back;

A Message from Archbishop Cushing

Distributed at Catholic Churches On Red Feather Sunday

Love God, my dearly beloved friends, and love his creatures, birds and beasts, as well as men. Would that St. Francis of Assisi were here again! As an imitation of his example let us go forth with a new strength and energy and inspiration, with one hand in the hand of God, and with the other hand scattering the beautiful Red Feathers of kind words and kind deeds.

In this way may all of us love one another, and may those carrying the crosses of life find, through our aid, their burden lightened and the yoke sweeter.

The Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.D., Archbishop of Boston.

repulse,
Leaped over in new attack!
In the wild northeast where the storm clouds dwell
They had gained their fighting skill;

As rank on rank rushed on with a road
Their plumes waved higher still.
Twice another attack in the age-long siege,
But defending rocks held fast;
They repulsed the troops that the sea sent first,
And they turned in defeat at last!

From poem by Fred W. Rust of Cohasset in his latest compilation "The Road Ahead," published by Bruce Humphries, Inc., Boston.

New City Directory List Nearly 46,000 Names

Newton has a new city directory regardless of wartime handicaps. The 1945 edition, now being delivered to subscribers by R. L. Polk & Co., is a volume of 736 pages listing 45,823 names. This count considers the names of man and wife as only one name, and eighteen was continued as the minimum listing age.

Prominent throughout the pages of the directory are the names of service men and women, some of them now returning to civil life, but the majority still scattered over the world. All are listed at their home addresses, with initials to denote the branch to which each is (or was) attached. Thus the city directory stands as public historical evidence of their service to the country, both for the far future and for the more immediate record as they settle to civilian occupations.

Other features in the Newton "yearbook" are the designation of tenant-owned homes, marital status and heads of households; also the listing of the given names of wives, one-line obituaries for adults deceased since last edition, and a reprint of Newton's new postal zone guide.

Newton's variety of enterprise is shown in the classified pages of the directory, where 364 groups of business are cataloged from "Accountants" to "Yarns".

In spite of the wartime shortages, there will be the customary distribution of the latest Newton City Directory to the free-reference Directory Libraries of other cities, the publishers announced.

They stated that the emergency conditions and wide dispersal of people working in war plants and fighting a global war during the past four years caused more consultation of city directories than ever before in directory history. The Polk Co. maintains out-of-town directory service for public reference at the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Nellie A. Abare and Robert H. Zwicker are first and last on the new Newton roster. A glance at the family names listed in the directory reveals one Gent, but no Lady. Surname oddities include Wit, Salt, Grass, Parrot, Brickhouse and Goodenough.

Famous World War II names represented here include Marshall, King, Arnold, MacArthur, Montgomery, Alexander, Clark, Bradley, Patton, Hodges, Patch, Simpson, De m p s e y, Cunningham, Brooke, Doolittle, Allen, Clay, Collins, Harmon, Smith, Ingersoll and Krueger.

Home Nursing Courses Organized

"Have you a bedside manner?" asks Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, chairman of the Home Nursing Committee for Newton Red Cross. "If not, we are ready to show you just how to treat your family in the most improved manner, should illness strike your home." Newton Red Cross has just finished an intensive training course for instructors who are now ready to teach the "Six Lessons in the Care of the Sick," the new streamlined Home Nursing course. Each class is limited to a number of women enrolled, so that everyone gets personal instruction and demonstrations from the very first session.

All classes will meet at the Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, and will be held twice a week. Enrollment can be made by telephoning Lasell 6000 or Bigelow 4916—and with the wide choice of dates available everyone can be taken care of.

Mrs. Thresher also states that enrollment is being taken for a Friday evening, standard 12 lesson Home Nursing course, to start in the next few weeks.

Newton District Nursing Association

Service to Servicemen's Families

Staff Sergeant Robert P. Carey of the Army of Occupation, Hergershaner, Germany, has not seen his daughter Ann since she was two weeks old. He will probably not see her for some time to come but he will know she is developing into a fine healthy child, when he sees the photograph which is part of this article.

Mrs. Carey has been very careful in carrying out the doctor's advice and the District Nurse has helped whenever she could in making baby care seem less complicated to a young mother away from her own family.

This home service to mothers by the Newton District Nursing Association, a Red Feather Agency, is much appreciated because it saves the mothers from the sometimes embarrassing trial and error method in caring for babies and young children.

Nursing care to the aged and chronically ill with instruction to the family is another service which has grown considerably in the last few years.

The Association is meeting a very real need in this field, as many letters of commendation will testify.

Even though the turnover in the nursing staff has been large, the Association has been able to continue its ever-increasing program and retain its high standards of service during the period of emergency.

West Newton

Community Center Nearly 4 Decades Old

As the West Newton Community Center begins its thirty-ninth year of work, it does so with gratitude that the world it at peace, and with high hope that this agency, with its emphasis on character-building and service, will help make our community and nation worthy of the men and women who have made our rejoicing possible.

In the Portable Building behind the Davis School the work of the new season is again beginning. Memories of summer linger as boys and girls discuss the days at camp in Cohasset, as women talk of their canning, or exchange news of their sons and daughters in the services.

Last spring one group of Community Center women, with Miss Gertrude McCallum, the director, had a memorable party in helping grand old men in their homes across the ocean. A number volunteered to help sort and pack some of the mountains of clothing collected in this community for distribution by UNRRA. One woman, scrubbing dirty hands, said, "Isn't it grand to have a chance to help women and children we've never seen, in a country I never heard of till the war came."

Another group of women, members of one of the Center's most active clubs, went off to the beach one hot day in early summer. For many of these colored women their dip in the Atlantic that day was their very first. They might never have seen the broad and beautiful beach had they not found friends at the Center who urged "going in all over."

Men and women volunteers are needed to make the Center's work efficient, its play pleasant. As one watches the dancing classes, it is so very evident that young people taking part in this activity are doing it because they love to dance. The absorption of the boys in the woodworking class is pleasant to behold; the interest shown in the classes given in crafts, cooking and sewing reward both paid and volunteer teachers with a real feeling of accomplishment.

This Father Agency strives constantly to build habits of service and fellowship in the boys and girls who enter its doors. That the West Newton Community Center succeeds in this lofty ideal has been proven again and again. Quiet usefulness, unselfish service by men and women, is the order of the day in the Center, and in the homes which it serves. For this end we work; our purpose is to make happy and useful citizens in a good community.

Hallowe'en—

mittee have presented an interesting statement of "Policies of the Newton Public Schools Regarding Hallowe'en Parties." This statement, just released for exclusive publication in the Graphic, follows:

Policies of the Newton Public Schools Regarding Hallowe'en Parties

"We concur with the purposes and objectives of the Recreation Department in sponsoring and directing the annual Hallowe'en Parties in Newton. With the parents, the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion, the schools stand ready to cooperate on a voluntary basis to make the parties a success and secure the results desired. Since this is an out-of-school educational experience, it naturally follows that it be supported wholeheartedly by the staff of the public schools.

Below are suggested working bases for this support and an explanation of the relationships which should exist between the Recreation Department, which is the sponsoring agency, and the schools.

1. Sponsoring Agent
2. Responsibility and organization is in the hands of the Recreation Department, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce, interested parents, the American Legion and the Public School staff cooperating actively on a voluntary basis.
3. Cooperative Relationships
4. Principals should cooperate by:

1. Making all facilities of the school building available;
2. Assisting in the selection of parent leadership by submitting lists of interested parents by June of year preceding party;
3. Arranging for sale of tickets through his teachers;
4. Lending support by attending the party;
5. Arranging program of pupil study so that required work will be lessened the day following the party, if on a school night;

6. Encouraging teachers to discuss with pupils the purpose of the party, the meaning of Hallowe'en;
7. Teachers may cooperate by:

1. Explaining the meaning of Hallowe'en and the purposes of the parties;
2. Encouraging pupil participation in planning parties;
3. Using this occasion to teach good citizenship habits, especially respect for other people's property;
4. Using this occasion to illustrate that a successful community project comes about through all parties cooperating;
5. Volunteering to help at the party if desired. (Undoubtedly, this will make for excellent public relationships, since this is a community project.)

6. Pupils should be encouraged to attend parties and participate in planning of parties.
7. The hours of the party should be determined by the parents with the advice of the teachers. The following plan is suggested:

- (a) Grades 1-2: Afternoon from 4:45 to 6:00 p.m.; if in the evening, not later than 8:30.
- (b) Grades 3-6: Evening; To close at 9:00.
- (c) Grades 7-12: Evening; To close at 10:11.

- d. School Plant
1. Facilities should be made available at the discretion of the Principal, such as visual equipment, pianos, radios, gym material, proper rooms, etc.
2. Janitorial service should be required on the night of the party for which he should be reimbursed by the Recreation Department.
3. Recreation Department

It is understood that in order to have a smoothly working cooperative enterprise, the Recreation Department will consult with the Principals regarding the following:

1. Lay leadership in the program
2. Use of building
3. Use of equipment
4. Janitorial services
5. Time of parties
6. Program

At Friday night's meeting, Mayor Goddard expressed his appreciation for the work of the many neighborhood men and women who are helping make the parties a success and said they were setting a fine example of civic spirit. He added: "One of the many things I like about these Hallowe'en parties is that they represent a neighborhood, community-wide effort and result in an over-all benefit to us all."

Chief of Police Veducio said that "one thing we've noticed since we've had these Hallowe'en parties is that on those nights, juvenile delinquency is much diminished. My men are thankful for the parties."

Miss F. Eleanor Elliott, Superintendent of Art, Newton High School, said her students were already at work on posters announcing the parties.

Mr. Rupert Thompson, speaking of the reaction of business men to the Hallowe'en celebrations, said that the merchants throughout the City were enthusiastic about them and reported that since their inception damage to their properties by Hallowe'en pranks had been almost nonexistent.

Newton's Neighborhood Hallowe'en parties have spread the City's fame far and wide, inasmuch as of life is unique among cities as large as Newton. In fact, numerous communities have been in touch with the Recreation Department to find out "how it's done."

This year's community-wide celebration, probably the most ambitious and all-inclusive ever undertaken by any city in the country, has school children will undoubtedly further enhance Newton's enviable reputation as a city of warm-hearted, community-minded neighbors.

Aged Find Peace And Security at Stone Institute

Twenty-five old ladies, ranging from sixty-six to ninety years of age, living in peace and security at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, a Red Feather service.

High above the busy thoroughfare, the old house is set in the midst of a garden with trees and flowering shrubs forming an ideal setting for the sunset days of life.

The Institute is less formal than it sounds. Comfortable rooms, a sunporch, unrestricted use of the old house and its more modern annex, give a sense of being at "home" to those who live here.

The Matron, Mrs. Lillian M. Grove, is particularly proud of the medical and nursing care the old ladies receive. Every physical need is met by a staff of four nurses, a special physician and a dentist.

Nourishing, well balanced meals are provided. Fresh vegetables grown in the garden are part of the summer menu. Care is taken to cater to individual taste.

A long waiting list gives evidence of the popularity of the home among those who face a lonely old age.

During the winter, when the ladies are kept indoors by cold and snow, concerts and special events break the monotony.

Life is smooth, comfortable and protected for those who spend it here, with time to read, rest, visit, sew, chat, listen to the radio and perhaps to take a few quiet naps in their easy chairs. Nothing spectacular, nothing exciting; but just the hum-drum of a comfortable existence with life looking rosy in retrospect, and friends and their children and grandchildren, perhaps, coming in for an occasional visit to show that one is not forgotten in the busy world that flows below the hill top.

Residents of the Home are urged to have their friends come to meet with them and on occasion to stay for dinner or supper.

Auburndale

Word comes from China of the promotion of Major Edward J. Butler of the 14th Air Force to the rank of Lt. Colonel. He has been overseas more than two years. His home is at 38 Charles street.

Newton Highlands

The Men's Group of St. Paul's Church will serve a ham supper, family style, in the Parish House on Saturday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock.

What Does the Fund Do?

Red Feather services cover almost every field of community life. In Greater Boston 288 hospitals, health and social services are supported, wholly or partially, through contributions to the United War Fund.

Well-baby conferences and maternity hospitals protect our children. Teen age canteens, children's hospitals, neighborhood houses and other activities serve out youth. For older people family services, veterans' services, aid to the handicapped and recreational facilities are available. For all ages there are Red Feather hospitals, visiting nurses and other health services. And finally there are Red Feather homes for the aged. Thus the Fund provides a complete cycle of service for everyone in our Greater Boston community.

Our United War Fund is the source through which we contribute to the war-related services of the National War Fund. Millions in our armed forces and countless numbers of war-stricken civilians have already benefited from these services.

Your Newton-Wellesley Hospital

A Red Feather Service

Your Newton-Wellesley Hospital is maintained to give hospital care to you and your fellow citizens of Newton and Wellesley without profit and as a community service.

It is managed by representative citizens of your own neighborhood community under the financial examination of your Community Chest.

A great number of your fellow citizens and probably you yourself have, of your own free will, provided funds to build and equip this hospital. Except for this, the cost for hospital care would be greater.

In case of need it serves you and others of your community, whether or not you or they can afford to pay the regular rates for such service.

For the year 1944 your hospital would have operated with a deficit of about $57,000 except for your contributions through the Newton Community Chest, the Wellesley Community Chest, and the Wellesley Hospital Fund.

There would be no deficit in any year if every patient paid for hospital care more nearly in proportion to cost.

But, many who seek and receive hospital care do not have the means to pay even the regular rates.

And so, after investigating ability to pay in the case of each applicant, many are given hospital care for less than the regular rate, which rate approximates or is substantially less than the actual cost. Similarly, in many other cases, the patient pays nothing.

It should be understood that physicians and surgeons on the active medical staff and consultants give their services to ward patients and to outpatients without charge.

It should be understood, also, that more than a thousand women and men have been giving—and are continuing to give while the need exists—generously of their time and strength as volunteers—and, of course, without pay—to serve at the hospital as nurse's aides, Grey Ladies, orderlies and in a variety of other capacities.

Similarly there has been much appreciated volunteer service under the direction of the Hospital Aid Association.

Funds available to make possible allowances from regular rates have been limited. In consequence allowances have, in some cases, had to be less than appeared to be needed. In some cases there has had to be rejection of applications. It has been possible to make allowances only for those being in greatest need.

The allowances made during the year 1944 amounted to about $82,000. These allowances were made possible (1) by income of about $22,000 from endowments given over the years by generous and public spirited people—and given for this purpose (2) by income of about $3,000 from miscellaneous sources and (3) by awards from the Newton Community Chest ($47,395), the Wellesley Community Chest ($7,479) and the Wellesley Hospital Fund ($2,000).

It is not clear to every contributor to the Community Chest that a substantial part of his contribution is used to give hospital care to those fellow citizens of Newton and Wellesley who cannot pay as much as the regular rate or who can pay nothing?

It can safely be predicted that if the voluntary hospital fails to provide adequate care for the sick and injured who cannot pay the regular rates, it will be successfully urged that the voluntary hospital has failed in its obligation to the community. Then, it may be expected, the government will provide adequate care. This will be paid for through taxation and be under government management and control. It is confidently believed that the people of Newton and Wellesley prefer the preservation of volunteer support and private management.

Newton's Goal 1946 Victory Campaign $320,000

Newton's share of the 1946 Victory Campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund is $3500 more than our final goal of last year.

WHY? Despite the ending of the war, it is already apparent that the dislocations resulting from reconversion and demobilization will throw even greater demands on our peace-time Red Feather Agencies. In addition, all are agreed that we are still pledged to provide for millions of men and women who will continue in uniform in 1946, through the USO and other war-related services, as well as for the peoples of the United Nations so desperately in need.

HOW DIVIDED? About three-quarters of your contribution goes to Red Feather Services and about one-quarter to National War Fund Agencies. It is expected that this will be the last appeal of the National War Fund and their share will be used over a 15 month period instead of the usual 12 month period.

What is Peace?

PEACE is more than the absence of war. Peace is a friendly handclasp, small talk on a front porch, friends in for dinner.

Peace is a birthday party, a Christmas tree, an Easter service in a white church. Peace is telling someone where the Smiths live, laughing at a joke, asking a neighbor what you can do when there's sickness in his house.

Peace is people helping instead of hurting one another, trusting instead of suspecting, tolerating instead of hating.

Peace is forgetfulness of creed and color. It's meeting on equal terms. It's honoring a man for what he is instead of defaming him for what he isn't.

This is peace. And until we have all this, we won't have real peace — the feeling in our hearts that all is right once more.

Right now, we can make a good start towards this goal. For, right now, in our local community campaign, we have the chance to help our neighbor. To help him regardless of who he is or how he worships. To act together in mutual trust and confidence.

And this is democracy in its finest expression. This is part of all we are fighting for. This is what you help to bring about when you contribute to the local community chest. Make your contribution today—and make it as big as your heart!

If he can, you can!

WAR HAS BROUGHT some pretty grim sights to a doughboy's eyes. But some of the worst have not been in battle.

And the doughboy knows that his fight for peace is not won—while there are everywhere hunger and disease and desperation.

He knows that our government is doing everything possible to send food and other supplies to those who stood with us in the war. But there is much that governments cannot do. For emergencies arise quickly and call for medicine, clothing and shelter (500,000 destitute war orphans are roaming the countryside of Yugoslavia alone).

That's why the allied relief societies —which your money supports through your Community War Fund—are so important.

You give only once a year to all the great causes combined in your Community War Fund, which, in turn, supports all the 21 agencies of the National War Fund. This year, make your gift bigger than ever before.
